

KIWANIS MEETING AT THE Y. M. C. A. FRIDAY

Clarence Barrier Talks Interestingly of International Convention at Montreal.

The regular weekly Kiwanis luncheon was held Friday at noon in the assembly rooms of the Y. M. C. A.

C. W. Svinik, program chairman for the week, had a most entertaining program arranged for the meeting, consisting of several musical numbers and several short talks by members of the club, in addition to Clarence Barrier's detailed account of the International Kiwanis Convention at Montreal that he recently attended.

Starting the program, Miss Elizabeth Woodhouse delighted the members of the club with two solos. She was accompanied by Mrs. Leslie Correll.

Mr. Barrier then told of the International Kiwanis Convention at Montreal at which he represented the Concord Club as a delegate. He took the trip and the convention up in detail and made a full report of the meetings of the convention.

Ebb White was named as program chairman of next week's meeting which will be the first to be held in Hotel Concord. The hotel will be the regular meeting place hereafter.

The condition of Mrs. L. T. Bost who entered the St. Peter's hospital in Charlotte last Friday morning for a very serious operation, shows some improvement.

TAR HEEL YOUTHS AVIATION MARTYRS

Sons of North Carolina Sent Home to Rest Through Eternity.

Norfolk, Va., June 23.—Two youthful sons of North Carolina went home last night to rest through eternity, two more martyrs to the cause of aviation that science might advance.

Adventurers of the air, victims of a crash, George Howard Hudnell, 24, and Claude J. Coley, 19, were en route, the one to the old home at Oriental, and the other to Rockwell, the home of his forebears.

With solemn services, surrounded by chums of childhood days, funeral rites will be said, and the bodies, broken by the terrific force of their fall in East Camp Monday, will be laid to rest this afternoon.

Two mothers' hearts are grieving, two sweethearts are nearly prostrated, and hundreds of friends of the youths popular here and at home, are sorrowing.

Hudnell died shortly after the crash Monday, but Coley lingered long enough for his mother, Mrs. Sally B. Coley, to come from Charlotte, N. C., and to reach Norfolk in time to sit a few brief moments beside her only son, to hold his hand, to kiss him tenderly, and to watch death steal over his unconscious form.

Reaches Son Before Death.

It was a long, wearisome race that the mother had with death, and she barely outran the dread specter, arriving at Protestant Hospital less than an hour before her son died. She is a widow, and no other children survive.

Hudnell's father and mother arrived late Monday night and accompanied the body of their son home. Mrs. Coley took the body of her son home and was accompanied by several of his friends from Norfolk.

Coley, who owned and piloted the plane in which Hudnell was a passenger when it crashed to earth, died from the effects of a punctured lung and did not regain consciousness long enough to give a lucid explanation of the crash. He had said something about his engine going bad, and it is believed that this, with a broken

ANOTHER FINE RAIN FOR MANY SECTIONS OF STATE

Rain Fell in Cabarrus for Several Hours and Was General in State Says Reports.

Cabarrus yesterday was visited by another of those drenching rains so badly needed. The water fell for several hours during the day and persons here today from various parts of the county report that it was general throughout the county.

The rain was pretty general in the state, according to reports in morning papers and others brought home by Concord persons who were motoring yesterday in various sections of the state.

Rain fell in torrents near Lumberton according to a Concord party returning from Wilmington. In fact this party left Wilmington in the rain and drove most of the way home either in a downpour or a drizzle.

The road from Concord to Monroe showed signs of a heavy rain but it was in excellent condition last night and this morning.

Several farmers in Concord early this morning declared the last week had been an excellent one for their crops. "You could almost see the crops grow," one farmer stated. "We had the crops worked out fine and the rain did the rest."

This farmer expressed the opinion that the crops this year will be excellent if rain falls often enough in the future.

"I have seen early dry seasons that turned out profitably for the farmers," he said. "There are indications now that in the future there will be enough rain and if this is the case, then we will have good crops."

NO RUN-OFF PRIMARY NECESSARY IN CABARRUS

County Not Interested in Second Primary for Democrats on Saturday.

Cabarrus county people have no local interest in the various run-off contests to be held in the second primary Saturday.

County candidates were not named in the primary and no other deadlock affecting this county resulted in the primary. Judge Oglesby had no opposition. Solicitor Zeb V. Long defeated B. F. Brittain and Senator Overman defeated R. R. Reynolds. Since Judge Oglesby had no opposition it was not necessary to vote for him and the other contests were decided in the primary.

All of the contests to be decided in the second primary of necessity developed in those counties and districts in which more than two candidates entered the field. The outcome of these run-off races will not directly affect Cabarrus so local people are showing practically no interest in them.

GIBSON ROMPS AWAY WITH LAST ONE, 10-7

Take Series Four Games to One By Winning Fifth Game Saturday Afternoon.

The flattened Towel-makers were made even more horizontal by the Gibson team Saturday afternoon when the local team playfully took the last of the five game series 10 to 7, at Gibson Park. Score for the series: Gibson, four games; Kannapolis, one.

This little prank made false the argument that Kannapolis has much the better team and has been losing only through hard luck. They simply were not there with the right kind of pitching, and the hitting in the pinches.

In their more fluent moments Saturday afternoon the pitchers of the Kannapolis entry looked like the heavies at the annual game between the lawyers and doctors. They employed three hurlers, all of whom were murdered impartially by the Gibson team.

Ten runs and ten hits, including homers by Ellerbee, Andrews and Simmons, all coming at opportune moments may give some idea how futile the twirlers from the towel center were.

