Bible Thought For The Day

HEAR, O ISRAEL:—The Lord our God is one Lord. And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart...

A WONDERFUL STORY.

One of the most wonderful stories we have read in some time is the one written of the tremendous development of the South by Editor Edmonds...

In nearly all lines of human progress, material and educational, Mr. Edmonds wrote, the South today with 36,000,000 inhabitants...

The production of coal in the South last year was more than twice as great as the total production of coal in the United States in 1880.

The value of the South's agricultural products last year was $5,291,000,000, as compared with $2,212,000,000 the total value of agricultural products of the United States in 1880.

The South's railroad mileage is almost exactly that of the United States in 1880, and the value of its exports last year exceeded by $700,000,000 the total exports of the United States in 1880.

Upon public school education the South expended in 1920 over $204,000,000, as compared with $78,000,000, the total amount expended by the United States upon public school education in 1880.

Southern insurance companies had in force in the South in 1921 over $1,744,000,000 of life insurance, or an increase of 63.59 per cent. over 1904.

The value of farm property in the South quadrupled between 1900 and 1920, rising from $5,022,000,000 in 1900 to $21,685,000,000 in 1920.

Governor Pinchot is playing politics now for all he's worth. He took a hand in the coal strike and when a settlement was reached he took all the honor and glory for affecting the compromise.

So they are saying nothing. They are playing politics in the strictest sense.

WILL NOT APPEAL TO NEGROES. The action of the Johnston, Pa., Mayor in ordering certain negroes to leave that city, is not expected to make that city popular with negroes.

As late as 1890 the total value of manufactured products in the United States was $1,406,000,000, while in 1919 the value of the South's manufactured products was $9,806,000,000.

In 1880 the United States had $208,000,000 invested in cotton mills, while the South has over $1,000,000,000 thus invested.

CORN BREAD.

A theoretical cook, one who makes a living by giving advice rather than by producing the goods, published a formula for a new kind of corn bread, and the formula just aroused the wrath of some of the most prominent writers in the South.

Colonel Henry Watterson, then in retirement near Louisville, saw this attack by Bailey, upon the newest vice; and, though more than eighty years of age, the intrepid Colonel rushed to the aid of the Texas colonel to strengthen his arm in the attack.

"Corn bread with sugar in it was an invention born to the Devil, planted in New England and sent South by our enemies. It is threatening the life of real corn bread right in the land of its birth. It has done, and is doing, worse. It makes men trifling and women frivolous. It is responsible for most of the murders, suicides and divorces. It is the mother of Bolshevism and the dady of anarchy. It weakens the brain, infuriates the liver and grows people portly, it brings corns and baldness and sallowness to the complexion. It makes the nose shiny and the skin pimply.

"It drives husbands down town of nights. It causes the servants to be insolent and obstreperous. It creates an appetite for moonshine.

"It is the underlying cause of Pyorrhea. It emboldens a man to refuse his wife's request for money. But for sugar in corn bread, there would be no war, no flies, no mosquitoes, no roaches, no I. W. W., and no Republican party.

"Let the twentieth amendment to the Constitution forever prohibit sugar in corn bread, and let's have the vote right away.

"This would seem an embracing and sufficiently conclusive. New England may know how to bake beans. They say the cider in Maine is a good substitute for whiskey. It must be admitted that in Boston 'Pumpkin Pie' is no slouch. But corn bread? 'La' that requires all that George Bailey has said, and a pair of old black hands to boot—and a red bandanna handkerchief—and an old Mammy's voice, rich, mellow and devotional.

"How firm a foundation, Ye saints of the Lord."

PLAYING THE GAME.

Senators Reed and Pepper, of Pennsylvania, are unwilling at this time to make any predictions about what they will do when the time comes to choose another candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination.

In answer to the newspaper men the Senators issued a joint statement, in which they asserted they were uncertain now. The question, they contend, is a very grave and important one, and for that reason they were unwilling to make definite statements.

But it seems that the Senators did not tell how they felt even at this time. They were asked whether they would support President Coolidge or Governor Pinchot. They were not asked about Hiram Johnson. And before they held the conference with the President it was intimated that they were leaning toward the Californian.

Governor Pinchot is playing politics now for all he's worth. He took a hand in the coal strike and when a settlement was reached he took all the honor and glory for affecting the compromise. He would naturally expect the Senators from his State to support him. The Senators know that, of course, and they also know that it would be unwise to support Hiram Johnson now, and equally unwise to come out and openly oppose the President.

So they are saying nothing. They are playing politics in the strictest sense.

WILL NOT APPEAL TO NEGROES. The action of the Johnston, Pa., Mayor in ordering certain negroes to leave that city, is not expected to make that city popular with negroes.

As late as 1890 the total value of manufactured products in the United States was $1,406,000,000, while in 1919 the value of the South's manufactured products was $9,806,000,000, showing less than $2,000,000,000 short of the total for the United States in 1890.

The capital invested in manufacturing in the South is now nearly three times as great as that invested in manufacturing in the United States in 1880, and the value of the products is nearly twice as great.

public interest. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People took a hand in the matter and appealed to Governor Pinchot, who asked the Mayor for an explanation. The Mayor, however, stuck to his guns and reiterated his warning after receiving the communication from Governor Pinchot.

Governor Pinchot is "politicking" now, so of course, he was only too glad to act. He saw a chance to get in favor with many negroes in his State, and as the negro vote in Pennsylvania is an important one, he was quick to seize this opportunity to please the colored people.

Incidents such as occurred in Johnston and the western city referred to will have much influence on the negroes of the South. They should prove to the negro that the South is the place for him.

THE "WISCONSIN IDEA"

At a recent meeting of State Treasurers and Auditors, held at Asheville, the Treasurer of Wisconsin explained what is meant by the "Wisconsin idea" as applied to his method of dealing with State funds.

