OFFERS HUSBAND TO HIGHEST BIDDER

Wife Takes This Means of Finding Employment to Avert Starvation.

Haverhill, Mass., August 30.—After several weeks of unemployment and with want staring the family in the face, Mrs. Annie Stella O'Coin decided to advertise her husband, Ardella, 50, for sale to the highest bidder. She declared that all that stood between her and starvation was the possible purchase price of her husband, sold into bondage. He offered no objection.

Last night Mrs. O'Coin said: "The days of slavery are over, but the days of the industrial slave who has to find a market for himself will never be over."

"This particular slave of industry is without a master at the present time and unless he finds one who wants to buy a good honest slave, he may be cold and hungry before the long New England winter is over."

"This slave without a master is willing to work at anything a man of middle age is able to do. He is intelligent and he is above reproach. If anybody wants a slave of this type, it is a chance to obtain a bargain."

A JEKYL-AND-HYDE GIRL

Ohio Court Commits Her to Asylum After Two Years' Observation.

Columbus, O., Sept. 1.—Bernice Dedick of Cleveland, who has been in charge of the State Bureau of Juvenile Research in an effort to separate her "good" character from her "bad," was committed yesterday to the State Hospital for the Insane here by the Franklin County Juvenile Court.

For two years State physicians have made vain efforts to separate her good disposition from the bad one, but the bad gradually overcame the good, and her condition of late has become such that she disturbed the routine of the institution of which she was an inmate.

Physicians call her "Bernice" when she is good and "Polly" when she is bad. They reported to the Court that as "Bernice" she was a "perfect lady," but when "Polly" she was like an unruly child of 4.

Five Men Shot in a Hot Battle Between Klansmen and B...

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 31.—Five men were shot and rioting continued for several hours following an initiation of 250 candidates by the Ku Klux Klan on a farm near New Castle tonight.

The most seriously injured are Harry Hushbeck, 17 New Castle, shot in the back, and William Clark, 31 Newport, shot in the neck.

The rioting started at the close of the ceremony, when a cross was lighted. Disorders began with a volley of shots from a crowd of about 500 boys in an adjoining field. Klansmen pursued them, but were met by nearly 1,000 men who rushed the klansmen off the field and destroyed the cross. The klansmen rallied and there was a general fight. Policemen and firemen were called out, but were unable to quell the disorder.

The klansmen were finally routed and fled the scene in automobiles. As they sped through a suburb they were pelted with stones hurled by a gang of negroes.

The new rule was embodied in a resolution unanimously adopted by the Supreme Court in session this morning.

No reason was cited for the action and it was not stated which of the justices presented the motion for the resolution.

CREAMERY FOR CONCORD

Matter Discussed at Kiwanis Meeting by Mr. H. E. Baker, of Charlotte.

Discussion of a creamery for Concord, and a splendid entertainment program featured the meeting on Friday evening of the Kiwanis Club of Concord.

Caleb W. Swink brought before the Club on behalf of the War Mothers the request that the Kiwanians join them in their campaign which will be started soon to raise the remainder of the funds necessary to purchase the Memorial Chimes for Concord. Upon motion, the following Kiwanians were appointed to cooperate with the War Mothers in their drive: Caleb W. Swink, R. Morrison King and Albert B. Palmer.

A motion was made and carried that on October 1st the captains of the teams be changed, and the teams be rearranged by the board of directors.

Mr. H. E. Baker, of Charlotte, was introduced by Albert Palmer, captain of Team No. 1 in charge of the program. Mr. Baker, who has been operating a creamery in Charlotte, stated that he was now trying to interest the people of Concord, and he gave the Kiwanians some facts and figures from the creamery business. Wisconsin, he said, leads the United States in the creamery business. In that state there are one-seventh of all the milk cows of the United States. This work was begun in Wisconsin after the farmers there had worn out the soil raising various crops, and from that start has now grown the largest industry of its kind in the whole country. No less than 1500 creameries and cheese plants are now in operation in Wisconsin, which will give an idea of how thickly the state is dotted with them.

The creamery business was started in Tennessee just seven years ago. From the little start in 1916 the industry has grown until last year more than 12,000,000 pounds of butter were turned out from the various creameries in the state. Statistics compiled by Mr. Roger W. Babson the statistical expert, show that in countries where the creameries are being operated, the bank deposits of the farmers average 50 per cent more than those where there are no creameries.

The creamery in Mecklenburg County, Mr. Baker continued, was organized two years ago, and already is doing something like $90,000 worth of business. In a county where cotton is the principal money crop, the farmers need a creamery to help build up the soil, as well as to bring in a steady revenue all the year round. With six or eight cows furnishing cream all along, a farmer would have a steady source of income which would enable him to pay cash for most of his provisions and labor, so that when the marketed his money crop, it would not be necessary for him to spend almost all of it in paying up his accounts at the various stores, at charge prices.

Albert Palmer stated at the conclusion of Mr. Baker's talk that a movement has already been begun in Cabarrus County to organize a creamery here, and that persons interested in the new enterprise could get any information desired, or subscribe for stock in the creamery by seeing either himself or Dr. Tracy N. Spencer.

Wolf, and she was heartily encored. Miss Mary Hiller, of Jacksonville, Florida, and Miss Dorothy Wolf, talented daughter of Prof. and Mrs. S. A. Wolf, of this city, were guests of the Club at the meeting, and delighted the members with several musical selections. Miss Hiller sang two delightful solos, her accompaniments being played by Miss Wolf, and she was heartily encored. Miss Wolf furnished music for the Club also, in the absence of Miss Nell Herring.

The attendance prize, given by Albert Palmer, was drawn by Major Will Ford. The program for the meeting next Friday evening will be in the hands of Team No. 2, J. Buxton Robertson, captain.

Fifteen Monkey go on Chloroform "Jag"

Indianapolis, Aug. 31.—Fifteen monkeys sniffed inquisitively at the fluid form "jag" when a keeper dropped a bottle of the fluid in their cage here yesterday.

Two of the animals engaged in a fight in an attempt to separate them, the keeper saturated a piece of cotton with chloroform and held it near the fighters' noses. In the melee the bottle was knocked from his hand. The other monkeys sniffed inquisitively at the fluid and soon all became hilariously drunk. It was sometime before order was restored among the former jungle residents.

LESS GAS, LESS TIME IN KITCHEN

New Principles of Cooking Brings Freedom to the Housewife.

A startling discovery in scientific cooking principles is revolutionizing the kitchen from a place of drudgery to a place of delightful anticipation and leisure.

Housewives should see for themselves the economy of gas, watching over a meal, the perfection of foods taken from a Chambers Fireless Gas Range, and the conservation of flavors, juices, and actual sizes of the foods put into this most modern cooking device.

Tiny Tim, that lovable character of Dickens, need not have had his Christmas goose stuffed to bursting proportions with dressing, to insure a presentable size; nor would Tiny's mother have spent such a feverish day over the pots and pans, had they possessed one of these new cooking devices. When a goose or chicken comes out of an ordinary oven, the scientific principles behind this oven insure the retention of juices with practically no drying up or shrinkage.

The Concord and Kannapolis Gas Company are showing this new Gas Range at their store on Corbin Street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bingham returned Saturday from Chester. In the future Mr. Bingham will spend all of his time here, having resigned his position with the Chester company with which he has been affiliated for several years.
