Address by Dr. Lucecock—Graduating Exercises Today.

CONFESS TO ROBBERY OF MANY DISTILLERIES

Three Men Being Held After They Are Alleged to Have Made Confessions.

Waukegon, Ill., May 22.—Three men who, according to Lake county officers, confessed they were members of a band of twenty which has robbed numerous Kentucky distilleries, were arrested late last night after one of them had sought medical attention for his two wounded companions. They gave their names as Marion Hall, Peter Walker and W. A. Roby, the last two wounded with buckshot, Roby possibly fatally.

They were taken at Highland Park, Ill., upon information given by Dr. Florence Stone, woman physician, after they had left here en route for Chicago. The bandits' last attempted robbery was that of Les Samuels' distillery at Deatsville, Ky., according to the reported confession. It was in that effort that Walker and Roby were shot. Walker told of being unable to find a physician at Louisville, and kidnapping a doctor whom he met on the road to Chicago. The latter was thrown out of the automobile, Walker said, as soon as he packed up their wounds.

All three said there were "higher ups" who planned the robberies and disposed of the whiskey in Chicago, but refused to divulge their identity, the officers said.
