

SEVERAL TO NAME SUCCESSOR TO CANNON

State Executive Committee Can Name Candidate or Individual Can File Notice of Candidacy.

It will not be necessary for the Republicans of the State to meet in convention to name their candidate for the United States Senate to fill the candidacy offered to Charles A. Cannon, of Concord.

Several days after he was nominated by the State convention Mr. Cannon decided to make the race, declaring he was too busy with textile interests to enter actively into politics.

A candidate to oppose Senator Overman can be chosen by the Republican State executive committee or any individual in the party can file notice of his candidacy. It would be better for the candidate, perhaps, if he could get the endorsement of the committee in formal session but if the committee does not meet then any one who wants to make the race can do so by filing the proper notice.

Local Republicans were interested in the story from Greensboro that friends of Marston Butler were anxious for him to make the race. This would offer an excellent opportunity, it is said, for the former Senator to show his strength. He was badly defeated at the recent State convention but still claims a large number of supporters in the State so it is suggested that he be given to chance to show his strength.

Mr. Butler and any other candidate will be defeated, so the party is up against the problem of choosing some one who is willing to make the race for love of party. There is nothing to be expected by any Republican except defeat.

MEETINGS AT KANNAPOLIS

Great Interest in Reformed Church Sermons Being Preached by Evangelist Johnson.

The following will be the program of services at the Reformed Church at Kannapolis Monday.

7:30 p. m.—A special meeting for women in auditorium of St. Johns Reformed Church on the interesting subject, "Choosing a Husband." Every woman who has a husband, who ever had one, every girl who wants a husband or who ever will want one should hear this message. The band has been invited to meet in front of the Mary Ella Hall and after playing several selections lead the march to the church. Definite answer to this request will be given later.

Meetings will continue every afternoon and night next week. It is unusual for a town of this size to be favored with the ministry of such a prominent evangelistic party. The people of Kannapolis and surrounding community should avail themselves of the opportunity to attend these services.

GOODMAN FINDS CHUMS IN OPERA

Concord Singer Visits Bernard Cantor at Charlotte.

Sam Goodman, of Concord, who sings each Sunday in the First Presbyterian church choir here, discovered yesterday that a number of the singers in the opera company are old associates of his. He sang with them in New York.

He was in Charlotte during the afternoon and spent the afternoon riding around with Bernard Cantor, stage manager.

The two were reminiscing about the time that Mr. Cantor threw managerial fits about a song which some member of the cast had failed to learn and which he had to teach Mr. Goodman in 10 minutes while the orchestra was tuning up.

Carmella Ponselle, who was the star performer in the opening opera, Cavalleria Rusticana, left the city this morning shortly after 1 o'clock.

During her stay here, she hardly left her room. It is her custom never to go out on the day before she sings. Newspaper scribes who ask her for interviews yesterday were flatly refused.

"I must rest for my performance," she declared.

Concord Man Wins Honors at Pinhurst

In the state-wide shoot held at Pinhurst Thursday I. I. Davis, Jr., of Concord, won fourth place among the amateurs with 94 pigeons out of 100 shots.

J. R. Audrey, of Wilmington, won high honors Thursday with a perfect record and W. B. Arey, of Salisbury, present state champion, was second with 99.

D. R. McCullough, of Charlotte, broke 96 pigeons for third place.

Several professionals and others representing firearms and powder and shell companies, ranked higher than the amateurs but their records are not counted.

M. F. Ritchie, Jr., of this city, won high honors among the youngsters. Young Ritchie is state champion in the boys' class. He broke 83 pigeons Thursday.

Place Marker on Site of the First Court

Charlotte, April 15.—Unveiling ceremonies for the tablet, marking the site of the first court ever held in Mecklenburg County, were held Thursday under the auspices of the Colonial Dames, which society created the marker.

The inscription on the tablet reads: "Site of first court in Mecklenburg County February 26, 1763."

"Home of Thomas Spratt, first white settler to cross the Yadkin River, with wheels."

"Here was born his daughter, Anne Spratt, first white child born between the Catawba and Yadkin rivers."

