

BROTHERS SEPARATED FOR FIFTY-TWO YEARS

Story of Two Brothers, W. F. and J. R. Elkins, Who Were Born in Concord.

Some seventy-six years ago, in the city of Concord, there was born to Mr. and Mrs. Willis Elkins a son who was christened William Franklin. Two years later another son blessed the happy home, he taking the name of John Rogers. These two sons of North Carolina were brought up together. They lived in the same home until the death of their father, when they were separated.

William Elkins' route lay by way of New Orleans, he having to go from that city to Texas by water on what was known then as Morgan's land steamers. He settled in Bryan, Texas, taking up the trade of what was known in those days as a tinner, now known, however, as a metal iron work or sheet metal worker.

John Elkins, who was selected as his life's work. For the last three years he has resided in Cisco, Texas.

During the last year of the Civil War, Mr. Elkins saw service in a regiment of young soldiers known as the "North Carolina Boy Scouts," commanded by Col. John Anderson and Major Beasley.

Even though he is seventy-six years of age, Mr. Elkins is enjoying the best of health and is a fine specimen of physical manhood.

John Elkins left Concord just a short time after his brother William, taking up his residence at Loenest Level, Stanley county. Here he entered the mercantile business, carrying it on successfully for two years. He then moved to Albenmar, where he again entered the mercantile field.

Mr. Elkins, though not enjoying health like his brother, nevertheless, is still an energetic man and enjoying life.

The two brothers have kept up a correspondence all this time, but from October 9, 1871, to May 19, 1923, fifty-two years, neither had seen nor spoken to the other. On last Saturday afternoon, May 19, William Elkins walked into the store of his nephew, W. B. Elkins, on North Liberty Street, and was instantly recognized by his brother, who was present at that time.

In talking of the Texas Star State, Mr. Elkins said: "Texas is a fine country and I like it very well, but it is not any other country can beat the Old North State."

Mr. George C. Goodman, of No. 3 township, tells us that so far as he can ascertain there are only four people now living in Concord who were living here when Mr. William Elkins left for Texas. These are, A. M. Brown, D. A. Murr, J. P. Allison and R. E. McDonald.—Editor Times-Tribune.

LUMBAGO.

This is a rheumatism of the muscles of the back. It comes on suddenly and is quite painful. Every movement aggravates the disease. Go to bed, keep quiet and have Chamberlain's Liniment applied and a quick recovery may be expected. Mrs. E. J. Dunn, Brookport, N. Y., writes: "I can honestly say that Chamberlain's Liniment cured me of lumbago a year ago last summer. When I began using it, I was or my back in bed and could not turn to the left or right. I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment in the house and this was applied to my back. It promptly drove away the pains and aches."—Advertisement.

Young Reds Fight Religion. Vladivostok, May 20.—On the eve of Easter the Union of Young Communists, the members of which is limited to boys and girls under 18 years old, issued a tirade against religion in the pages of the "Red Flag."

It was declared that religion is but a worn-out and effete superstition for the enslavement of the working classes, and that "while the others are at church, we will dance and make merry."

The Young Men's Christian Association is being attacked along similar lines.

"WE PICKED UP SEVEN LARGE DEAD RATS FIRST MORNING USING RAT-SNAP."

So writes Mr. B. E. Carpenter, of Woodbridge, N. J. "We lost 18 small chicks one night, killed by rats. Bought some RAT-SNAP and picked up 7 large dead rats next morning and in 2 weeks didn't see a single rat. RAT-SNAP is good and sure." Comes in cake ready for use. Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Dr. J. M. Grier, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Newton, and former pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here, arrived in Concord Tuesday afternoon to spend several days. Dr. Grier was called to Concord to conduct the funeral of Mr. W. Lee Watson, which will be held tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

ROTARIANS OF SALISBURY GUESTS OF LOCAL CLUB

Fine Meeting Held at Y Tuesday Night.—Spirit of Fellowship Much in Evidence.

Concord Rotarians Tuesday night paid a contest debt to Salisbury Rotarians at a fine meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Practically every member of the two clubs was present, and a fine spirit of fellowship and co-operation was everywhere in evidence. During January and February the two clubs held an attendance contest, the losing club to play host to the winners at a supper. Salisbury won, by 31-100 of a point, and it was the Concord club's good fortune to pay the debt Tuesday night.

No business of any kind was taken up at the meeting, which was devoted wholly to an elegant fried chicken supper, short talks by several members, a number of stunts, and efforts of local and visiting Rotarians to become better acquainted. Closer fellowship and a bigger and better spirit of co-operation between the clubs was the real purpose of the meeting and the program was arranged with this in view.

