

Republican Campaign Ends With All Republicans Defeated; Elliot Majority Largest In County

Ward One, but showed practically no gain in either. Before the election the G. O. P. leaders were claiming Township 11, Box 1, Township 9, Township 6, and Township 10. The vote in all of these was close and at the Roberts Mill, another Republican stronghold, the Democrats held their own.

Instead of carrying Townships 6 and 9, the Republicans saw a majority in each for the Democrats. The vote in the county was unusually heavy in spite of the fact that this is an "off" year. The total vote showed an increase of about 600 over two years ago in the county with the Democrats getting an even break in the increase. The Democrats made increase in Ward 4 and Ward 2.

In Ward 4 three more people voted than were registered. This was accounted for by the fact that three persons had become of age since the registration books closed.

Democratic leaders were especially gratified with the vote in the county, where the Republicans had centered their forces for the most part. All sorts of talk about high taxes had been made and the promise of a 10 per cent. tax reduction offered by the Republicans, yet the Democratic vote in the county showed strength everywhere.

"This shows that the people want progressive people at the helm in the county," one man stated. "We can't have tax reductions and progress and the people are willing to pay when the taxes mean better roads and better schools."

During election day the Republicans apparently lost hope of electing anything like their full ticket and sought to get in their candidate for sheriff. It is known that Democrats in all parts of the county were asked to scratch Caldwell for Cline, the Republicans offering to vote for Elliott in exchange, apparently in the knowledge that they had no chance to defeat the register of deeds.

Most of the scratching, however, was done by Republicans as is shown in the Elliott-Housel vote. Elliott had the largest vote and Housel the smallest.

Democratic leaders have been generous in their praise of the Kannapolis leaders who pulled such a handsome vote. Six years ago Kannapolis was Republican by several hundred but by hard work the Democrats there have changed the complexion of things and the "towel city" is now safely in the Democratic column.

There was little betting on the election, most of the bets being placed on majorities. It is said that several Democrats bet that the lowest man on the ticket would poll a majority of at least 500. There was no even money bet on the outcome, it is said.

The official vote will be canvassed tomorrow morning and is not expected to show any great change from the unofficial count carried in a table in this paper today.

IS NO LAW AGAINST DEAF MUTE WEDDING

Register at Asheville Says Lot Of Deaf Couples Get Marriage Licenses There.

Asheville, Nov. 1.—Is there any law against deaf and dumb couple getting married? That was the question that was puzzling George A. Digges, register of deeds, recently and he stepped across the hall to find out what J. B. Cain, clerk of Superior court, thought about it. Mr. Cain remarked that a lot of dumb couples got married these days.

Apparently there was no reason in this particular case and the license was granted. Shortly after they left the building, the couple, who had previously applied to a magistrate to be married and been sent to get the license let it be known that they thought they were married. Friends took a hand and the nuptials were performed by Magistrate H. C. Jenkins. The bride is Virginia Sams of Cragg, and the bride-groom is Fred Ward, of Waynesville.

Advertising Cuts Costs. Advertising reduces the cost of selling because it reduces the time taken to make the sale. It reduces the time taken by the retailer to make the sale to the consumer.

It reduces the time taken by the wholesaler to make the sale. It reduces the time taken by the manufacturer to make the sale to the wholesaler.

U. S. Cosmetics Costly. Despite the many claims that the American bapper has discarded her vanity case and depends upon Old Sol for her healthy color complexion, statistics show that she still uses cosmetics. The U. S. department of commerce reports that the value of perfumery, cosmetics and toilet preparations produced in 1925 was more than $140,000,000. This was an increase of nearly 19 per cent over the 1923 production.

The report gives last year's output of Creams and rouges $34,178,000; dentifrices $25,496,000; talcum and other toilet powders $21,423,000; other cosmetics and toilet preparations $20,694,000; perfumery and toilet waters $20,544,000; hair tonics $9,480,000; perfumery, cosmetics and toilet preparations not reported by class $8,057,000, and hair dyes $1,616,000.

