The northeast section of the county had a fine rain Friday, and this city enjoyed a shower. That section of the county which got the rain Friday needed it badly, reports to this city state, as no rain had fallen there in some time.

Mr. R. D. Goodman, county farm agent, has returned from Monroe, where he attended a meeting of farm agents from the Central and Sandhill districts. The meeting was a very instructive and helpful one. Mr. Goodman states, and the agents discussed various subjects that are of special interest to them at this time.

The stop-at-crossing law does not affect traffic in this city to a great extent. The crossing near the Gibson Manufacturing Company is the only one requiring a full stop. At the Southern depot a watchman is on the job, and the law does not require a stop for spur tracks, such as cross Kerr, Academy and Buffalo streets.

R. W. Pou, farm agent for Forsyth county, George Evans, farm agent for Davie county, and W. A. Hollingsworth, farm agent for Macon county, spent some time here Thursday. They were en route home from the agents' meeting in Monroe and stopped in this county to inspect some pure-bred cattle, being the

Quite a bit of excitement was caused here last Friday when Judge Furr and several attorneys followed by a large crowd, entered the court house. In about two minutes they came back out again and entered the city hall. It was all caused when some one suggested that recorder's court be held in the court house instead of the hot city hall. The court house was not available, however, as a number of persons were busy there preparing the county taxbooks, so court was held in the city hall.

About 700 persons were given the typhoid or diphtheria serums during the past week by Dr. Buchanan, who last Monday started the county-wide campaign against the diseases. In another column the Parks-Bell Co. announces its policy in regard to closing on Thursday afternoons. This store, the statement says, has arranged this year, as last, to let each one of its employees off one afternoon a week, or if they prefer a week's vacation with full pay. Their employees, they say, are in accord with this arrangement. They get their afternoons off to use as they desire, or a full week's vacation with full pay. This policy enables them, the statement adds, to maintain the efficiency as a mercantile establishment bent on serving the public and at the same time considering the young men and young ladies who assist the firm in rendering service.

At the Collegiate Institute. Mr. Pleasant N. C. July 14. These summer days find the members of the faculty all busy. Captain L. E. Blackwelder recently came in to assist in the office, thus affording the Principal opportunity to make an occasional visit into the field. Captain C. J. M. Blume has been spending the summer in Charlotte, where he comes in touch with a number of patrons and friends of the Institute. Major W. M. Albergotti reported on the 12th to the C. M. T. C. at Anniston, Alabama. He will be an instructor in the Camp this summer and will have a dozen cadets from M. P. C. I. with him. Messrs. Holman and Webster of the English and History departments are again spending the summer at Columbia University where they are working towards the doctor's degree.

There is one change in the teaching staff of the Institute for next session. Rev. J. B. Moose, who has done faithful and efficient work in the class room for the past five years, has decided to make a change and accordingly tendered his resignation as a member of the faculty. It was recognized as no easy matter to duplicate Major Moose, but the Institute is fortunate in securing as his successor one who is well qualified in his natural gifts, education and experience to fill the position. Prof. Roy Webster, who for the past several years has been superintendent of schools at Martinsville, Va., has been elected to the chair of History and Greek. Mr. Webster holds the A. B. and A. M. degrees from Wofford College; the LL.B. from the University of South Carolina; and the A. M. from Columbia University. Upon his graduation from college, he taught Latin and Greek for one session in the Collegiate Institute. Then he entered the University for further study. He has since taught in Carlisle Fitting School, and in public high school. Mr. Webster returns to the Institute from choice, preferring departmental work, for which he has so well prepared himself, to administrative duties in public school.

The enrollment for 1923-24 is growing daily and the management is encouraged with the prospect for a full school again next session. The reputation of the Institute is spreading. Already Florida and Pennsylvania and intermediate states are represented in the enrollment. Those desiring admission will do well to make early application, as available rooms are limited. The next session opens September 12th.

Wants to Know Whereabouts of Paul Kestler Myers. Mr. Editor: Could you through your paper or otherwise, locate my half brother, Paul Kestler Myers? When last heard from he was living on the old Asa Bost farm near Mill Hill, north of Concord. Any information about him or members of his family will be appreciated by me at my present address. We have been separated 35 years. I. A. MYERS, 705 West First St., Santa Anna, Cal.

Walter Furr New City Engineer. The aldermen of Concord held a short meeting at the city hall Thursday night. They met to choose a city engineer and sanitary officer and elected Mr. Walter Furr, who at present is county surveyor. Mr. Furr succeeds Mr. Reece Logg, who held the position for several years.

No other business came before the meeting, and the board was in session for a short while only.

