The part of Church street that was recently built when the street was widened, is being completed today. The asphalt coating is being laid on the street, and the new part of the street probably will be ready for traffic either this afternoon or tomorrow. The street has been made much wider and is now one of the prettiest as well as one of the widest streets in the city.

"I have seen many insects that were called boll weevils, but this is the first genuine weevil I have seen this year," Mr. Goodman stated. "I sent it to Raleigh Thursday, as the State Department of Agriculture is anxious to get as many of them as possible. I think the weevil is the second sent in this year." The weevil was found on the farm of Mr. L. A. Pharr, and was captured while on a stalk of young cotton.

M. L. CANNON BUYS THE BRYANT HOME IN CHARLOTTE. Purchase Price in Neighborhood of $50,000; Cannon Will Occupy the House September 1st.

Charlotte Observer. Charlotte will hear with exceeding great interest that Mr. Martin Cannon, of Concord, has purchased the beautiful home of Mrs. C. B. Bryant on East Morehead Street, it being understood that the purchase price was about $50,000.

Mr. Cannon becomes owner of the property July 1, but he and Mrs. Cannon will not take possession until September 1st, as they contemplate making some changes in the house. The Bryant residence is one of the handsomest in the city, the style of architecture unusual and the general idea of the house beautiful.

Mr. and Mrs. Cannon have a host of friends in Charlotte where they have spent much time in the past two years, as guests of friends, and are very charmingly known here. They will be prominently identified with Charlotte's social life.

Mrs. Bryant and her mother, Mrs. Ada Morrison Nutall, will continue to reside in Charlotte. They will occupy an apartment in the Colonial apartments on North Tryon for the present.

The deal between Mrs. Bryant and Mr. Cannon was negotiated by Mr. Gaston Galloway, real estate and insurance dealer.

Having Trouble With Your Roses. Raleigh, N. C., June 6.—Mildew on roses may be checked by dusting flowers of sulphur over the bushes and vines. The sulphur will not remove the mildew but it will prevent further spreading, suggests G. W. Fant, extension plant pathologist for the State College and State Department of Agriculture. He advises that the sulphur be dusted on the plants several times after blossoming this year, preferably while the buds are in the bud stage and then repeated next spring before blossoming. With this care the rose plants should be free from mildew by the time they begin blossoming next season.

Mr. Fant says that considerable complaints have come in to the college this year about mildew and leaf blotch on roses. He recommends the dusting in early spring to prevent the mildew getting a start. If one has a spray outfit, the use of commercial lime-sulphur spray will be found more effective than the flowers of sulphur. In that case the liquid should not be allowed to strike the painted surface of the house at its acts on the paint. It will also remain as a stain on the foliage until washed off by the rain and for this reason should not be applied just before blossoming.

"Well established roses represent a considerable amount of trouble, are very beautiful and therefore should be given the proper preservative care," says Mr. Fant.

Honors for Father and Son at Davidson College. Among the graduates this year at Davidson, in the A. B. L. Course, was Zeb Morris, Jr., of Concord. Zeb was one of the three in his literary society chosen to contest for the Junior orators' medal, and stood among the highest in his class on class record, making this last term an average of 95.6.

His father, Z. A. Morris, graduated at Davidson 41 years ago, taking the Fowle orators' medal of the college and his society orator's medal, and was elected as commencement alumni orator of his society for the three years succeeding his graduation. One of our Superior Court Judges, a college mate, said here recently in the presence of lawyers that he was the best public speaker he ever heard, referring of course, to his college days, and others of his college mates, since in their sixties, have endorsed the statement. Before completing his course in law Mr. Morris suffered a collapse of stomach nerves which has never responded to treatment, and for those who have been intimate with his condition, this has been sufficient reason for his never undertaking to pursue his chosen profession.

KIWANISANS MEET

Interesting Program by Jackson Training School Boys.—Several Matters of Interest. Kivansians at their regular meeting on Friday evening at the Y. M. C. took up several business matters, and listened to a splendid program from a group of Jackson Training School boys under the direction of Miss Verne Goodman.

Highways in this county were the chief item under discussion at the meeting. Major Will Foil called attention to the recent statement by Commissioner Wilkinson that he intended to hard-surface the Charlotte-Albemarle highway from Charlotte to the Cabarrus County line, and from Albemarle to the Cabarrus County line, putting the eight mile stretch of this highway which crosses the lower end of this county, in a splendid condition as a topsoil road connecting the two hard surfaced portions of the highway.