Would Execute Enemies of Mussolini. Rome, Nov. 2.—(AP)—"Nothing short of death to all enemies of Benito Mussolini will satisfy us," is the official edict of the fascist party enunciated by its secretary-general, Signor Turati.

A demand is to be made of the council of the fascist party Friday for putting to death not only future assassins of the Premier but of the three men, Zaniboni, Capello and Lucetti, now under arrest in connection with past attempts to assassinate Il Duce.

Cotton Mill Wages of Women Slump While Men's Increase

Raleigh Times. The highest average daily wage paid women cotton mill employees in North Carolina has decreased in the past two years, but the highest average wage for men has risen, according to figures furnished The Raleigh Times Saturday.

Figures show that in the two-year period ending June 30, 1924, that the highest average daily wage paid women cotton mill employees was $3.25. But for the two-year period ending June 30, 1926, this average fell to $3.08.

Over the same period the highest average daily wage paid men employees jumped from $5.20 to $5.71. These averages are obtained from figures from 340 cotton mills out of a total of 406 in the state. They show increases in the lowest average wages paid both men and women. In the two-year period ending June 30, 1924, the lowest average daily wage paid women employees was $1.30. In the period ending June 30, 1926, this lowest average wage jumped to $1.88. Lowest daily wages for men over the same period jumped from an average of $2.00 to an average of $2.12.

Gaston county with 1,116,700 spindles in place led the state in cotton spinning activities during the two-year period. Eighty-eight mills were in operation in this county.

Figures furnished The Raleigh Times show a total of 83,518 persons employed in 340 cotton mills in the state. As there are 406 mills in the state the total number of cotton mill employees is probably several thousand in excess of 100,000.

Of those reported employed 49,792 were men; 30,582 women, and 3,144 children.

JOHNSTON DEMOCRATIC BY THOUSAND MAJORITY

Sampson, Republican Stronghold, Reported Slumped to 200 Democratic. Special to Greensboro News.

Raleigh, Oct. 2.—North Carolina's disinterested Democracy encouraged non-combatant Republicanism today and when counting halted at midnight it appeared that an 80,000 majority would be safe guessing.

Reports necessarily are subject to many amendments, but in few places were any visible signs of Republican life. The fact that Sampson with normal Republican majority of 4,000 slumped to a couple hundred Democratic is merely symptomatic. The Republicans simply did not vote.

In Wake county there are 7,000 or 8,000 Republican voters. The county can poll 15,000 Democratic in a pinch but Wake cast about 5,000 votes today and at midnight less than 500 Republicans had gone to the polls. In Raleigh only 132 Republicans were counted. Old Shaw university precinct, with normal Republican majority, voted today 206 Democrats and 74 Republicans. This was the spectacular turnover of the day. Manifestly the negroes voted Democratic.

But there were surprises in spots. McDowell with its Ambassador Will Neal seems at last to have gone back on him. Stany county, which early in the evening had slumped Republicanward, was hesitant to say at midnight how it had voted. Johnston, the furious battleground of the state, returned to the Democrats with a thousand surplus. Washington, which had a fusion of independents and Republicans, stood the storm and elected the whole ticket. Person, which is anybody's land, was strongly Democratic. Harnett, which threatened to deprive Nat Townsend of his chance at the speakership, rolled up 500.

Carteret, which goes both ways, overwhelmed the Republicans. Transylvania came the whole distance tonight and turned a Democrat to the lower house. It very much appears that the Republicans have not taken a county in the east.

And the east did not vote much. Counties good for 2,000 Democratic majority voted barely more than half that in both parties. Chairman Dawson, who never claims anything heavily, was more than satisfied. He never believed a hundred thousand majority possible because he saw no popular vote big enough to get it. When shown Chairman Jackson's statement that the Republicans had cut the Democratic vote 25,000, Mr. Dawson said that probably was true, but he feared that less than 30 per cent. of the voting strength registered itself at the polls today.

