SALISBURY BROKER HURT IN ACCIDENT

Railroad Officials Say C. J. Jones Drove Into a Train That Was Standing at the Time.

Charlotte, N. C., March 18.—(P)—C. J. Jones, business man and cotton broker of Salisbury, narrowly escaped death and sustained a fractured skull and other injuries near here early today when his automobile crashed into a freight train at a crossing on the Salisbury highway.

At the hospital where he was taken it was said he probably will recover.

Mr. Jones was conscious this morning and preparations were made to take X-ray pictures of his head. His arm also was broken.

The accident occurred at 4 a. m., according to officials of the Southern Railway here, who explained the automobile struck the 33rd car from the engine, and 10th car from the caboose.

The side of the freight car was crushed by the impact, the railway report said. It was added that the train was standing at the time.

LOCAL BANK STARTS NEW SERVICE FOR PATRONS

Hotel Reservations in Many Cities Will Be Made by Citizens Bank and Trust Company.

In conference here this week with J. A. Mason, special representative of the United Hotels Company in America and the American Hotels Corporation, officials of the Citizens Bank and Trust Company made arrangements to secure hotel reservations for its patrons and friends in many cities in the United States and Canada.

All hotels of the chain represented by Mr. Mason will give special attention to request for reservations coming from the local bank, whose patrons are urged to take advantage of the new service.

These hotels include The Roosevelt in New York City, The Benjamin Franklin in Philadelphia, the Mount Royal in Montreal, Canada, and the King Edward in Toronto, Canada.

All other units are said to be of high class standards.

Reservations for accommodations at hotels in the United States, as well as the hotels of the American Hotels Corporation, are assured and may be made without expense through this bank or direct to the hotels, sending telegrams direct.

For further convenience, the United Hotels Company has authorized the local bank to issue to its depositors and friends a preferential card bearing the facsimile signature of Hon. Frank A. Dudley, president of that company.

This holder may detach and use in any of the hotels named in the list printed on the back of the card.

AMERICANS REPORTED SLAIN BY MEXICANS

U. S. Consul at Mazatlan Hears of Death of One of One and Wounding of Another.

Mexico City, March 17.—Rex McIlpone, an American, was killed, and E. H. Heidenkamp, another American, seriously wounded by bandits in the town of Ixtlan, near Mazatlan last Sunday. This information came to the American embassy here today in a despatch from William P. Blocker, the American consul at Mazatlan.

The embassy immediately sent a note to the Mexican foreign office requesting the government to take steps for the apprehension and punishment of the bandits.

Consul Blocker also has officially notified the governor of the state of Nayarit of the attack upon the Americans and requested that troops be sent in pursuit of the attacking party.

The message of Consul Blocker to the embassy here was brief and garbled in transmission and the embassy therefore is ignorant of all the details of the affair. It has requested Consul Blocker to make a report by mail. Meanwhile the Mexican government is making an investigation.

McIlpone and Heidenkamp were employed by the Utah Construction company.

MERCHANTS' INSTITUTE IS CLOSED DURING MORNING

Sessions Proved of Great Benefit to Merchants of Concord.—Griest the Leader at Sessions.

The institute for merchants, conducted here during the first three days of the week under the leadership of J. W. Griest, of Chicago, can be said to have closed this morning with an informal meeting at the Y. M. C. A.

Sessions of the institute began Monday at noon with a luncheon meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Another luncheon meeting was held Tuesday and yesterday the merchants held a joint meeting with the Rotarians, Mr. Griest speaking to the members of the two organizations.

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights Mr. Griest talked to merchants, executives and sales people, outlining in an instructive and forceful manner the need of better salesmanship, better advertising systems and better co-operation between merchants.

Mr. Griest has aroused much interest among local merchants. He is an expert in his line and his talks have been very beneficial. He has a pleasing personality, commands a world of facts and data and knows how to get across the messages he delivers.

Local merchants are lavish in their praise for the manner in which Mr. Griest conducted his work in Concord. Suggestions and plans recommended by him are being favorably received and many of his recommendations will be incorporated in the management of local business houses.

Mr. Griest left at noon for Albemarle, where he will spend the next several days.

WORLD COURT PLANS GET ATTENTION IN COUNCIL OF LEAGUE

Question of America's Adherence to Permanent Court Will Be Discussed at the Session.

CHAMBERLAIN TO OPEN DISCUSSION

It Is Believed He Is Acting on Advice Received From the Ambassador in Washington.

Geneva, March 18.—(P)—The League of nations council decided this morning to discuss at its afternoon session the question of America's adherence to the permanent court of international justice, including reservations attached by the Senate.