This plan had been outlined, by Mr. Wilkinson, it was stated, to a committee from the Albemarle Lions Club, which called on the Commissioner. Mr. Foil told the Kivansians that the Commissioner had made the proposition that if Cabarrus County would pay half the cost of hard surfacing the highway from Concord to the Stanley County line on the Concord-Albemarle highway, the Highway Commission would assume the other half of the cost. He made a motion that the Kivansians appoint a committee to go to Albemarle and take up with the Lions Club of that place the matter of having the entire Concord-Albemarle highway made a hard surfaced highway.

President Spencer named the following committee: Will Foil, chairman; Clarence J. Barrier, Gus Kennett, James P. Cook and Charley Smart.

Dr. Morrison King brought up the matter of the poor road by Bosts Mill and down to Georgeville, and stated to the club that something should be done toward having a passable road provided for the people of the lower end of this county to come to Concord. It was pointed-out that some of the Cabarrus citizens in that section have to go by way of Albemarle to get to Concord. Dr. King made a motion that a committee be appointed to bring this matter before the attention of the Road Commission of this county, and see whether something could not be done about it. President Spencer referred this matter to the same committee named for the Concord-Albemarle highway.

Clarence Barrier made a motion that a committee be appointed to appear before the city aldermen, and see if an incentive cannot be procured for the needs of the city. He showed the great need of something of this kind, for the disposal of the city's garbage and trash, and upon the passage of his motion, President Spencer appointed a committee composed of Dr. Sidney Buchanan, chairman, Dr. Morrison King and Gilbert Hendrix, to take up the matter with the aldermen.

Albert Palmer reported that his committee had gone before the aldermen and presented the matter of marking the streets and numbering the houses in Concord, and that the aldermen had named a committee to look into the cost of street signs and make a report to the aldermen.

The program for the meeting was in charge of team No. 9, Dr. Morrison King, captain. Dr. King called on Jim Cook to act as temporary chairman, and the latter, in his graceful manner, introduced Miss Verne Goodman and five of the Jackson Training School boys, who had arranged an entertaining program for the occasion.

Miss Goodman, who is the idol of the boys at the institution, had arranged a program that was heartily enjoyed by everyone. Her own remarks and witty sayings kept the club at a high pitch of enjoyment all the way through. The entertainment consisted of several solos, all of which were rendered in splendid manner by the different boys, their accompaniments being rendered by Miss Goodman at the piano. Possibly not since the organization of the club has a program been enjoyed more thoroughly than the one given by Miss Goodman and the Jackson Training School boys.

The attendance prize was drawn by Dr. Julius Shavers. The silent-boost was given by Boyd Grady.

Two Small Forest Fires in Cabarrus County in 1922. The report on forest fires in North Carolina for the year 1922, in most counties based chiefly on information from voluntary correspondents, has recently been made public by the Geological and Economic Survey. The nature of the report sent in precludes the possibility of any great accuracy, but the results are at least conservative. They show a total for the State of 1,227 fires which burned 190,737 acres and caused a damage of $642,442.80.

Reports from Cabarrus county show that in 1922 this county had two forest fires which burned over five acres and caused an estimated damage of $25,000. Usually only the larger fires are noticed, and it is more than likely that the numerous small fires in the county did as much damage as the fires mentioned in this report.

The two fires reported were both in No. 10 township and were caused by careless brush burning. Five of the townships in the county sent in no reports so that it is quite probable that the fire loss was much greater than here indicated.

Trinity Students Here. Mr. Early S. Gilley, of Leaksville, and Mr. D. A. Martin, of Goldsboro, and Mr. H. H. Howard, of Illinois, were guests Thursday night of Rev. and Mrs. J. Frank Armstrong. They left Saturday for Greensboro. From the Gate City Mr. Gilley will visit home folks in Leaksville, Spray before going next week to Emory University, Atlanta, where he will take a special summer course. The other young men will return to Durham tonight.

Historical Week For Woodmen. The week of July 29 to August 4 is to be made a historical one for the Woodmen of the World in Salisbury and Rowan county, that being the date of the annual tri-state encampment of the uniform rank of the order, at which time something like 1,200 uniformed well drilled members of the order will encamp at the fair grounds, with military band.

DINNER WITH THE OLD VETS.