Out of a total of 1,000 banks in the State he has appointed 630 as depositories, and these depositories have the use of State funds in making loans to farmers. The city banks are the first to be called upon when the State treasury withdraws its deposits, the preference being given the county banks being provided by law.

The Wisconsin State Treasurer criticizes the previous policy of buying bonds or investing State funds outside of the State. "Sending money out of the State in times like these," he says, "is like feeding all your pure fresh Holstein milk to your pigs and buying skimmed milk for your babies."

U. S. COTTON STANDARDS ACCEPTED BY EUROPE

Cotton Associations Broad Sign Agreement With Agriculture Department. Washington, Sept. 18.—Successful completion of the negotiations for universal standards for American cotton was announced today by Secretary Wallace, with the signing of agreements with six foreign cotton associations.

The agreements were brought from Europe last week by Lloyd S. Tenny, assistant chief of the bureau of agricultural economies, who made a trip to Europe to obtain the signatures of the associations, which included those of Liverpool, Manchester, Havre, Bremen, Barcelona, and Amsterdam.

The agreements with the Manchester Spinners Association, the Milan Cotton Association and the Ghent Cotton Association will be approved later, it was said.

Final approval of these contracts marks the successful completion of negotiations begun several months ago when the application of the cotton standards act to foreign trade in cotton was first taken up by the United States department of agriculture with members of the American cotton trade and representatives of the leading European cotton associations. After several conferences, the agreement to adopt American standards as universal standards, with a few minor changes, was reached. Mr. Tenny went to Europe in July to complete the detailed arrangements and secure the signatures of the European cotton associations.

With reference to the successful termination of this important international trade arrangement, Secretary Wallace stated that "Dr. H. C. Taylor, chief of the bureau of agricultural economies, Mr. Tenny and their associates have handled this matter in a way altogether commendable.

"It was a delicate situation requiring diplomacy of a high order," Mr. Wallace said, "and it might have developed into a very unhappy state of affairs. The matter has been concluded in a way that seems to be most satisfactory both to our own cotton people and to our foreign customers. The standing of American cotton grades has been firmly established and our business regulations overseas have been much strengthened. I am greatly pleased over the whole matter."

KANNAPOLIS DEPARTMENT

Kannapolis, Sept. 19.—On Sunday night the four weeks' campaign conducted by the Caldwell evangelistic party came to a close. This meeting was a great success, continuing with increasing interest to the last. This campaign resulted in about five hundred conversions and reconsecrations and a general spiritual awakening. On Sunday afternoons and Sunday nights the tent was taxed to capacity with many on the outside. On the last night eager listeners on the outside who were unable to secure seats practically surrounded the tent. Pastors and congregations of other denominations in the city co-operated nobly, good will reigning everywhere. The Methodist Sunday school made a generous response to the call to supplement funds for Mr. Caldwell and party. The men's and ladies' Bible classes each contributed near $200, and Mr. Widenhous's class of girls over $100; Mr. Whitley's class of boys, Mrs. Swearingen's class of girls and others made liberal contributions. Mrs. Caldwell, and small daughter joined the party during the last week of the campaign, and all left on the following Tuesday for Hendersonville, where they were entertained at the home of Mr. J. C. Coston, while recuperating their energies for the next campaign. These people have endeared themselves to many here who were made sad when parting time came. Mr. Caldwell is termed the "Youthful Evangelist." His conversion took place at the age of seventeen, under "Cyclone Mack's" preaching, he at once accepting a pastorate which he served four years, after which he began his evangelistic career. He has served in this capacity four years. He is unusually gifted as an evangelist. He delivers his messages in a fearless manner, giving numerous illuminating illustrations, driving truths into the heart of the sinner with convincing force, and arousing the indifferent from their lethargy. Enunciating clearly and speaking at the rate of 250 words per minute, he holds his audience spellbound.

Mr. Coston, choir director, is a genuine in his profession and a consecrated Christian. A sermon is continued in his school, which are rendered very impressive.

One needs to hear Miss Nita Bracy at the piano but a few moments to realize she is unexcelled in her line of business. Miss Bracy is also, secretary to Mr. Caldwell. The song-services are inspiring and full of enthusiasm. Mr. Caldwell edits "The Evangelist," a monthly paper used as the official organ of his party, and devoted to reports from the evangelistic field in the Southern States. The Evangelist contains some of Mr. Caldwell's wonderful sermons and other interesting features. Subscribers are eager to read its contents as a means of keeping in touch with the work being done by the Caldwell party.

Clarke, of Statesville, is conducting the services with Mr. Bece Long, of Denton, near Charlotte, as choir director. Services are held twice daily, at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Only a forty minute service is held in the mornings. The interest being manifested during the first days of the meeting is encouraging. Mr. Clark is a very able preacher, and favorable comments are heard on every side. The service given by the choir is, also, a source of inspiration.

Mr. Clarke has delivered very interesting sermons on the following texts: Sunday morning, "Christian Consecration," Sunday afternoon, "Self Examination," Monday morning, "The Holy Spirit," Monday night, "Knowing Christ," Tuesday, "God's Man."

Mrs. W. J. Davis, Mr. George Davis, Miss Olive Davis, Mrs. E. A. Furr and Mr. Davis, of China Grove, attended

Purchasing Power of Dollar Only 62 Cents During June. Washington, Sept. 19.—The purchasing power of the dollar last June, based on average wholesale prices for various commodities, was equal to only 62 cents as compared with its purchasing power in 1913; according to calculations announced today by the bureau of labor statistics of the department of labor.

The value of the dollar in commodity terms, on the 1913 basis of comparison, dropped to its lowest level in 1922, 1920