The decision which was expected was taken on a motion by Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary. Sir Austen is believed to have acted on advice from the British ambassador at Washington, Sir Esme Howard, conveying the opinion that the American government would not deem examination of the problem by the council either offensive or unwarranted.

HARNETT WHITE MAN IS GIVEN NEW TRIAL FOR LIFE

Jury Erred in Instructing Jury as to Recommendation.—New Trial Is Ordered.

Raleigh, March 17.—Rory Matthews, Harnett county white man, under sentence to die for murder, won a new trial from the Supreme Court today because the trial judge instructed the jury that it might return a verdict with a recommendation of mercy.

Matthews has been on death row at State prison since his conviction in Harnett Superior Court last September. He slew D. J. McLeod, well-to-do farmer of the county.

While the authority in this state holds that a mercy recommendation accompanying a verdict is surplusage and may be disregarded, it must be rendered voluntarily, and without instruction from the court, Associate Justice Connor, writing the opinion, pointed out. In Matthews' case, Justice Connor found that the jury's verdict was in pursuance of instructions from trial Judge W. A. Devin.

The jury deliberated for several hours without reaching a decision, and finally sent out to ask the court if it could render a verdict with a recommendation of mercy. Judge Devin sent back an affirmative reply, the verdict followed promptly.

CONFESSIONS ARE MADE IN "DAD" WATKINS CASE

John Gray Said to Have Confessed to Slaying of Aged Albemarle Man. Albemarle, N. C., March 18.—(P)—Signed statements were today in the hands of authorities implicating one man directly and another indirectly in the slaying of Dad Watkins, aged man, whose charred body was found some time ago in the debris of a burned barn.

John Gray, who has been held in connection with the disappearance and finding of the body, is alleged to have confessed that the murder was committed October 30 at the Gray home, robbery being the motive.

Watkins, according to the confession, was lured to the Gray home, made drunk and hit over the head with a hatchet wielded by Gray.

Sweet testified, according to a detective of a national agency, that Gray induced him to help "him out after the murder." He is then alleged to have taken the body to the barn and there cut off the arms, legs and head.

The men have been grilled incessantly for the past two weeks in an effort to obtain a confession.

ARE TAKING NO PART IN D. A. E. CONTROVERSY

Greensboro Regent Says Chapter Will Not Further Dissension in Any Way. Greensboro, March 17.—Guilford Chapter of the North Carolina division of the Daughters of American Revolution, was not a party to the controversy which occurred in the recent convention at Charlotte, over the endorsement for a vice president for the national organization, Mrs. White Stone, regent of the local chapter, announced today.

Not will the chapter have anything to do with furthering in any way the dissension, she said.

"We must keep in mind the work which the society must do," Mrs. Stone said, "our real purpose is to perpetuate the memory of those who helped to achieve American independence; to encourage historical research concerning the Revolution and to publish the results of the research."

It is announced that the chapter will erect a suitable monument to David Caldwell and his wife, Rachel Caldwell, the memorial to mark the site near here of the old school over which David Caldwell, who was a noted minister and champion of the patriot cause, presided for years before and after the revolution.

"FLY AS CARRIER OF DISEASE" IS DISCUSSED

Dr. Buchanan Says the Best Way to Keep Germs From Being Spread Is to Kill Flies.

"Clean up and keep breeding places clean and save so much swatting later," is the advice of Dr. S. E. Buchanan, county health officer. In discussing the flies and their habits, Dr. Buchanan said:

"Flies may transmit the virus of a disease, mechanically either through their dejecta or upon their mouth parts, legs and other surface of the body. The flies may carry the infection directly to our lips, or indirectly to our food or to any surface upon which they may light.

"Experiments have been made on the number of germs carried on the body of the average house fly. The average number found on 415 flies examined was 1,250,000. This does not take into consideration the number in the intestinal tract of the fly which may be deposited as excreta on foodstuffs. These experiments were made by placing a sterile bottle and sterile water poured over the fly. By doing this experiment in this way a fair index was gotten as to the number of germs which would be deposited in milk if a fly falls into it.

"In view of the above experiment one can readily see why the fly should be kept away from foodstuffs. Not only should the house fly be kept away from the food stuff but also from any person that may have a disease and the excreta of that person. It is quite evident that flies lighting on a case of smallpox, measles, scarlet fever or other exanthematous disease may very readily transmit the disease to another person. They may also transmit mechanically the infection of erysipelas, anthrax and other skin infections. It has also been proven that flies may infest tuberculous sputum and excrete tuberculous germs which will remain alive for as long as fifteen days. The government proved that great prevalence of typhoid fever during the Spanish-American War was to a great extent due to the carrying by the house fly, the fecal matter from patients to food of well-soldiers. To the common house fly is due the credit for the diarrhea in infants which is so common during summer months and unjustly charged to the diet of the child. 'Swat the fly and save the child.'