(By JOHN R. ELKINS). I am not a poet but the following effusion from McGuire fits the occasion so well that I have borrowed it: "How dear to my heart are the scenes of my childhood. When fond recollections presents them to view. The orchard, the meadow and the deep-tangled wildwood. And all the loved spots that my infancy knew."

Last Saturday in accordance with previous custom a dinner was prepared and served by the Daughters of the Confederacy to the old Veterans.

I was not a member but my Texas brother was, but by the courtesy of the Chaplain, Rev. T. W. Smith, and by special invitation of the Daughters of the Confederacy, most of whom I knew in early life, I was permitted to be a soldier for an hour and partake of the "boys," a number of whom I personally knew, was a joy, and to again meet those elect ladies who are so patriotic, was indeed a benediction. Thirty-nine answered the roll call, and while a number of them are carrying their ages well, others again seemed to be standing near the border line. All honor to these defenders of our soil and may they continue to receive the love and respect of all the living. It was a happy occasion for my brother and myself, and I herewith extend thanks for courtesies received.

These old veterans will never again camp upon the tented field. Too soon, alas, too soon, their harps will hang upon the willows, and the last survivor having crossed the river will be resting under the shade of the trees."

The dinner was served in the Y. M. C. A. hall.

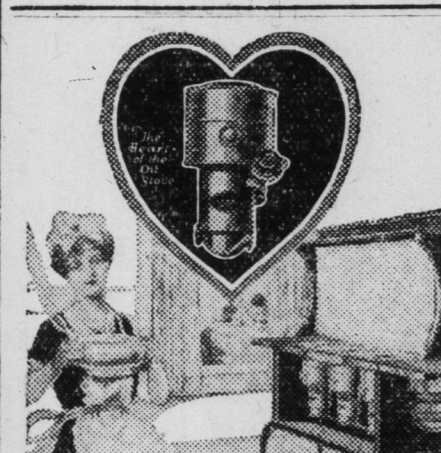

Jake Newell Turns Doctor. Charlotte News. Attorney Jake F. Newell, prominent Charlotte lawyer, has taken up another profession.

Mr. Newell, well-known in the legal profession, as a political leader and Sunday school teacher, has turned doctor.

Monday morning in the Recorder's Court, Mr. Newell had a negro client who was charged with having and liquor for sale. The woman, Mag Johnson, frequent attendant at court sessions, had brought three small children inside the bar with her with the claim that the two older ones have just recovered from the measles and the baby is now taking it. She told the court that she had the liquor for the sick children.

As soon as the announced that the baby was taking the measles Judge Williams asked Mr. Newell to verify the truth of her claim. "Open your mouth," said the lawyer to the four-or-five months old pickaninny.

When the end of the alimentary came into view Mr. Newell bent over and made a careful examination. "It certainly is the measles, your honor," he announced. The woman's alibi, however, seemed pretty weak to the judge and he gave her a suspended sentence of six months.

SALISBURY BANK CLOSED

Peoples National Bank Is Now in Charge of a National Bank Examiner. Salisbury, June 8.—The Peoples National Bank today closed its doors and is in charge of the national bank examiner, according to a notice posted by W. G. Folger, an examiner. Closing of the bank was caused by the withdrawal of funds by large depositors due to appointment of receivership of the Mecklenburg Mills, which were financed largely by the institution. J. K. Doughton, president, and A. L. Smoot, cashier, stated.

J. D. Norwood, head of the Mecklenburg Mills, formerly was President of the bank and now is chairman of the board of directors.

Colb Morris. The Uplift. During the World War, the report came from across the seas that Colb Morris, of the flying squad, had perished by falling from a machine hundreds of feet. For days the people of this community mourned the sudden taking away of this popular and attractive young Cabarrusite.

The report proved untrue and there was rejoicing. This young man came back sound in mind and limb. His record and achievements were of such a high order that he has, in consequence, reached an important and responsible position in the Training Service at a station in Texas. A few days ago he came back on a visit to the old home. He brought his bride with him—he found this charming young woman, not in the air where he is just as much at home as a bird, but in the great state of Texas.

Young Mr. Morris was an honored guest at a meeting of the Concord Kivans Club; he made an address about his flying business, which the government is developing so rapidly. The revelations he made as to the development and necessity for this air service was not only a rare treat but most instructive. Joseph Caldwell, long before the balance of the world thought of it seriously, always claimed that "we will fly," but were he alive today, he would be astonished at carrying freight trains through the air. Undoubtedly future wars—and may they be in the far, far future—will be fought almost entirely in the air.
