$290,000 Mark Passed In Battle For Hotel

Noon Luncheon Salesmen Reported That Hotel Stock Worth $290,000 Had Been Sold So Far.

$290 REPORTED AT THE LUNCHEON

Hicks' Team Made the Largest Sales and Got the Credit of Others—Workers Still Optimistic.

$290 REPORTED IN HOTEL CAMPAIGN

The total subscriptions for Concord hotel at noon were reported to have reached $290,000 worth of hotel stock, Wednesday.

The salesmen in the campaign were divided into four divisions, each announced a total of $12,500 and a committee announced a total of $8,500.

The grand total yesterday was $290,000.

The sale of stock reported on Tuesday afternoon and morning, salesmen in the hotel campaign renewed their efforts this afternoon and this morning.

When the list of proposed subscribers has been canvassed, the hotel campaign is a reality.

Wednesday meeting there was more pep and enthusiasm than was reported Tuesday. There was a feeling that most of the subscribers had been secured, but the list had entirely disappeared.

The salesmen had been told that there is still money to be made if they can get the prospects.

It was reported that C. W. Johnson had taken $5,000 worth of stock to stir every one up. He is feeling in evidence that if he can't get enough of the money to invest $5,000 there were people to put the project on.

Wednesday that several subscribers outside the city of Concord had taken $10,000 in hotel stock. They subscribed to the plan, because they want to see their money and are willing to do all they can to build up Concord.

The figures showing $290 had been pledged on the Wednesday means that $290,000 is still needed to give the hotel building completely furnished.

The total sought but it is felt that this is the chief reason the committee has set at $275,000.

They are raising the money for the hotel as well as raising the building free from mortgage.

They explained one member of the committee that the reason we are carrying this campaign to the goal.

They report that they have a very few instances where the proposition has been accepted by those with whom they talked.

The committee has not taken stock in any company, it is true, but in every instance the salesmen were turned down because of lack of money.

It demonstrates that the city is behind the proposition," one campaigner said. "We heard only a few people say that they don't care for the hotel is built, the people would not and where they can do it for the people we have seen are enthusiastic."

The luncheon today was held at 1 o'clock of 12:15, the regular time.

John P. Allison was held back and as many of the salesmen attended the funeral service.

The luncheon hour was postponed because of the late arrival of the salesmen when it is considered that the luncheon are business men.

The group members and $3,500 were added to the "super-stocks," these being C. W. Byrd, L. L. Hicks, to become a member of the club a salesman must sell $2,000 worth of stock.

The winners were won by the "B" team in Division "A"; the "B" team in Division "B"; the "A" team in Division "C"; and the "B" team in Division "D".

The team got the goat by turnouts worth $2,400.

The team got in, and both amateurs and professionals from the northward taking their grips for the invasion of the busy South.

FARMER KILLS WIFE AND THEN HIMSELF

Raymond Jackson Killed His Wife as She Lay in Bed and Then Took His Own Life.

Kinston, N. C., Nov. 13.—Raymond Jackson, aged 35, white farmer living four miles north of Kinston, early this morning shot to death his wife, Mrs. Mary Casey Jackson, aged 28, as she lay asleep in bed. He then turned the weapon on himself. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson are survived by four small children, the oldest a boy nine years of age.

Details of the fatal double shooting were meager, there being no eye witnesses. The oldest boy, however, told officials who were later called to the scene, that it was shortly after four o'clock this morning when he heard his father call to his mother, and when she failed to answer, heard his father say: "You won't answer then, will you?" The boy stated that he then heard the report of a gun, but fearing that his father would do him harm he remained in bed.

A few minutes later, he said, he heard another shot and then heard his father groaning. The boy then dropped off to sleep and was awakened by a neighbor at 6 o'clock who came to see about some tobacco. At this hour the boy and neighbor went into the room and found the bodies of the husband and wife.

The heads of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson were literally blown away, the police who saw the bodies, said.

It is said that Jackson was a heavy drinker at times, and according to his son he was drinking last night and had not been to bed all night long.

Following an inquest at the bed room this morning the bodies were brought to Kinston and prepared for burial.

KILLER WHEN AUTO TURNS OVER NEAR HUNTERSVILLE

C. O. Garmon Loses Life as He Runs Into a Wagon With No Lights.

Charlotte, Nov. 12.—C. Oscar Garmon, local sheet metal and roofing contractor, was killed early tonight near Huntersville, 20 miles from Charlotte, when an automobile he was driving alone left the road and turned over. He was found still alive by W. T. Banister, of this city, who picked him up and hurried toward Charlotte with him. The injured man died before reaching the city.

Mr. Garmon, a contractor, was returning home from Cornelius, bringing four of his employees with him. About three miles south of Huntersville, he met a car, the light of which are said to have blinded him and prevented his seeing a wagon loaded with wood proceeding toward him. When he finally saw the wagon it was too late to stop, and as the vehicle was drawing to his left Mr. Garmon attempted to do and did pass it to the right.

A part of the load, a one inch ash stick, protruded from the wagon, and as the automobile went by the stick crashed through the windshield and into Mr. Garmon's left eye, imbedding itself solidly in his head. The force of the impact broke the stick and left it in his skull.