Cyanite Is Worthless, Says the United States Bureau of Mines

By Jonathan Daniels in Winston-Salem Journal. Washington, Oct. 29.—There isn't any price for cyanite, officials of the United States Bureau of Mines declared today in commenting on a report to the effect that a deposit of cyanite worth millions of dollars had been discovered near Burnsville by J. A. Pollard.

The report to the effect that the deposit was worth approximately one billion dollars caused some amusement at the bureau here. "There is only one true thing about that news story," Frank L. Hess, geologist of the bureau, said in commenting on a press report about the deposit, "and that is the statement that cyanite is an aluminum silicate."

"There is an abundant supply of cyanite for all present uses," he said, "and we have tried to develop some market for it. It has been used in the manufacture of spark plugs and we have developed a brick made of cyanite. There is one firm in Virginia that has spent $20,000 in developing a cyanite deposit. That firm will give away all the cyanite any one will use in an effort to develop a market for the metal."

The official showed samples of the cyanite from various sections of the county all of which he said are valueless because there is no market. According to reports here, Mr. Pollard, he is President of the Yan-cey County Chamber of Commerce, stated that Jasper A. Stuckey, State Geologist, had examined the deposit and stated that the deposit "represents potential wealth of millions." It was also stated that Wade Phillips, Director of the Bureau of Conservation and Development, was expected to make a report on the deposit as soon as he returns from Lexington.

A news dispatch from North Carolina concerning the deposit, which was shown officials of the Bureau of Mines, stated: "Pollard said three mountains standing in plain view of Burnsville contain more than 10,000,000 tons of cyanite, a rare metal of the aluminum silicates that because of its tremendous resistance to heat is used in making crucibles for the manufacture of steel and in the ceramic industry. "Heretofore the rareness of the metal and the difficulty of its extraction has made the price high. According to Pollard, a ton of pure cyanite is now quoted about $100. "Pollard said he had interested Asheville capitalists in the deposit with the assistance of Edith Truitt, newspaper woman and part owner, and that the purchase was completed yesterday. "Pollard's announcement threw the neighborhood into much excitement. People in every sort of vehicle are pouring into Burnsville and scrambling over the hillsides in the hope of staking out claims."

MRS. JANE GIBSON UNDER GUARD; ONE WITNESS IS GONE

The Prosecution Is Taking No Chances With Star Witness in the Hall-Mills Murder Case.

MINISTER LEAVES HIS HOME TOWN

Rev. Paul Hamborsky, Who Is Said to Have Heard Threat Against Minister, Is in Florida.

Somerville, N. J., Nov. 2.—(AP)—The state's chief witness for the trial of the Hall-Mills murder case, which opens tomorrow, was under heavy guard today. Another witness had disappeared.

Mrs. Jane Gibson at first was reported yesterday to have disappeared but Inspector John Underwood, chief assistant to Special Prosecutor Alexander Simpson in investigating the case, explained that she was removed from her home and placed under guard.

Mrs. Gibson, known as the "pig woman," has said that on the night of the murder four years ago she was riding her hules in search of corn fields, and witnessed the crime. She declares that she recognized as the slayers Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, the clergyman's widow; Henry and Willie Stevens, brothers of Mrs. Hall, who go on trial with her tomorrow for the murder of Mrs. Mills, and Henry de la Bruyere Carpenter, a cousin of Mrs. Hall. The witness who vanished is the Rev. Paul Hamborsky, who is said to be in Florida. He informed the prosecutor that the Rev. Mr. Hall told him a few days before the murder: "Henry Stevens has threatened my life."

Dr. Otto R. Schultze, of the New York district attorney's office, who performed autopsies on the bodies recently, has found that is no foundation for rumors that Mrs. Mills' tongue was cut out.

NEGRO ARRESTED BUT DOESN'T KNOW MUCH

Boy Found in Carload of Automobiles. When They Were Unloaded, Appears Feeble Minded.

A negro youth, about 18 or 19 years old, was arrested Tuesday when found in a freight car at the Southern freight depot. He appears to be feeble minded and couldn't tell the officers much about himself.

