Miss May Ritchie Entertains.
Miss May Ritchie delightfully entertained a number of friends at a party last evening. After playing games indoors, and outdoors in the beautiful moonlight, delicious refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served. The guests departed thanking Miss Ritchie for her kind hospitality and wishing for many more such pleasant occasions. Those present were: Martha Bost, Rost Turner, Leona Broome, Virginia Batte, Dorothy Norman, Bertha Surner, Lucy Crowell, Muriel Wolf, Catherine Ridenhour, Louise Griffin, Annie Lee Litaker, Grace Winceoff, Marguerite Miller, Flora Lee Deaton, Elizabeth Walker, Katie Post, Luther Wolf, Heath Harrison, Leonard Ritchie, Roy Litaker, Sanford Neal, Ed. F. Correll, James Brown, Otto Chaney, Wesley Walker, J. F. Harris and David Shinn.

Important Notice.
The City Union Epworth League meeting, which was scheduled for Westford Methodist Church tomorrow (Friday) night, has been postponed to Friday night, June 8th. This was necessary to avoid a conflict with the commencement exercises of the city schools.

Mrs. Wagoner and Mrs. Odell Hostesses.
One of the most charming courtesies that has been extended to the brides-elect, Misses Alice Brown and Elizabeth Coltrane, was the porch party given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. C. B. Wagoner and Mrs. A. G. Odell at the home of Mrs. Wagoner on West Depot street. The spacious porch was attractively decorated with baskets of Dorothy Perkins roses and larkspur, and formed an effective setting for the beautifully gowned women. The punch bowl, surrounded by sweet peas in the pastel shades, was presided over by Mrs. James L. Brown. Each guest had been asked to bring her favorite recipe and when all of them had been collected they were pasted in two books and each honoree was presented with one, together with an old-fashioned bouquet, made of pansies, forget-me-nots, and pink roses.

About forty-five guests were present to partake of their charming hospitality.

Mrs. Cline Entertains.
Mrs. Jno. A. Cline delightfully entertained on Tuesday night at her home on East Corbin street in honor of Miss Mary Propst. A large number of invited guests gathered for this pleasant evening, which was in the form of a farewell party for Miss Propst, who left this morning for Roanoke, Va., where she takes up her work as a pastor's assistant. Miss Propst is a member of the Virginia Heights Lutheran Church, of Roanoke, of which Rev. Oscar Blackwelder, of Concord, is pastor. Miss Propst has not entered the Dedicantate proper, but has prepared herself with the one-year course offered by the Mother House at Baltimore for definite Christian service as a Christian worker. She will have a fine field of service in that fast growing town. Mr. Blackwelder has developed a large and prosperous congregation in the two years that he has been pastor there. This is rather a unique coincidence that both a pastor and his assistant should go out from one congregation, but this is the honor that comes to St. James.

Mrs. J. F. Cannon Entertains Informally.
Mrs. Joseph F. Cannon entertained very informally Tuesday afternoon in honor of the brides-elect, Misses Alice Brown and Elizabeth Coltrane. Mrs. Cannon was assisted in receiving the guests by her daughters, Misses Mary and Annie Cannon. The honor guests were presented with tray covers of children's names and teaching of the beautiful home were tastefully decorated in spring flowers. About 25 guests were present, to whom ice tea and sandwiches were served.

Mop-Headed Flappers.
Rev. George R. Stuart, one of the famous evangelists of the Southern Methodist Church, delivered a lecture in Greensboro recently on "When the American Woman Becomes a Man, What Then?" in which he condemned in scathing terms, the immodest styles in women's clothes.

Dr. Stuart said he had recently seen some "mop-headed flappers" wearing "five dollars hose and showing $4.98 worth of them." He told how Eve, tasting the forbidden fruit in the Garden of Eden, had discovered she was "naked," then ventured the suggestion it is now time to "pass the apples again."

Motherhood he characterized as the biggest and noblest task in the world and said the home is the citadel of the world where women has been prepared by divine foresight and wisdom to rule. "God gave women the reins of the world," said the famous lecturer, "and when she gives them up all is lost."

Declaring the "race is in the hands of women," Dr. Stuart said her next act of mothering and teaching the world are the greatest and most noble of all functions. Women, he said, have a perfect right to vote, but when they turn to public affairs, they leave tasks a thousand times more important. A woman's voice speaking from a national political platform the lecturer said sounds like "a broken piccolo wailing in a hail storm."

Misses Brown and Coltrane to Be Honored.
Miss Alice Brown and Miss Elizabeth Coltrane, popular brides-elect, are to be the recipients of many lovely parties and luncheons. Quite a number of honors have already been conferred upon them, but the following parties will be given this week and early next week in compliment to them:

This afternoon Mrs. J. F. Cannon is giving a small informal party for them; Wednesday afternoon Mrs. C. B. Wagoner and Mrs. A. G. Odell will give a porch party in their honor; Mrs. G. B. Lewis will entertain in compliment to them Thursday afternoon and Saturday afternoon Mrs. J. P. Cook will be hostess at a tea at her home near Concord.