The car, with no hand guiding it, passed the wagon and careened to the left into a field. None of the others, with the exception of slight scratches, was injured. They were E. L. Hall and Raymond Amick and two colored men.

Baton Rouge, La., Nov. 12.—Louisiana State University freshmen, whose heads were shaved last night by upper classmen, invaded the Baton Rouge high school today and cut the hair of three teachers and a number of boy and girl students.

The teachers who lost their locks were the Misses Ruth Gladney, Cora Droz and Violet Keller. An attempt was made to cut the hair of Mrs. B. W. Pegues and Mrs. Charles Kean, two other instructors, but both resisted strenuously, Mrs. Pegues striking one assailant with the palm of her hand.

The freshmen invaded the school during school hours and the boys and girls were dragged into the halls and into the schoolyard, many of the feminine victims in tears.

No arrests were made.

The hair of the teachers and the girl students was not trimmed in such a manner as to make it ridiculous, but the scores of boys who fell into the hands of the invaders were given trims that necessitated visits to barber shops—all of their hair had to be re-clipped.

He travelled in an old time covered wagon drawn by two horses, the wagon being well loaded with household effect and food supplies. At the "hind" end of the wagon was tied the family dog, also a milk cow which furnished a part of the food supplies for the company en route. On a corner of the wagon-bed was hanging a curry-comb while the brake lever reached high above the top of the wagon bows, with a rope reaching across the top to the driver's seat. ## MANUFACTURERS OF COTTON GOODS ARE IN ANNUAL SESSION

Secretary of National Association Says Situation in Textile Circles Now Similar to That of 1850.

Boston, Nov. 12.—The situation in the cotton industry in America during the last six months corresponds to that during a like period seventy-four years ago, H. C. Meserve, secretary of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers, said in his annual report prepared for presentation today at the annual meeting of the association. Even the issue of Southern competition, so often mentioned today, was raised by Northern manufacturers at that time, the report said.

He quoted a report published in December, 1850, which, he said, might have been written for the period covered by his annual reports from May 1, last, to the present time.

"From Rhode Island, that busy cotton cloth making hive, we learn that about seventy factories have stopped," the 1850 report said. "From Lowell and our eastern manufacturing villages we hear the same ominous reports. Even from the sunny South we hear of depression and suspension of manufacturing operations. From the east, west, north and south, the times are bad, the cotton manufacturers say, and they say it truly."

"There have been too many of our factories engaged in making coarse cotton goods. Coarse goods can be manufactured cheaper in the South and with a large number of factories now in operation in Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, South Carolina and some other states, how can it be expected that our northern manufacturers can long keep the field against them—they cannot do it. There is one remedy which we would suggest, that is to go into the manufacture of finer fabrics, give your cotton more labor, employ more skill, and spend more for fine machinery. If you do not take our advice, there is a grave chance for you to lose all your machinery, factories and all."

Commenting on present conditions, the report continued:

"The general lack of business has afforded an opportunity to many executives to make a thorough study of manufacturing and trade conditions, and some of the difficulties confronted have given rise to the intensely practical program which the committee presents at this meeting."

BUSINESS THEN WAS NOT GOOD

Mills Were Standing in Eastern States and the Talk of Southern Competition Was Discussed in the North.

Washington, Nov. 13.—An extra session of the new Congress soon after next March 4th was urged today by Senator Borah, republican, of Idaho, who declared he thought farm and railroad measures as well as the world court proposal and perhaps tax relief should be taken up at that time.

The Idaho Senator voiced his opinion after a call on President Coolidge, but said the legislative situation was not discussed at their conference. Administration officials close to the President indicated yesterday that they had no present plans for the calling of a special session.

Senator Borah believes that little in the way of general legislation will be accomplished at the coming short session, which is to be devoted largely to work on appropriations. He regards a delay until the regular meeting of the new Congress in December of next year as unnecessary and unwarranted.

CONGRESSMAN HILL FOUND NOT GUILTY

BY BALTIMORE JURY

Was Charged With Violating the Volstead Law by Making Wines and Cider at His Home.

OUTCOME OF THE TRIAL IMPORTANT

Judge in the Case Gave Ruling That May Call for Changes in Enforcement of the Law.

Baltimore, Nov. 13.—Representative John P. Hill, of Baltimore, was acquitted by a jury in U. S. Court today of violating the Volstead law by manufacturing intoxicating wines and cider at his home, No. 3 West Franklin street.

The fifth and sixth counts of the indictment which charged Col. Hill with maintaining a common nuisance at his home were dismissed under instructions from Judge Morris A. Soper, who presided at the trial. The trial was the result of a test case forced by Col. Hill who maintained the Volstead law gave the farmer a right to manufacture cider and wine, but withheld from the city man the right to manufacture beer.

The trial brought from Judge Soper the opinion that the clause of the Volstead act defining beverages of more than one-half of one per cent. alcoholic content as illegal, did not apply to home made wines and cider, provided the product is non-intoxicating "in fact."

Judge Soper also indicated by his rulings and his charge to the jury that the burden rested upon the government to show that such home products were intoxicating in fact, and a violation of the law.