The negro said his name is Jim Saws, or Sawyer or Sawee. No one who heard him being questioned by officers could tell just what name he did give. He does not know how to spell his name and is uncertain about his age.

When a freight car filled with autos was opened this morning the negro was found in the car. He told officers he boarded the car "somewhere down in Virginia" but did not know where. He had been without food for several days as the car was sealed shut and he had no way to get out. He was thinly clad and seemed glad to feel the warmth from the stove in police headquarters.

In his conversation with officers the negro talked about being in a penitentiary. However, he did not know what prison it was and could not tell anything about the work he did there. He said he didn't know anything about chain gangs.

Apparently convinced that the negro is feeble minded, officers lodged him in the county jail until further investigation of his case can be made.

CABARRUS COWS BEING EXAMINED BY EXPERTS

Dr. N. B. Tyler and Dr. B. L. Dawson Spending Month in Cabarrus County. Two cattle experts are in Cabarrus county now examining dairy cattle. One is Dr. N. B. Tyler, of the State agricultural department, and the other is Dr. B. L. Dawson, of the federal department of agriculture.

Several years ago all dairy cattle in the county were tested for tuberculosis and those cows found to be infected were slaughtered. While here the two experts will examine all herds which were examined before to determine what percentage of the cows have developed the disease since the first tests were made.

While in the county the experts also plan to examine other herds, especially those herds residing in the same locality with herds examined during the first tests.

It is estimated that at least 30 days will be needed for this work, as herds in all parts of the county are to be tested.

Republicans Seats Are Won By Democrats and Others Are Doubtful

In New York, Massachusetts and Oklahoma 3 Republican Senators Were Defeated on Tuesday.

FOUR CONTESTS TO BE DECIDED YET

If Democrats Split Even in Them Control of Next Senate Will Pass From the Republicans.

New York, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Once again working control of Congress may pass into the hands of the republican insurgents from the western states.

Slowly mounting returns from yesterday's general election foreshadow the return of the insurgent group to power in the Senate, and indicate a reduction of the republican majority in the House of Representatives.

The Senate insurgents had their ranks augmented by Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa, and John W. Blaine, of Wisconsin, while the democrats unhorsed three republican stalwarts—Wadsworth in New York, Butler in Massachusetts, and Harrell in Oklahoma—thus reducing the republican majority to six.

In addition, the Democrats threaten to capture republican seats from Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri and Arizona, and believe they still have a chance of victory in Indiana and Oregon.

With more than 3-4 of the seats in the House accounted for, the Democrats have made a net gain of six, or thirty less than the number necessary to give them control. Should they pick up even half of the missing seats which they hope to take from the republicans, the insurgents would be placed in a commanding position.

Several of the Senate contests furnished surprises in the pluralities by which some of the republican senators went down to defeat.

William M. Butler, chairman of the republican national committee who has served two years by appointment as the successor of the late Henry Cabot Lodge, was snuffed under in Massachusetts by former Senator David I. Walsh, by a plurality exceeding 40,000.

President Coolidge in an effort to bring about the election of his friend and political counselor, had thrown his influence behind the Butler candidacy. The President even journeyed from Washington to Northampton to personally cast his vote.

After nearly twelve years of service in the Senate, James W. Wadsworth, Jr., was caught in a democratic tidal wave in New York which again swept Alfred E. Smith into the governorship, and sends Robert F. Wagner, former jurist, to the new senate.

Prohibition figured largely in this contest, with the anti-saloon league placing in the field against Wadsworth, Francis W. Christman, an independent republican, who polled more than 200,000 votes, although Wadsworth was a wet the democrats charged him with a turning a flip-flop on the wet and dry question.

In the Southwest the Democrats of Oklahoma recaptured a senate seat lost in the Harding landslide of 1920, and as a result Elmer Thomas, now a member of the House, will succeed to the place now occupied by John V. Harrell.