Mrs. Grace Brown Saunders will entertain at luncheon Saturday in honor of Miss Coltrane; Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Coltrane will give a large reception in her honor and on Tuesday evening at 9 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Cannon will entertain at a dance at the Merchants and Manufacturers Club in compliment to Miss Alice Brown.

With Our Sick.
The condition of Miss Mamie Dorton, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at St. Peter's Hospital Monday, is reported as doing nicely.

Mrs. J. W. Cline is confined to her home on East Depot Street by illness. Master Phil Brown is confined to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Brown, with an attack of measles.

Mr. and Mrs. Coltrane to Entertain.
The following invitations have been issued:

Of interest to numerous friends here is the announcement of the engagement of Miss Hazel Summers, of New York, and Mr. William M. McNiven, manager of the McLellan Five and Ten Cent Store. The marriage will take place in the First Presbyterian Church of Bensonhurst, New York City, on June 23rd. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. McNiven will bring his bride to Concord, where they will make their home.

S. N. Society Meets Saturday Night.
The S. N. Society held its monthly meeting at the home of Mr. D. M. Hatley on West Depot street. The meeting was attended by the full membership of the Club and there were some unusually good debates. There were several visitors, Miss Myrtle Hatley, Miss Virginia Dees and Mr. Eugene Hatley.

B. Y. P. U. Entertained.
The Ladies Aid Society of the First Baptist Church had as their guests at a banquet at the Y. M. C. A. Monday night, the B. Y. P. U., together with some friends and guests. Mr. Fred Isenhour, president of the Union, acted as toastmaster and called upon several for toasts. At the conclusion of the banquet several members of the Union presented William Dean Howells' one-act comedy, "The Mouse Trap."

A most amusing incident occurred behind the scenes when a real rat ran across the floor and the actresses took to chairs just as they had done in the play.

Tucker-Simpson.
A marriage of much interest was solemnized Monday evening at 8:30 at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Bangle when Miss Jessie Simpson became the bride of Mr. Ephraim Tucker. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. A. Thomas, pastor of St. James Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Tucker is from Stanly County, but has been making her home here for several months and has made a number of friends who will be interested in learning of her marriage. Mr. Tucker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Tucker and is manager of the Cabarrus Drug Store.

Mr. and Mrs. Tucker will make their home with Mr. Tucker's parents at their home on South Spring street.

Miss Wilson's Mother Dead.
Last Friday night about 9 o'clock a sad message was suddenly delivered to Miss Cathleen Wilson, our County Home Demonstration Agent. The telegram boy handed here a telegram reading: "Your mother died at seven p. m."
This was indeed a sad message for Miss Wilson and her grief was great. She was to be present at a meeting held in the Central Graded School on Saturday morning when prizes were awarded the winners who won out in the "Better Kitchen" campaign in Cabarrus county. This was conducted for several months past under the direction of Miss Wilson. Mrs. Jane S. McKimmon, Home Agent for the State, was present and made an address. Miss Wilson looked forward to this climax for her campaign but the sad news of her mother's death necessitated her absence.
With the news of her mother's death Miss Wilson left immediately for her home in Lowryville, S. C. It is not known when she will return. It is understood her mother's burial took place this morning at 10 o'clock. This was done so as to allow her brother, who lives in Omaha, time to arrive for the funeral service.
Those who know Miss Wilson will read this with sadness and with sympathy. A FRIEND.

WILL PLAY AMERICAN MUSIC AT ASHEVILLE

It is Not Necessary to Turn to Europe For All Good Music.
Asheville, N. C., May 29.—"All-American" music will characterize the program of the thirteenth biennial festival of the National Federation of Music Clubs here June 9-17, and is expected by its sponsors to prove that it is not always necessary to turn to Europe for good music, and to show that eventually America should be the music center of the world.

Two outstanding features of the festival, which will also mark the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization, will be the appearance of a Festival Symphony Orchestra, composed of 45 first-chairmen of various symphony orchestras; and a Festival Chorus of several hundred voices. Henry Hadley, American conductor, will lead the orchestra, and Charles N. Boyd will direct the chorus.

The usual biennial contests, open to American composers to encourage the writing of musical compositions, will precede the annual convention. At the June festival there will be held also the finals in the series of biennial contests for young American-trained musical artists which are now under way in the states and districts, in voice, violin and piano. Following the tests the winners will appear in concert.

For the 800 Junior and Juvenile clubs affiliated with the Federation, a Children's Day will be designated. In the new auditorium at Montreat, eighteen miles from Asheville, a vesper service will be held Sunday, June 10. A "Sunrise Sing" featuring morning chorals and odes to the sun, will be given June 13th.

BANKING IN THE Ancient Temples

THE FIRST settled governments of the world were ruled by both king and priest—and the first banks were the national temples, such as Delphi and Delos in Greece.

Thus, from its very beginning, banking was held a high calling. And today, the utmost that we can hope for our services is that they shall be worthy of the best that Banking implies!