"Among the list of diseases of which the infection may be conveyed by flies are typhoid fever, cholera, dysentery, diarrhea in infants, erysipelas, ophthalmia, diphtheria, smallpox, sleeping sickness, infantile paralysis.

"Every one putting forth just a little extra effort at this time of the year will no doubt save many lives and much sickness this summer.

"Clean up and keep breeding places clean and save so much swatting later."

DUXBURY THRILLED LARGE AUDIENCES IN CONCORD

Noted Englishman Lived Up to Reputation of Reciter of Unusual Charming and Appealing. Duxbury, English reciter, thrilled two large audiences in Concord yesterday.

Appearing here under the auspices of the Ministerial Association, Mr. Duxbury spoke twice in the high school auditorium, giving several short recitations in the afternoon to an audience composed mostly of children, and reciting in masterful fashion "The Book of Job" in the evening.

Due to the fact that so many children were present for his afternoon appearance Mr. Duxbury changed his program, giving the shorter readings instead of "Pilgrim's Progress" as had been planned. "Work in the city schools was halted in time for the students to hear the recital, school officials giving them credit for regular attendance if they hear Mr. Duxbury.

Mr. Duxbury's finest work was done in the evening, when he field the large audience keenly interested while he recited the book from the Bible. In voice, manner, appreciation and realization of the different characters, lofty themes, and sharp transitions which compose that wonderful drama, he was excellent.

Many persons were given a new insight into the book by the masterful interpretation given by Mr. Duxbury. His audience was particularly struck by the excellent manner in which he would change from one character to another and it was impossible to detect from his work whether one role was more difficult than the other.

While here Mr. Duxbury maintained his reputation as one of the world's most eminent reciters.

JOHN R. HINSON DIES AT HOME IN CONCORD

Funeral Services Will Be Held at Home Here Tomorrow Afternoon. John R. Hinson, age 77, died this morning at 7:30 o'clock at his home in this city after an illness of about four years.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at the home, conducted by Rev. C. Herman Truoblock. Interment will be made in Oakwood cemetery.

Mr. Hinson was born in Stauy county on October 4, 1849, but had been a resident of Concord for many years. He was one of the charter members of the First Baptist Church and when physically able was actively associated with all work of the Church.

Surviving is one daughter, Miss Bessie Hinson, of Concord.

Lieut. Thompson Is Hanged. Manila, March 18.—(P)—Second Lt. John Thompson, of the U. S. Army, was hanged here today for the murder of his 17 year old fiancee.

LEAVE PROBLEMS BEHIND WHEN DRIVING AN AUTO

Accidents Caused by Preoccupation of Auto Drivers in Opinion of Expert. Greensboro, N. C., March 18.—Motorists have too much on their minds and have difficulty finding room for thoughts of safety because they trouble with them, in the opinion of C. W. Roberts, vice-president of the Carolina Motor Club.

The club, following the example of the more than 700 other automobile organizations affiliated with the American Automobile Association, has been studying the behavior of motorists in an effort to discover why there is so much apparent carelessness. The preoccupation of the motorist's mind is one of the principal features thus far disclosed by the investigations.

"Motorists carry their business and domestic troubles with them," says Secretary Roberts, "and the result is there is very little room for thoughts of safety. The housewife does too much shopping while at the wheel. The business man puts over too many deals while he is dodging pedestrians. Altogether the situation is not conducive of safety."

How Mr. Roberts reached his conclusions is as interesting as the conclusions themselves, according to the report. Members of the safety and accident prevention committee of the club were commissioned to accept offers to ride with local motorists and to endeavor to discover what the drivers were thinking about. Almost invariably the drivers launched into a conversation regarding their respective interests. The assumption was that if there had been no one in the car to talk these matters over with the drivers would have discussed the matters with themselves, mentally.

"Only a small percentage of drivers tested talked about traffic, pedestrians, safety and precaution," says Secretary Roberts. "Thoughts were on matters quite unrelated to the task at hand and observers noted that the drivers were inclined to be inadvertently careless."

THE COTTON MARKET

Prospects For Cold Rains in South Offset Relatively Easy Liverpool Cable. New York, March 18.—(P)—Prospects for cold rains in the south served to offset relatively easy Liverpool cables and prices held fairly steady in the cotton market early today.