Mr. J. A. Kennett has returned from a week's visit to friends and relatives in Guilford and Randolph counties.

Bonded Indebtedness of County is Now $619,000

These Figures Given Out in Report of Auditors Who Have Completed Check of Finances of the County.

OTHER NOTES OF $22,000 ARE OUT

Full Report of Auditors Has Not Been Made Public, and It Is Said It May Not Be Given Out.

The auditors who spent several weeks here checking up the books of Cabarrus county have submitted their report to the county commissioners, and part of the report has been made public.

The part of the report given out shows the bonded indebtedness of the county, and the total is now more than half a million dollars. The total, according to the report, is $619,000. In addition to the bonds, notes payable total $22,580.17.

The complete report of the auditors, dealing with the accounts of each official, has not yet been made public by the commissioners, and it may not be made public, according to persons who are close to the commissioners.

The bonded indebtedness shows the following: Confidental and Commercial National Bank, Chicago, $105,000, secured for funding purposes.

Hanover National Bank, New York City, $29,000, for repairs to jail and court house.

Hanover National Bank, $46,000, for funding purposes.

Chase National Bank, New York City, $72,000 for funding purposes.

Chase National Bank, $42,000, for erection of county home.

Hanover National Bank, $25,000, spent for bridges and roads.

Chase National Bank, $50,000, spent for bridges and roads.

The report also shows that the amount of interest to be paid in 1923 will be $31,720. The report states further that the amount of interest will be reduced annually with reduction of principal.

Bonds in five of the issues bear 4-1/2 per cent. interest, one issue bears 4-1/2 per cent. interest, one bears 5-1/2 per cent. interest. The lowest interest is on the $105,000 secured in 1911 and the highest interest is on the $25,000 secured in 1921.

The notes payable, according to the report, follow: Concord National Bank $15,000. D. O. Platt, $2,000.

D. O. Platt, $3,556.67. Miss Genevieve Cox, $1,404.50. John J. Cox, $619.

All of the notes bear 6 per cent. interest and with the exception of the first, are payable on demand. They total $22,580.17.

This added to the bonded indebtedness of $619,000.00 gives a total of $641,580.17.

KIWANIS MEETING

Delegates to District Convention Appointed—Fine Musical Program by Miss Cline.

The appointment of a District Convention committee, and several other business matters of minor importance, and a musical program arranged by Lee Crowell's team were the features of the Kiwanis meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening.

Plans are already being made for a representation of Concord Kiwanians to attend the District Convention which will be held at Wrightsville on August 14 and 17. The local club has named W. C. Cline, R. E. Harris and Gilbert Hendrix as the Wrightsville committee.

Albert Palmer called the attention of the club to the fact that on the map in its new time table the Southern railway does not have the city of Concord as it formerly did. James P. Cook, Dr. McFayden and Lee Crowell were appointed a committee to take up this matter with Superintendent Simpson in Charlotte, and see if the matter cannot be remedied.

A letter was read from the Hamlet Kiwanis Club extending an invitation to this club to attend the third annual Carolina Sandhills Peach Show, to be held in Hamlet on July 27th. A number of local Kiwanians are planning to attend.

Miss Ruby Cline, one of Concord's sweetest singers, gave the club a treat of several vocal selections, her accompaniments being played by Miss Nell Herring. Both numbers brought hearty applause, and were greatly enjoyed by Miss Cline's audience.

Rotarian Thomas H. Webb, the guest of Dr. Morrison King, was a visitor at the meeting, and made a short talk on North Carolina, Cabarrus county and the city of Concord. He declared that he is strong for this state, and for this particular section of the state, since he believed that North Carolina is the garden spot, and Concord and Cabarrus county are the asparagus bed in the garden spot.

THE FARM—JACKSON TRAINING SCHOOL

Mr. Editor: In my article in The Tribune of July 7th, I wrote what I thought was the final word during my visitation here, but certain events have transpired since then, which if given in narrative, would, I think, be of interest to the public. I will doubtless be excused for again taking up my pen. Eating crow must be an unsavory dish to any one at any time, and I do not believe in crowfishing, but circumstances alter cases, so with this explanation, I will proceed.

Agriculture or just plain farming, stands as the ground work or backbone of all business affairs. With successful tillage of the soil all branches of industry prosper. With the failure of the crops there comes stagnation along all lines. I am not going to tell farmers how to farm, for that knowledge is not success of another who knows how, and has made a success of this great work.

