

New Efforts To Bring Line Of P. & N. Railway Through City Of Concord

Charlotte as the survey shows will open a new territory thereby increasing the value of the land considerably. It is worth much more to have this interurban than a regular railroad because it serves in the county as the street cars do in the city.

By all means let us get together on this matter. Brevard E. Harris, president Kiwanis Club.

The civic clubs have been for years trying to get a new railroad for our city, and certainly now that we have the opportunity of getting the road, our people will not be so unreasonable about the right of way as to deprive our city and county of this great opportunity.

C. H. Barrier, mayor of Concord: "I am for anything the late J. B. Duke was for and I understand he left everything in shape to carry out his plans. Every development or extension he made has increased property values and business and I should think our people would gladly give or at least sell a right of way for this railroad reasonable."

"The fact that it opens up territory more or less undeveloped makes it that much more valuable to us." Chas. B. Wagoner, president of the Citizens Bank and Trust Co.

"I believe that the building of the P. & N. Railway through here will mean more to the City of Concord and to the territory through which its lines are laid than any other movement for the common good that has been under consideration for the last twenty-five years."

We can readily see that this line will be laid out along the route that will be the shortest and that will promise the lowest construction cost, enabling it to reach Kannapolis and points north on its route to Winston-Salem, and leave Concord off its main line, unless rights of way to bring it by here can be obtained at a reasonable cost.

The advantages to the property owners through whose land this line would be laid are so many that in all except probably a few cases it seems that rights of way would gladly be given.

Declare Crew of Comanche Was Drunk and Threw Passengers Out of the Lifeboats.

Charge that the crew was drunk was made also by James A. Moore, of St. Petersburg, Fla., who said: "Members of the crew were largely responsible for the confusion. They pushed and pulled and stampeded like wild men. I was thrown out by some of them when I tried to get into a lifeboat."

THE SECOND PERIOD CLOSES SATURDAY NIGHT, OCTOBER 31

All Candidates Should Take Full Advantage of This Period in Order to Reach Their Goals.

FIRST PERIOD A BIG SUCCESS

Only With Close Figuring Can the Leaders in the Race Now Be Determined—Don't Hesitate Now.

Going up! Swinging into line, all a-tangle with high hopes and ambition, candidates in The Tribune-Times now famous campaign have swelled their vote totals to a wonderful high mark and from now on to the finish it will be a pretty exciting race between the leaders.

The first period of the campaign which closed Monday night, was a tremendous success. Tens of thousands, yes, hundreds of thousands of votes, were issued and every "live" candidate profited mightily.

The competition, therefore, as far as the relative standing of the candidates is concerned, depends almost entirely upon the results obtained by the various contestants between now and the finish as to who the ultimate winners will be.

The above is not "mere talk" for the sake of telling but a real fact—theories or rumors notwithstanding. Hence the struggle for supremacy will be fought out during the next few days for the entire campaign comes to a fateful close in just a few weeks. The "second period" closes on Saturday Night, October 31st, at twelve o'clock.

Predominant position among the leaders at the close of the second period is strongly advantageous throughout the remainder of the campaign one can have but little hope of success. And maintaining this standing necessitates taking full advantage of the "Second Period" vote schedule which closes one week from Saturday night, October 31st.

He or she who hesitates now, regardless of their standing, will surely be trailing in the oblivion of defeat, when this grand array of awards is made, with some other more ambitious workers will be driving their own new cars awarded them by The Tribune-Times for their untiring efforts in this mammoth Gift Election.