Application of a treatment of hair-growing on the heads of Leo C. Wallace and Frank Brown, of the Salisbury Club, and the photographing of Jim Hurley and W. B. Elkins, were stunts that created much interest. The two bald-headed Rotarians left Concord with five heads of hair, while Jim left with his brothers a collection of photos showing him not only as he is today, but as he was in other years.

In addition to the short talk by John Oglesby only two other speeches were heard. Both were short, both were snappy and both were worthwhile. Jim Hurley talked on the possibilities of Rotary and Wingate Andrews on the true spirit of Rotary.

President Hurley declared there are many Real Rotarians who will never belong to a club. "It is our duty to swing them in the right direction, and that is to get them into Rotary. We must rub elbows with them. We must make them our ally, for they can do about as much good in a community as we can." Jim also declared the Concord and Salisbury clubs should cooperate on public matters. Kiwanis and Lion Clubs have each appointed a committee to work with a similar committee from the other two clubs for civic improvements and general usefulness. He suggested that the Salisbury and Concord Rotary Clubs have such committees. There are many matters coming up from time to time that are of great interest to both Concord, Salisbury and this immediate neighborhood. These committees could work together on such a proposition.

Wingate Andrews said a real Rotarian should be much like the winner of a Carnegie medal. Before a man can win one of these medals he not only has to risk his life; he has to do something he is not expected to do. "That is the true spirit of Rotary," Wingate declared. "We must carry on to a greater extent than we are expected to. Tom Lawrence and several songs led by the quartet composed of Kay Patterson, Martin Verburg, Alan D. Prindell and Roy Crooks, were musical features. The meeting ended with the members putting the smoke up the chimney in true Rotary style.

EFIRD OFFICERS AND MANAGERS MEET

Hold Conference in Charlotte Preparatory to Effird Chain Sale Starting on June 1st.

About 50 managers and executives of the Effird chain of stores met in Charlotte Monday for final conferences on the Effird chain sales which begin simultaneously in all the stores Friday, June 1. J. B. Effird, president of the corporation, presided over the meeting. Mr. A. E. Harris, manager of the Concord store, was present.

This is a very dangerous disease, particularly to children under five years of age, but when no paregoric, codeine or other opiate is given is easily cured by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Most people believe that it must run its course, not knowing that the time is very much shortened, and that there is little danger from the disease when this remedy is given. It has been used in many epidemics of whooping cough, with pronounced success. It is safe and pleasant to take.—Advertisement.

New Quarters for McLellan Store. McLellan's 5-10-25 Cent Store announces that it will open for business in its new quarters in the Fetzer Building in the near future. This building was formerly occupied by the Park-Bell Company. Extensive alterations have been made to the building, new fixtures have been installed and new merchandise, including many specials, has been added to the stock of goods.

McLellan Stores Co. as a North Carolina corporation operating 80 stores. The growth of the business has been remarkable. Their buying department is in the heart of the market and a large corps of buyers is always on the lookout for new and up-to-date things for the public.

Concord will now have a 5-10-25 Cent Store carrying things usually found only in much larger cities.

EVILS OF CONSTIPATION. Perhaps the most serious of the diseases caused by constipation is appendicitis. If you would avoid this dangerous disease, keep your bowels regular. For this purpose Chamberlain's Tablets are excellent, easy to take and mild and gentle in effect.—Advertisement.

Three new cases of whooping cough and 13 new cases of measles were reported to the county health department Tuesday afternoon and night. The cases of whooping cough were the first reported to the department in some time.

Baseball started in Macon Monday and the team has won two games this week almost as many as Charleston won during the entire year. The Macon team was formerly the Charleston team, and it has been greatly strengthened during the past week.

Sheriff Mabrey left Monday for Ashboro and Goldsboro. At the former city he left a Federal prisoner who had been working on the chain gang of the county, and in the latter city he left an insane negro at the asylum. He was accompanied on the trip by Mr. R. V. Caldwell.

Two new cases of smallpox were reported to the county health department Monday night. Both of the patients live in Kannapolis. For the first time in several weeks no new cases of measles were reported to the department Monday.

Get your poppy here today. The purchase of the flower means not only money for local organizations in their work among the sick and wounded soldiers, but it also shows that you are still interested in the men who offered their all in the World War.

North Church street has been widened from Depot street to a point near the railway property. The concrete base for the asphalt coating has been laid on the street and the asphalt will be laid as soon as the concrete has properly settled. The work of widening West Depot street is progressing satisfactorily now.

Mrs. J. A. Egison, aged 63, died Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock at her home in No. 5 township. She is survived by her husband and one sister, Mrs. Charles Barnhardt. Funeral services were held yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at Mt. Carmel Church, and interment was made in the cemetery of that church.

While favorable progress is being made on the Kannapolis road, but little asphalt has been laid on the road during the past week. Several patches of the asphalt have been laid, but the patches have not been connected and the work has not been started yet on a large scale. It is planned to lay more asphalt on the road as soon as a larger portion of the road has been made ready for it.

