Between three and four hundred young people were present and the program was one of the very best the union has ever rendered. The topic was "The Sacredness and Helpfulness of Song," and naturally enough, music was made a prominent feature. The Kannapolis orchestra, the male quartet from Epworth Church, Concord, the violin solo by Mr. Cuthern, of Kannapolis, and the "silver-toned" quartet of negro artists of Kannapolis, were outstanding features. The "silver-tones" received the most enthusiastic applause of the evening. After having sung "Swing Low Sweet Chariot" in their own inimitable way, they were called back and sang "Ezekiel's Wheel." The congregational singing has not been excelled in any previous meeting. The recitations and talks on three favorite songs made a big hit.

DECLARES TRIAL MARRIAGES ARE ALREADY IN FORCE

Tells Methodist Social Conference That American Family is in Danger of Destruction. Lake Junaluska, July 2.—Asserting that the alarming increase in the divorce rate, the American family is in danger of destruction, Dr. Gus Dyer, professor of political economics and sociology of Vanderbilt University, stated in a lecture on the "Family, the Child and Divorce" before the social conference of the M. E. Church, South, here today that America is virtually living in a state of legalized polygamy and that trial marriage already is in force, sanctioned by law through the divorce evil.

He pleaded for a return to the old fashioned home, standing to itself away from crowded centers and with its own industrial system through which every member of the family was a producer. The average man cannot produce enough to support a wife and several children under modern city conditions, he declared.

The speaker took a rap at much of the modern education and said that there had never been such a mania for going to school, and so little interest in education. He declared colleges are filled up with people who have no interest in education and said they are blocking education. He continued that the average girl graduate is all dressed up and has nowhere to go. The professor thought it took an optimist to become enthused over the results of education today.

The speaker protested against the tendency to turn all of education over to the schools, declaring that a child's parents were primarily its best teachers. He declared it is a day of big problems and little men and will be until we return to God's system, which had its center in the home.

Various aspects of the home, the child and the family will be discussed further during the progress of the conference.

The costs amounted to $2,642.37, leaving the $4,662.45 which the police officer turned over to the school fund of the city.

GOVERNOR SAYS BOST GUILTY OF EAVESDROPPING

Caught in the Act at Governor's Office. Says Executive.—Ordered Out of Office. Charlotte Observer, 3rd.

Governor Cameron Morrison requested W. T. Bost, Raleigh correspondent for The Greensboro News, not to speak to him again and told him not to come into his office any more because Bost had been caught eavesdropping on the governor's private office by George Ross Pou and Will H. Richardson about two weeks ago, the governor declared in a statement to a representative of The Observer in Charlotte last night.

The governor said that if the press of North Carolina knew the things that Bost was responsible for in his dealings with the gubernatorial office and the truth about his misrepresentations of news items supposedly emanating from the capitol, the code of ethics recently accepted by the state press would be applied to the Raleigh correspondent and he would be barred from papers in this commonwealth.

Mr. Pou is the superintendent of the state's prison and Mr. Richardson is the governor's private secretary and a former newspaper man of many years' experience.

The governor's statement, made to The Observer representative in the presence of Paul C. Whitlock, of Charlotte, followed a news article appearing in The Greensboro Daily News of Sunday and The Raleigh News and Observer of Sunday to the effect that Bost had been ordered out of the governor's office, but which did not give any reasons for the governor's action.

"The Last Straw." Bost, the governor said last night, had been treated at all times at the capitol with all the respect, politeness and consideration that the correspondent of a newspaper should demand. In spite of his generous and fair treatment, the governor declared, Bost had persisted in misrepresenting news that came from the capitol and the governor's office, twisting it to suit his personal or political ends. The governor said that in view of this persistence he had decided to bear with Bost as best he could, giving him the same treatment accorded other press correspondents who visited his offices, and issuing orders to that effect to the persons employed therein.

It was only when Bost was caught by Pou and Richardson, the governor said, spying on his office from a place where he had no business, at a time about two weeks ago, that he came to the conclusion that he had stood about as much of that kind of treatment as a governor was supposed to stand.

Colonel Watts Present. At the time Bost is said to have been caught spying on the governor's office Col. A. D. Watts was in conversation with the governor, having called, the governor said last night, to pay his respects. At the time Governor Morrison ordered Bost out of his office Saturday it so happened that Mr. Watts and J. A. Hartness had been in conversation with the governor and had just left the office.

Governor Morrison said last night that he told Bost that he had been caught spying on his office. "You are a dirty sneak and a common liar, and if you ever come in this office again I'll have you kicked out," the governor said last night he told Bost, when the correspondent asked on what basis the governor requested him not to speak again.

$45,000 OF PROPERTY BURNED TO GET $270

Elfrid's High Point Store is Robbed, Fire Following.—Left Big Sum in Safe. High Point, July 2.—Cracking open the rear end of the safe in Elfrid's department store, Main Street, near Washington Street, in the heart of the business section of this city, robbers at about 3 o'clock this morning made their getaway with about $270 in silver, which was located in a bag in the safe, overlooked about $2,100 in paper currency, $1,100 in liberty bonds, $715 in war saving stamps and $37,000 of insurance policies which were tucked in a cigar box.

After their safe blowing the robbers evidently set fire to the store as a means to cover their crime. In a short time after the fire started the building was enveloped in flames, the loss to stock and building being about $45,000, practically all of which is covered by insurance.