Mr. W. F. Goodman, on Spring street, is not only a worthy official in Central Methodist Church, and a man of affairs generally, but he has large landed interests lying on both sides of Irish Buffalo Creek, near Concord, reaching to within the corporate limits of the city. More than nine hundred acres of land is embraced in his holdings, and much of this soil is rich and very productive. Scattered over this big farm at convenient points are a number of comfortable tenant houses occupied by a good and faithful class of renters who seem to be quite satisfied with the conditions surrounding them, and this speaks a volume of praise for the landlord for fair dealing. Last Monday this writer and his Texas brother, Wm. F. Eikins, spent the day with Mr. Goodman on his farm looking over the different sections. Our eyes were delighted in beholding the broad acres, the splendid cotton and other fields teeming with fine corn like a heavy cloud in the distance, all in all, the best prospect for a crop that I have seen this season. Mr. Goodman is a strong believer in heavy fertilizing and the heavy crops realized and the improvement of the soil proves his sagacity along this line. The noonday meal and a fine country repast it was, was taken at the home of one of the tenants, Mrs. Dorton, whose husband recently died, and a Mr. Baker and his family. To say that we enjoyed the dinner and the day is putting it mildly. More farmers of the type of Mr. Goodman full of energy, push and venture would rapidly develop the interests of the county. Brains and energy are the principal requisites for success in any trade, calling or profession. Without these the result is Ichabod.

The question is often asked, is the world, the people of course, getting better or worse? Well, a glance at the surface sometimes would indicate a depreciation in morals. Since the world war there has been a sort of backwash of crimes, the national result of a long and terrific struggle between the nations, and the outlet of information through so many avenues has made the publicity of wrong doing very prominent. But, understand this strata of feverish ferment, there is a strong and unyielding undertone of strength, which bids defiance to the unholy.

I grant that the shouting days of our forbears in religion are practically over, and pity that they are, for I believe that the old time religion will make one feel happy. "It was good enough for Paul and Silas, and it is good enough for me." But a person can be happy and not shout. In this connection I undertake to say that, despite surface indications the people, the world is growing better as the years roll by. For proof, look abroad in the vast expanse of territory and from the hills and the vales; from the cross roads and the highways there stands, as beacon lights, the schoolhouses and the churches directing from the paths of ignorance and the slums of iniquity to the walks of culture and the salvation of the soul. Again, in the towns and cities, see the almshouses for the starving, asylums for the unfortunate, and hospitals for the sick and the crippled and millions are annually spent for the relief of suffering humanity. And at the Training Schools the wayward boys are taught trades and good morals to be come useful citizens, while the naughty girls are snatched from the whirlpool of immorality and reformed at Samaritan Friends, these institutions did not originate in the brain of an infidel nor from a godless soul, but they are the offshoots of the Christian religion. As a monument to the teachings of the lowly Nazarene, at Rocky Ridge, three miles from Concord, is the Stonewall Jackson Training School. No better investment of private or public funds in Cabarrus county can or will be made for the youths of the country. Last Wednesday I had the privilege of a short stop at this institution. My old time friend, Prof. Jas. P. Cook, Chairman of the Board of Managers, was not present to my regret, but I was largely compensated by meeting one of the matrons, an old time friend of childhood days, Mrs. John Fetzer, formerly Miss Matilda Winecoff, who since the death of her husband, has returned to or near her old home town.

In the absence of friend Cook I did not have a guide to pilot me around, but I obtained a few facts, nevertheless. The location of this school is ideal, somewhat elevated, good drainage and the yard clean and ornamented with flowers and shrubbery. In all there are twelve neat, two-story brick cottages, one of these eleven are occupied by the boys, thirty to a cottage, and a matron in control, making at present three, hundred and thirty boys in the institution. The boys are taught useful trades, printing, carpentry, poultry raising. Etc. Prof. Cook is editor of The Uplift, a sprightly paper in booklet form which contains some mighty good reading.

The boys, of course, do the mechanical work, while friend Cook furnishes the editorial quill and is "chief Cook and bottle washer" generally. The plan is for each county to build, and use its own cottage for its wayward boys. Forsyth county has, or, as I understand, soon will have its cottage erected and there are perhaps others on the way. I do not positively know but from what I have learned I think Prof. J. P. Cook was the main originator of this institu-

Inactive Liver

"I have had trouble with an inactive liver," wrote Mrs. S. Nichols, of 412 Spencer St., Houston, Texas. "When I would get constipated, I would feel a light, dizzy feeling in my head. To get up in the morning with a lightheadedness in the head and a tremble feeling is often a sign that the stomach is out of order. For this I took Theford's Black-Draught, and without a doubt can say I have never found its equal in any liver medicine. It not only cleans the liver, but leaves you in such a good condition. I have used it a long time, when food does not seem to set well, or the stomach is a little sour."

If it isn't Theford's it isn't BLACK-DRAUGHT Liver Medicine.
