Picnic at Country Club.

One of the most delightful social events of the month was the picnic held yesterday afternoon at the Cabarrus County Country Club. The picnic was the second held at the club since its opening several weeks ago, and the large number present is evidence of the club's popularity with Concord people.

Before the picnic supper was served a number of the club members who play golf enjoyed a game, and others played after supper. Much work has been done on the course recently, and members who had not played since the first picnic were delighted with the changes and improvements.

Supper was served on the porch of the club house offers a fine site for picnic sandwiches, cake, broiled chicken, pickles, olives and ice tea were served in the greatest abundance. The porch of the club house offers a fine site for picnic suppers, and also offers protection from rain.

Japanese lanterns added to the effect of loveliness. Many delightful games and contests were enjoyed during the evening, prizes being awarded to the winners of the contest.

After delicious refreshments had been served, each guest was required to read his fortune which had been presented to him by his hostess. This caused a great deal of laughter and fun.

About thirty guests were present to grace the Mrs. Linker's charming hospitality.

A Lovely Porch Party.

The beautiful home of Mrs. Charles B. Wagoner was the scene of a lovely porch party on Saturday evening given in honor of Mrs. Wagoner's mother, Mrs. Jno. K. Patterson.

A number of the lifelong friends of the honoree, whose gray hairs betrayed the passing of the half century mark, were guests of the evening, as well as some much younger in years.

Reminiscences of the past and observations of the present provoked an interesting discussion of conditions which obtained in home and community life "when you and I were young." The contrast in many respects was favorable to the old regime, yet some of the ladies admitted that they were glad to live in this age of progress, where the elderly woman does not inherit the kerchief and cap and chimney corner of her grandmother, but she can powder her nose, curl her hair, and dress in matronly becomingness and enter into the social life and activities of her daughters and grand-daughters.

Music of the long ago with Mrs. Patterson at the piano, was a feature of the evening no less enjoyable than that of her gifted daughter, Mrs. Wagoner, who followed her, rendering some of her own compositions and other modern favorites. Delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. Morrison Entertains.

Mrs. D. B. Morrison was hostess at a charming party given Monday evening at her home on West Depot Street complimenting Mrs. E. P. Penick, of Austin, Texas, a sister of Mr. Morrison.

C. Caldwell, Mrs. R. E. Ridenhour, Mrs. K. L. Craven, Mrs. J. F. Goodson, Mrs. H. C. Herring, Mrs. W. F. Goodman, Mrs. A. F. Goodman, Mrs. T. Y. McConnell, Mrs. A. J. Sims, Mrs. John A. Blackwelder, Mrs. J. P. Allison, Mrs. J. M. Odell and Mrs. W. G. Caswell.

Dinner For Mrs. Talley.

Mrs. Mary Talley, of Harris street, was very much surprised when she returned from church Sunday to see her yard full of her friends and neighbors with all her married children, Rev. C. C. Wheeler, the evangelist at McGill Street Baptist Church, Rev. Mr. Rollins and family. Also a long table full of all the good things to eat was spread, which the good ladies of this neighborhood know so well how to prepare.

After the blessing was asked by Mr. Wheeler all enjoyed the birthday dinner with Mrs. Talley. After dinner Mr. Rollins remarked that the most amusing thing was to watch the ludicrous countenance of Mr. Russell and Policeman Philemon eyeing the still heavily laden table, because they could hold no more.

Table of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Carter and Master Fred Carter, Mr. and Mrs. George Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Talley and Miss Rose Hopkins, of Salisbury; Miss Sallie Philemon, of Charlotte.

Mrs. Talley received many useful presents. Wishing Mrs. Talley many happy returns of the day, the guests departed. ONE PRESENT.

operation was very successful and Mrs. Pemberton today is reported as resting as comfortably as could be expected.

Mrs. Joel Honeycutt is confined to her home on East Depot Street on account of illness.

Getting Ready for Club Work.

The matter discussed Monday evening at the joint meeting of the Music Lover's Club and the department of the Fine Arts of the Woman's Club, was to decide how many departments of work to maintain in the Fine Arts department of the Woman's Club during its next year's activities.

After due consideration the members present deemed it wise to have just two lines of work. Music will be one with Mrs. J. B. Womble, chairman, and Literature and Art combined as another, with Mrs. H. S. Williams as chairman of that department.

Mrs. Womble and Williams will each have at an early date all meetings of the members of their respective departments and complete plans for the club season. There is great promise for development along each line of work decided upon, for the members are deeply interested and showed at the meeting a feeling of enthusiastic community interest.

DOCTORS URGE MOTHERS TO NURSE THEIR BABIES

Physician Makes an Impassioned Plea For Breast Feeding.

San Francisco, June 28.—Animals care for their young today the same as they did centuries ago. Only the genus Homo has gone astray. Dr. M. L. Turner of Des Moines, Iowa, told the specialists in diseases of infants and children at the annual session of the American Medical Association here today. These words preceded an impassioned plea for breast feeding as the best method for the good of the race, and Dr. Turner urged physicians to adopt the information gathered from observation of animals to induce mothers to nurse their babies.

Dr. Walter F. Winholt and Professor E. O. Jordan, of the University of Chicago, told how babies catch cold. Their facts were based on a study of 500 with and 500 without colds, and it was shown that the occurrence of colds in infants is usually accompanied by a high proportion of colds in the other members of the family. This fact causes the doctors to believe that colds are caused by a widely disseminated infectious substance of low infectivity, and that the incubation period, or the time required for this infecting substance to cause a cold, is very short.

The effects of colds in babies are more serious than in grown persons; particularly because they tend to derange the digestion and other functions of the body, the physicians said.

Ethel Barrymore Sues for Divorce.

Providence, June 25.—Ethel Barrymore, wife of Russell G. Colt, of this city, son of the late Colonel Samuel P. Colt, is going to seek a divorce. Papers in the suit have been filed in the Superior Court of Rhode Island, and the case is set down for a hearing next week.

While Mr. Colt was not to be found tonight, it is believed that he will not contest the action.

Miss Barrymore's action is a surprise to her friends, although it was known to them that the actress had more than once threatened to seek a separation from her husband. Even as early as 1911 a hint more than two years after her marriage in March 1909 in the rectory of the Church of the Precious Blood at Hyde Park, Mass., it was reported that she would divorce him. There were subsequent reports, too, but always it is said her Catholic faith and her devotion to her three children prevented her from taking the step.

Each of the cities is attempting to secure official recommendation for the terminal in the event the commission renders a favorable report on the governor's proposal.