The opening was steady at a decline of 1 point to an advance of 3 points, and after selling off 3 or 4 points under liquidation and Southern selling the market rallied at about yesterday's closing figures.

Private cables said the decline in Liverpool was due to hedge selling which had supplied covering and trade selling. Some trade buying to day was reported here in the early trading, but the bulk of the demand was attributed to covering by Wall Street and local shorts. July fluctuated between 18.15 and 18.19 and was holding around 18.18 at the end of the first hour.

Cotton futures opened steady, May 18.85; July 18.17; Oct. 17.54; Dec. 17.18; Jan. 17.10.

UNINHABITED YACHT GROUNDED IN SOUND

Mysterious Craft Drifts Through Inlet Near Wilmington. Wilmington, March 17.—A small handsome yacht, lavishly furnished with all the conveniences, drifted through the inlet near Buena Vista farm and grounded on a shoal in Middle Sound early today. Residents of the section boarded the craft but found nothing that would fix her identity. She will be floated tomorrow and held while efforts are made to locate her owner.

Nothing more has been heard from the yacht No. 7400-S, of Hampton, Va., which broke her tow late yesterday and drifted to sea. A crew from Oat Island station spent the night and this morning in quest of the runaway, finally abandoning the hunt since a strong west wind was blowing and Captain Willis said the chances were the craft had been blown far to sea.

MEMBER PRESENT

Sunday school superintendents met this morning at the Y. M. C. A. tonight at 7:30 to perfect plans for a Superintendents' League.

Much interest has been aroused in the proposed organization, it is said, and superintendents from all Sunday schools in the city are expected to attend the meeting.

Preliminary plans for the league were laid at a meeting at the Y last week and it is planned to perfect the organization at tonight's meeting.

Always doesn't seem long at all on a beautiful moonlight night.

ULTIMATUM GETS CHINESE APPROVAL

Warring Factions Agree to Terms Given in the Ultimatum by Several Nations Monday.

Tientsin, March 18.—(P)—It is semi-officially announced that the Kuomintang (national peoples army) and the Fengtien troops of Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, Manchurian dictator, have accepted the demands of the powers that they cease their warlike operations around Takü bar in the Pei River.

The powers ultimatum demanded action by noon today.

The foreign office memorandum to the powers comments on the alleged lack of patience on the part of the diplomats, but assures the powers that the competent military authorities have been authorized to take the proper measures regarding the clauses in the memorandum of the powers.

THREE MEN FOUND GUILTY ROBBING BANK

Hagewood and Payne Got Seven to Ten Years and Davis Two to Five Years. Hillsboro, March 17.—Sentences of from seven to ten years were imposed on C. H. Hagewood and William Payne and from two to five years on Worth Davis by Judge W. A. Devin tonight after an Orange county jury had found them guilty of holding up the cashier and robbing the bank of Efland at Efland of nearly $4,000 in December of last year. All gave notice of appeal.

Whether or not the three men charged with robbing the bank on December 11th could travel the 55 miles between Efland and High Point in one hour and fifteen minutes was a point stressed in the second day of the trial. The jury got the case at 7 o'clock this evening.

Hagewood was the only defendant to take the stand in his defense, saying he had never been in Efland until after his arrest, that he came from Alabama and lived in Greensboro a short time, then went to High Point, working as a lineman. In attempting to prove an alibi, he produced half a dozen High Point people, who testified to seeing him between 11 o'clock and noon on the day of the robbery.

J. B. Gibson and his wife testified Hagewood was at their home near High Point from 11 to 12 o'clock on the day the bank was robbed at 10:20 o'clock. Robert Teague, pool room operator; M. Sexton and Carl Hedgecock, filling station owner and operator, Joe Gurley, meat market man, with whom Hagewood lived, offered testimony for the defense.

TO TRY TO CATCH BASEBALL DROPPED OFF CHIMNEY ROCK

Gabby Street, Veteran Washington, Backstop, to Undertake This Dizzy Feat. Asheville, Mar. 17.—When Augusta makes its first trip to Asheville this season, Gabby Street, pilot of the Tigers, will be asked to try and catch a baseball dropped off Chimney Rock, some 650 feet high.

At first Jack Mealey was wanted to try the feat on "some Sunday afternoon, but fear of Mealey becoming injured in the dizzy undertaking prompted Manager Larry Gardner to ban Mealey's connection with the stunt.

In that Gabby Street once caught a baseball dropped off the Washington monument, it was thought the veteran Washington backstop would be more fitted for the undertaking.