Eighteen defendants faced Judge Furr in recorder's court Monday and twelve of them were tried, the cases against the other six being continued. From the 12 defendants $148.89 in costs and fines were collected, the cases including intoxication, speeding, having liquor, affray and operating an auto while intoxicated.

Carolina's baseball team won another game Monday, defeating State College 10 to 5 in a well exhibited in Raleigh. The team had been idle for a couple of weeks and both played ragged ball as a result. The only game left in the State is the Carolina-Trinity game, to be played in Durham during Trinity commencement.

Every negro in this city that could get away was in Salisbury Wednesday for the Memorial Day Exercises. May 30th is always a big day in Salisbury for the colored people of this county, and thousands of them were there. In former years an excursion train always carried the negroes to Salisbury, but they go in autos now, and an excursion train is something of the past.

Mrs. Nellie Honeycutt celebrated her 98th birthday last Sunday at the home of her son Mr. J. R. Honeycutt. A birthday dinner was enjoyed by fifty, including five grandchildren, 16 great-grandchildren and 14 great-great-grandchildren. The occasion proved one of great interest and pleasure for Mrs. Honeycutt and her relatives and friends who attend.

Funeral services for Mr. Lee Watson, who died Monday at Sanatorium, will be held at his late home on Meadow Street tomorrow, Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock. Members of Stokes Lodge A. F. & A. M. will have charge of the service, which will be conducted by Dr. M. Grier, of Newton, former pastor of the deceased. Interment will be made in Oakwood cemetery.

Motorists will be interested to know that the road from the Yadkin River, north of Salisbury to Lexington, is now open. The road is hard-surfaced all of the way, the opening of the road making the tour necessary. The stretch of road from Lexington to Thomasville is still under construction, but the paved road from Thomasville to Greensboro is completed.

New members are being secured every day now for the Cabarrus Country Club and work on the club grounds is progressing satisfactorily. The golf course is receiving much attention and is in better shape than ever. Some changes have been made to the club house too, and when the work is completed the house will offer a dancing pavilion in addition to other equipment. Persons desiring to join the club should notify A. R. Howard.

Members of Company E are preparing now for the annual encampment which will be held at Morehead City next month. The local company leaves about July 8th for the camp and will be stationed at Morehead City. The members of the company are being drilled hard now preparatory to the work they will have to do at camp and officers of the company are determined that Company E this year will make the fine impression it has made in the past.

Students of the graduating classes at Central Grammar School and No. 2 School are making final plans now for their commencement exercises which will be held Thursday night of this week. The exercises will take place in the auditoriums of the two schools, and attractive programs have been arranged for each school. The No. 2 School auditorium this year will be able to accommodate the crowds, which heretofore were too large for the old auditorium.

EDUCATIONAL MEET

OF MASONS PROVED OF MUCH INTEREST

Meeting Held Monday Night by Stokes Lodge A. F. & A. M.—Large Crowd Enjoyed Fine Program.

DISTRICT DEPUTY AMONG VISITORS

Talks Were Made by D. B. Coltrane, L. T. Hartsell, Rev. W. A. Jenkins and E. T. McSwain.

Stokes Lodge No. 32 A. F. & A. M., the local Masonic Lodge, held a meeting Monday night, which was declared by everyone present to have been one of the greatest meetings in its history, when a large number of local and visiting Masons gathered to hear the Educational Program which had been prepared for the occasion. Among the visitors at this meeting were District Deputy W. F. Thompson and Past District Deputy James W. Payne.

The program, which had been arranged by the Worshipful Master of the lodge, Gilbert Hartsell, was a very interesting one from start to finish, talks being delivered by Messrs. D. B. Coltrane, L. T. Hartsell and Rev. W. A. Jenkins, of the local lodge, and by Mr. E. T. McSwain, of Spencer. Mr. Coltrane, in his ten minute talk on "The Fatherhood of God," stressed the point that the reason all of us do not get more out of our relation to God is because we do not keep the thought before us, and we at the same time every man who has accomplished anything worth while in this world has kept that thought before him and striven toward that end until it is accomplished, said the speaker, and that is the way we should think and live in relation to our Father.

Rev. Mr. Jenkins, in his talk on "The Brotherhood of Man," called attention to the occurrences in everyday life, where men cheat, wrong, injure and kill each other, as if no common tie bound them. The beginning of the brotherhood of man, he declared, almost two thousand years ago, was started by Jesus Christ, who declared to his handful of followers that men are the children of God, brothers of one another. The great principle he continued to grow, and Christ's own promise is that there shall be a kingdom of these children. The one thing necessary in order for men to treat each other as brothers is the realization of the sacredness and value of human life and a human soul. With this conception man will have more reverence and respect for his brothers.