"Erected by the National Society of Colonial Dames of America in North Carolina, 1926."

Salisbury Evening Post: "Mr. Frank Cline returned this morning from a business trip to New York. He sold his interest in the Southern Footwear Company here last week, but has not definitely decided as to his future plans."

SAY BRITT OR DRAPER WILL SUCCEED CANNON

As Republican Nominee to Oppose Senator Overman in Next Election.

The following story from Raleigh will be read with interest here: William Grissom, United States Collector of Internal Revenue, who yesterday returned to the seat on the State Executive Committee of the Republican party which he vacated five years ago, celebrated his return to active participation in party councils with the prediction that Arthur J. Draper, of Charlotte, or James J. Britt, of Asheville, will be given the Republican nomination for the United States Senate which was declined by Charles A. Cannon, of Concord.

Republicans here are somewhat heartened by the fact that Mr. Cannon, who is a well known textile manufacturer and the brother-in-law of David H. Blair, United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue, strongly stressed his national Republicanism and said nothing about his State Democracy in his statement declining the nomination, which was issued from Washington.

In that statement Mr. Cannon stated a good Republican candidate ought to make a "great showing," but said nothing about election.

Mr. Draper, who is also a wealthy textile manufacturer and a protectionist, would be the same sort of a candidate as Mr. Cannon, while the Republicans feel that if need be they can draft the services of Mr. Britt and he will feel under obligation to accept. Mr. Britt, who served two terms in Congress, is now counsel for the national prohibition director at Washington. He was temporary and permanent chairman of the convention at Durham and was the selection of the regulars of the party in their pre-convention caucus for the Senatorial nomination. However, he declined to let his name go before the convention in that connection and, instead, was named for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, a position for which the candidate is not expected to make a campaign.

CONCORD GIRL WINS IN SPELLING CONTEST HERE

Miss Alice Armfield Defeats Miss Helen Graeber For Honors in Contest.

In the spelling contest between students of the Concord and Kannapolis schools, Miss Alice Armfield, of the local school, was winner in the final contest held here Friday.

Miss Helen Graeber, of the seventh grade, represented the Kannapolis school.

The words were given to the spellers by Prof. J. B. Robertson, superintendent of the county schools.

The name of the winner was sent to Miss Cora A. Harris, spelling bee editor of The Charlotte Observer, the contest being part of the state-wide contest being conducted by The Observer.

Miss Armfield is the attractive daughter of Hon. and Mrs. Frank Armfield and is one of the outstanding students in the local high school.

Baptist Seniors Entertain.

The Senior Department of the First Baptist Sunday school held a reception Friday night at the church. The members of this department, with a large number of invited friends, were charmingly entertained on this occasion.

The social rooms of the church were beautifully decorated, and those attending were cordially welcomed upon entering the rooms.

Miss Louise Austin had charge of the program, and she arranged a series of novel and unique games, puzzles, tests and "stunts" that kept everybody guessing as to what would be next. A very comical feature was an impromptu debate, the query being: "Resolved that a Smoking Chimney is a Greater Nuisance than a Fussy Wife." Those participating in the debate were Messrs. Luther Barnhardt, Sid Perry, Homer Bollinger and Mrs. Trueblood.

A very pleasing number on the program was the rendition of two vocal solos by Miss Mary Smith, accompanied by Miss Helen Smith, teachers in Scotia College.

Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the program of entertainment.

Those present were: Misses Virginia Isenhout, Bernice Talbert, Lillie Talbert, Cora L. Bruton, Opelia Bruton, Mary Medina, Maggie Snyder, Frances Tarleton, Janie Collett, Leba Martin, Lela Bruton, Mildred Bailey, Virginia Bailey, Zora Stroupe, Mattie Lee Cooley, Nora Ferris, Elizabeth Ballard, Vera Moore, Ruth Honeycutt, Edna Varner, Louise Austin, Mary Smith, Helen Smith, Letha Snyder, Elizabeth Walker, Dot Norman, Gladys Swink, Marie Barnhardt, Ollie Moore, Laura Thurman, Maud Goldman, Halley Bailey, Mrs. Homer Bollinger, and Mrs. Trueblood; and Messrs. MORE THAN HUNDRED BIRTHS IN COUNTY

Were Reported April First to the County Health Department—Births Double Deaths.