The entire stock of goods in the store has either been burned or water soaked beyond any salvage. All that remains standing of the building, a two-story brick structure, owned by Mrs. Bruce Carraway, are the walls. The fire evidently started in the rear of the building and spread quickly to the front.

Fireman Honeycutt stated today that he heard a loud noise about 3 o'clock this morning, awoke from his slumbers and notified another fireman of the incident. Shortly afterwards the alarm of fire was turned in and, when the fire department arrived the store was in a mass of flames, which were rapidly eating the stock and fixtures in the department store.

W. A. Scott, deputy insurance commissioner of North Carolina, was here today investigating the cause of the disastrous fire. He stated that it was his opinion that the floors of the store and goods had been soaked with kerosene. He based this belief on the fact that the fire made its great headway, the store being enveloped in flames at practically the same time.

Some have advanced the opinion that the fire was caused by the explosion in the cracking of the safe. However, firemen discount this belief, stating that such an explosion would not start a fire even if very inflammable materials were in the immediate vicinity of the explosion.

M. F. Crooks, manager of the local department store, this afternoon refused to give any indication of the damage to the stock. He, also, refused to state the exact amount of money which was left untouched by the robbers. All money of the Saturday night business was locked in the safe. Mr. Crooks yesterday afternoon stated that nothing definite could be given until appraisals of the Elfrid chain stores arrived in this city. Asked if $50,000 would cover the loss, he stated that he did not believe it would be that high.

He was unable to advance any reason for the burglary. Robbers gained access to the store, it is believed, through a skylight or by prying open a fire door opening from the side of the storeroom to the roof of several store building on Washington Street. Once inside the building, the robbers, who left all the earmarks of being professionals, tied a rope from the window in order that they might quickly slide to safety, had they been interrupted.

The cracking of the safe appears to be the work of professional crooks rather than amateur burglars. The robbers drilled a small hole in the rear of the safe, which was located in the rear of the building and on the second floor. Once the small hole was drilled, it is believed that the robbers inserted some high explosive in the safe, which caused the blowing of a large hole in the rear center of the safe. The hole was just about large enough for a hand to be inserted in the safe.

FRANCE TO PUNISH WIFE BEATERS NOW. Right of Correction is Denied Husbands.

Paris, July 3.—Feminism has won yet another victory in France. Wife-beating now is classed as a misdemeanor. The Criminal Chamber has just annulled a judgment of the Police Court, which released a husband who struck his wife, as the magistrate having viewed the affair as an "exercise of the right of correction." The high court, in reversing that decision, said: "Not at all. The husband employed means of coercion which constituted an infraction of the penal law."

This also reverses a court judgment handed down in 1872 denying a plea for separation brought by a wife. That court, admitting that the husband had beaten his wife, decided it was the "duty of a husband to direct his wife, to complete her moral education when she was young and take with love but with firmness the necessary means of doing so."

GOODMAN DISCUSSES TOMATO FRUIT WORM

Says Worm Is Same to Tomato as Boll Weevil is to Cotton and Ear Worm is to Corn. Mr. R. D. Goodman, county farm agent, says the tomato fruit worm can cause much damage unless steps are taken to control its actions. This worm is the same to the tomato as the boll weevil is to cotton and the ear worm is to corn. In discussing the worm Mr. Goodman stated:

"The tomato is a crop that responds profitably to spraying with poisoned Bordeaux mixture, made exactly the same as for use on the Irish potato, and applied from two to four times during the growth of the plants. A spraying with material when the earliest fruits are one-half to three-fourths grown will protect them considerably from the fruit worm and will help in other ways."

MARSHAL FOCH SENDS MESSAGE TO LEGION. Says France Is Fighting for the Same Principles As Are Upheld by the American Legion.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 3.—France at the present time is fighting for the same principles as are upheld by the American Legion, Marshal Foch declared in an Independence Day message received at national headquarters of the Legion here today.

The message from the French war hero follows: "I am happy to repeat to the American Legion on the occasion of Independence Day my sentiments of sincere attachment. The Legion has demonstrated that it remains faithful to the principles that governed its foundation. These principles are those for which France is fighting at this time. The Legion has recognized this fact, and our common action as in the days that have passed for defense of right in the world cannot fail to continue to work for the highest welfare of our two countries."

Everything Becomes Petrified in River. Burlington, July 2.—J. D. Payne, a former Burlington man, and well known to many of our people, recently purchased a place on the Cape Fear river, near Elizabethton, says the Burlington News. A few days ago his nephew found a perfectly formed peanut in the shell that had been petrified. A peculiarity of the water in the river at that place is that nearly everything left in the water for a definite length of time petrifies—logs that have been in the water become petrified and are used as grindstones and whetstones, making the finest kind of whetstones. Mr. Payne says he is thinking of starting a whetstone factory at his boatland.

LEVIATHAN WAS NOT DAMAGED BY GERMANS

Engineers Who Reconditioned Vessel Deny Reports That Germans Tried to Cripple Ship. New York, July 3 (By the Associated Press).—Announcement today by engineers who reconditioned the Leviathan that wartime tales of German attempts to cripple the liner were false has left the shipping board in a quandary as to what to do with $15,000 worth of elaborate souvenir booklets containing a detailed account of the alleged sabotage on the ship's first voyage as an American liner.

F. H. Gibbs, of Gibbs Bros., who prepared the booklet, says that damage to the vessel, which was supposed to have been the result of sabotage, had been found to have been the result of an accident to the vessel on her first trip to Europe under the German flag of 1914.