Simmons pitched a strong game for Gibson, striking out seven and allowing only six hits until the ninth inning when he had a five run lead and could afford to ease up. The infield behind him threatened several times to throw the game away in spite of all he could do, but it braced perceptibly when Andrews replaced Dulin in the fourth.

Kannapolis Takes Four Run Lead. After going scoreless in the first, Kannapolis scored over four runs in the three successive innings, two of which were earned and the other two presented to them by the Gibson infield, mostly Dulin. Saunders, first up, received a walk and went all the way to third on Lentz's sacrifice hit, and then scored on an error by Watts. Mostinger tripled over Jarrett's head to start the next inning and scored when McLean singled after Lee had struck out. McLean stole second and went to third on an error by Basinger. He scored on Kirke's infield out. In the third inning Simmons struck Saunders and Lentz out, but Johnson hit one to Dulin who errored it long enough for Johnson to reach second only errored the grounder but kicked it in front of him and watched it lay there while Johnson ran all the way home in safety. Skipper Basinger decided that enough was enough and put himself on third, Andrews on second and Dulin on the bench, a very wise move. Mtsinger made the third out, Andrews to Wood.

Gibson Ties Score in Fourth. Gibson entered their half of the fourth four runs behind and with only one hit to their credit off Thomas, star Duke University hurler during the last collegiate year, a single by Watts in the third. Andrews received a walk to start the inning and went to third when Hatley singled to deep center. Basinger walked filling the bases with no outs. Ellerbee flied to Thomas for the first out. Andrews scored a moment later on an error by McLean who let one of Thomas' pitches get away from him. Basinger was out at second, Johnson to Mtsinger, on a fielder's choice and Jarrett was safe at first. "Peck" Wood, former Kannapolis player, won undying gratitude from the Gibson supporters by scoring both runners with a single to center field. He went to third on Smith's hit to right for one base and scored the tying run as Watts made his second single in two innings. Manager Johnson waved Thomas to the showers and called in Culp of the underhanded delivery. Simmons, the ninth Gibson player to bat that inning, made the final out by popping to Johnson.

Kannapolis Breaks Tie in Seventh. Culp, first man to face Simmons in the seventh, tripped to the red barn in center field and scored a moment later when Simmons errored Mtsinger's easy one after Lee had struck out. McLean and Saunders were easy outs.

Barrage of Hits in Eighth. Culp fanned Watts, Simmons and Hatley in rapid succession in the seventh and his one-run lead was beginning to look pretty safe when Basinger, first up in the eighth, singled prettily to center. Ellerbee caught one of the underhand pitches fairly and sent it over the left field fence, giving Gibson the lead for the first time and one she never relinquished. Jarrett went out, Saunders to Lentz, but Culp hit Wood and was promptly yanked in favor of Ferguson. Andy fanned Smith for the second out, but Simmons stepped into one and sent it far over the center field fence. Andrews followed with one in the same direction though not so far. Six runs had been scored when Hatley made the third out, Mtsinger to Lentz.

Rally Short-Lived. Kannapolis attempted a rally in the ninth but it fell short by three runs. Ferguson singled to left and went to second on Mtsinger's infield out. He scored when Lee singled to left, but Lee was out trying to stretch his hit into two bases. McLean then made the longest home run seen at Gibson park this year, a terrific drive over the center field fence. Kirke followed with a triple, but was left on third when Flowe made the final out of the game, Andrews to Wood.

Briefs.

The umpiring of Leonard and Miller in the last two games of the series is worthy of comment. They did their work well and not a single serious protest was made against their decisions.

The Kannapolis infield continues to be the class of the two teams, but what are a few errors when they can be made up with home run smashes?

Kannapolis made 53 hits in the series against 47 made by Gibson, yet won only one game in five. Seventeen of their hits came in the game they won and their other hits were not bunched nearly so effectively as were Gibson's.

GIBSON ROMPS AWAY WITH LAST ONE, 10-7

Gibson connected for thirteen home runs during the five games, Kannapolis for eight. The majority of the runs made by each team were due directly to four base swats.

Mtsinger's stop of Smith's hit toward right was the deciding game of the game. He had to do a nose dive to get it and was unable to recover his balance in time to throw to Lentz for a put out.

HUNT FOR LOST MAN FUTILE.

Police Dragnet and Private Inquiry of Distressed Wife Fail to Find Trace of J. L. Condon.

The search for J. L. Condon, missing Derita road paint shop owner, gone since Wednesday of last week, was unavailing yesterday.

One clue, reported to the city police, failed to bring any results. A man, said to have been somewhat similar to Condon in appearance and of a very nervous temperament, was seen in the neighborhood of lower South Tryon street.

The address given, however, proved to be spurious. Though the police were told that the man had stayed at 1410 South Tryon street, investigation showed that there was no home at this address.

Search Futile. Welfare officers also aided in the search but found nothing to aid them and they were of the opinion that the man had gone north, possibly to his home at Rochester, N. Y.

Mrs. Condon, herself worried to the point of exhaustion, not only from the distress at having her husband disappear but also from the financial difficulties now confronting her, she spent almost the entire day in Charlotte, hoping to get some clue that would solve the mystery.

Today, she said, she will remain at her home and try to rest. It may be, she thinks, that she will somehow hear from her husband there.

No Warning. Mr. Condon disappeared without a word of warning on Wednesday of last week. He had his wife casual goodby on leaving her that morning, came to his paint shop on the Dowd road and worked part of the day.

Free Treatment of Indigent Cripples. The orthopaedic clinic for the free examination and treatment of indigent cripples being held under the auspices of the Rotary Club in the offices of the City and County Health Departments in the City Hall at Charlotte, will be held again on Saturday, July 3rd.