More than 100 births in Cabarrus county were reported to the county health department in April.

While it is impossible to tell the number of births that occurred in March, due to the fact that the total includes some February and January births, it is known that the majority of the babies reported were born in March.

The same report shows 61 deaths, practically all of these being for March.

Of the total births reported, 102 were of white children and 18 of colored children. Of the total deaths, 46 were white persons and 15 colored persons.

No. 4 township, which embraces Kannapolis, had the largest number of births of any township in the county. In that township 48 white births and 16 colored births were reported. Concord was second with 22 white births and 5 colored births.

Problem in Punctuation

The following verse headed "Sounds Foolish, But Is It?" was clipped from the Hoosier Motorist. But it isn't as foolish as it reads because, when properly punctuated, it ceases to be a hodgepodge of nonsense and reads sensibly.

A funny little man told this to me: "I fell in a snowdrift in June, and I went to a ball game out in the sea. I saw a jelly fish float up a tree. I found some gum in a cup of tea. I stirred my milk with a big brass key."

I opened my door and my bended knee I beg your pardon for this said he. The correct punctuation is:

A funny little man told this to me: "I fell in a snowdrift in June," said he, "I went to a ball game. Out in the sea I found some gum. In a cup of tea I stirred my milk. With a big brass key I opened my door. On my bended knee I beg your pardon for this," said he.

Southern Mill Stocks Active But Lower.

According to the weekly average as released by R. S. Dickson & Co. on twenty-five active Southern textile stocks there was a further decline of 16 cents per share, bringing the average down from $118.16 last week to $118.00 for the present week-end. Low prices have attracted considerable buying; in fact the market is now more active than it has been for several weeks.

There has been a good demand in North Carolina for preferred stocks due largely to the fact that May 1st is tax listing time, and investors are looking for non-taxable securities.

Cook, in play on the stage, to her mistress: "I give you notice on the spot; I'm going to leave at the end of my week."

Lady in audience, excitedly—"In that case you can come to work for me. I'll give you $15 a week and allow you two afternoons and four evenings a week out."

Miss Adelaide Harris has returned from Adelaide, where she attended the spring dances at Washington and Lee University and the University of Virginia. Miss Harris also visited friends in Richmond, while she was away.

It is planned now to have the meeting at two o'clock on the afternoon of May 1st.

Afternoon Book Club Meets.

The Friday Afternoon Book Club had a delightful meeting with Mrs. J. F. Daywalt Friday afternoon. The house was attractively decorated with spring flowers.

Mrs. F. C. Niblock was in charge of the program, but having developed a case of spring fever, she waived the regular program and turned the meeting into a symposium on "Flowers." Each member at roll call gave an item of interest about flowers. Then many beautiful poems and prose selections in appreciation of flowers were read by various members. At the last Mrs. J. G. Parks gave a vivid description of Magnolia Gardens which she visited recently. She expressed the wish that these beautiful gardens might be made the background for a moving picture romance, so that millions might enjoy the reproduction of their loveliness.

After the program the hostess's attractive daughter, Elizabeth, served a delicious salad course with coffee and sweets.

The Duke Flowers.

From the O. M. Page of the Charlotte Observer.

One doesn't have to go to Charleston to see beautiful flowers," said a man of Myers Park. "All you want to do is to walk, or ride out to the Duke estate and see the most beautiful sight you can imagine."

"Against a background of as beautiful grass as you can imagine, is a wilderness of color in tulips, jonquils, lilies, blue bells, and other flowers that bloom and all vying with each other in beauty and glory of color. It is worth coming from afar to see the beautiful place and its wealth and glory of flowers."

It is reported that a large crowd will be present Saturday when the county convention is called to order by Miss Rosa Maud, chairman of the county executive committee.

Because he prayed with his face toward Jerusalem in the north, instead of Mecca, in the east, an old Jewish of Hebron was tried by a Moslem religious court as a heretic.