"Man's Duty to All Mankind, and His Especial Duty to His Masonic Brother," was the subject of the talk delivered by L. T. Hartsell, who consented to make this talk in the absence of Rev. Jesse C. Rowan from the city. Mr. Hartsell classed a Mason's duties as being of two kinds, passive and active. He is to lead a life devoted to every good thing, and to be the upholder and uplifter of our community and our fellowman.

Mr. McSwain, in his address on "Am I a Master Mason," outlined the beginnings of our own country, pointing out that the foundations of our country were laid by Masons, such as George Washington, Alexander Hamilton and others, who built on Masonic principles in organizing this great republic. The Boston Tea Party was planned by a group of Master Masons, and the way, were as follows: Paul Revere was the first to sound the alarm; he was followed by the other members of the Sons of Liberty, including the present Chief Executive, have been Masons, and all through the history of our country the great task of building up a great republic has been accomplished largely by brothers of the Mystic Tie. The challenge comes to us: Are we following the examples set by these illustrious forefathers, and continuing to build upon the foundations they laid? Are we following the principles laid down by them being followed by us? A Master Mason will use his ballot to preserve the principles of our country, and will not allow foreigners to instill their insidious propaganda to undermine its foundations.

Education, continued Mr. McSwain, is one of the things that should be and is heartily supported by Masonry. A Master Mason stands for education, for the public schools, which are the way, were founded by a Master Mason. And, too, the Holy Bible is to be read in the schools of our land, not as a course of study, nor to teach the various doctrines, but so that the children will ever have the Word of God before them. A man who is not in sympathy with the schools of our great nation, and in favor of education is not a true Master.

Announcement was made by Worshipful Master Hendrix of the death of W. Lee Watson, Past Master of Stokes Lodge, which occurred Monday morning at Sanatorium. Brother Watson, who was also Past High Priest of John C. Drewry Chapter Royal Arch Masons; a member of Salisbury Commandery Knights Templar; and of Oasis Temple of the Shrine, had been an active and energetic member of Stokes Lodge, being Secretary of the Lodge at the time of his death. The Master of the Lodge gave a brief sketch of his life, and a Memorial service was held in his memory.

The program was interspersed with songs, the accompaniments being played by R. P. Benson, of Stokes Lodge. The singing was joined in heartily by everyone.

After the closing of the Lodge a delightful two-course luncheon was served by the ladies, followed by cigars. The kindness of the ladies in preparing this treat was acknowledged by the Lodge, giving them a beautiful bouquet which was presented to them by Mr. Jas. C. Fink in a few well chosen remarks.

THE OLD HOME.

(By JOHN R. ELKINS.) "Chickens come home to roost." Well, I am not exactly a chicken, but in company with my brother, William H. Elkins, of Cisco, Texas, whom I had not seen for fifty-two years, until last Saturday I am in the old home town, where brother and I will be glad to renew old friendships, and make new ones. But in reflection over the past, my heart is made sad by reason of the fact that the grim monster has exacted such a heavy toll from old friends. Even during the past four years, of those who have "gone to that bourne from which no traveler has ever returned," I recall "Billy" Cook, John Bundy, Captain William Propst and Mrs. Propst, Mrs. Alving Murr, Mrs. William C. Boyd, George Brown, Col. J. N. Brown, Daniel Stillier, Mrs. Jim Erwin, Charlie McDonald, and perhaps others.

As I perambulate the streets I look or ask for this or that individual but in vain as the echo says they are silent dwellers in the city of the dead. I will remember the twenty-first of April, 1861, when the Cabarrus Guards, under Col. Nelson Slough, and the Bluff Boys, under Capt. James Atwell, pulled out for the scene of action. Of the Guards Noah Correll was the fifer, David Corzine handled the bass drum and James Benson the kettle drum. Well, folks, there was some music, no one could surpass Correll in blowing the fife and Jim Benson was ahead of the profession in beating demisemote quavers on the kettle drum. All honor to these soldier boys.

Yes, friends, on that fateful morning, I was at the station as were hundreds of fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters and sweethearts, to say good-bye to those brave boys, many of whom never saw home again. But their deeds shed a halo of glory over their lives. I have not time in this article to note the material improvements of the city in education and religion, but I may touch on these all important questions in a subsequent communication.

It has been forty years since I was a citizen of this commonwealth, and in that time many have been the changes in citizenship in material progress. Many of the older ones have crossed the river, but in crossing left many sons and daughters, worthy descendants of noble sires. I have never forgotten my native land, and never will, and it is a source of unalloyed pleasure for this scribe to spend while at his old home, in meeting friends of by-gone days, in rehearsing events of the past and in making new the outside.