William S. Vare, of Pennsylvania, and Frank L. Smith, in Illinois, were returned winners by the republicans of their states, although Democratic senators have served notice that their right to seats will be challenged because of revelations of huge expenditures in the primary campaigns.

Vare defeated Wm. B. Wilson, secretary of labor in the Wilson administration, but ran far behind his ticket; while Smith won out over George E. Brennan, democratic national committee man from Illinois, although his plurality was considerably below that usually received by republican candidates in his state.

Several Democratic senators have announced that when Vare and Smith present their credentials in December, 1927, their rights to seats would be brought into question. A two-thirds vote of the Senate would be necessary to expel them.

Close races are furnished in the Senatorial races in Indiana, where James E. Watson and Arthur H. Robinson are seeking re-election, and where there were charges of Ku Klux Klan domination of republican politics. Watson and Robinson were leading in the latest returns early today, but the senior senator, a real war horse of the G. O. P., is locked in one of the closest races of his long political career.

Still another democratic congressman, Carl Hayden, had a lead for a senate seat in a contest with Senator Ralph E. Cameron in Arizona, where a last minute investigation of campaign expenditures was conducted by a Senate campaign funds committee.

The republicans emerged victorious in one of the major senatorial contests, that in Ohio, where Arthur E. Borah was unsuccessful in his effort to return to the senate seat now held by Frank B. Willis.

Besides scoring this victory, the republicans had difficulty in electing Chas. Curtis of Kansas to senate floor leader; Geo. H. Moses, of New Hampshire, president pro-tempore, and Reed Smoot of Utah, chairman of the powerful finance committee.

STANLY IS DEMOCRATIC. SAYS ALBEMARLE REPORT. All Democratic Candidates Elected by Majorities Ranging From 300 to 400. Stanly is still Democratic. Reports sent out from Albemarle early Tuesday indicated that the Republican candidates had been elected by about 200, but reports this morning show that the entire Democratic ticket was elected.

In a telephone conversation with an Albemarle man this morning a representative of The Tribune learned that the Democratic majorities in the county will range from 300 to 400. Mr. Little, the Democratic candidate for clerk of court, polled the largest vote, it was stated, his majority being 377. Up to noon Tuesday, the Albemarle man said, the Republicans were leading but during the afternoon the Democrats began voting with the result that what appeared at first to be a Republican victory proved to be a Democratic success. Ireddell, Rowan and Mecklenburg counties polled the usual heavy Democratic vote. Y. M. C. A. NOTES. Hi Y and Hi G Clubs to Be Entertained—Basket Ball Practice Starts. Members of the Senior Hi G and Senior Hi Y clubs have been invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom White, near Rocky River, for a "possum hunt and supper Friday night. The same night Secretary Blanks will take members of the Sunday Gang on a "possum hunt. The boys will go about nine miles in the country and after catching their "possums will cook them on a campfire. A large number of employed and married women were present for their gym class at the Y Thursday night. The class meets each Tuesday and Thursday night. Mrs. H. S. Williams addressed the Junior Hi G girls Tuesday night and at the same time W. G. Caswell was speaking to the Senior Hi Y boys. All persons who expect to try for places on the Y basketball team are asked to meet Secretary Denny at the Y Friday night at 7:30. NEGRO STILL IN JAIL; DETECTIVE ON CASE. Officers Doubt Whether Negro Can Be Able to Direct Officers So as to Find Relatives. The negro Jim, arrested here Tuesday morning when found in a freight car at the Southern freight depot, is still in the county jail. Convinced that the negro is feeble minded officers are uncertain now as to his fate. Railroad detectives have been called on the case, it is said, and they will make an effort to locate relatives of the negro, who says he is about 17 or 18 years old. In conversations so far Jim has not been able to give any definite information about himself and for this reason officers may not be able to locate his home folks. The negro talks about coming from "down in Virginia" but he does not know the name of the town he started from. If it is established that the negro is feeble minded he may be sent home if his home can be learned. Otherwise an effort may be made to enter him in some institution where he can be cared for. Legionnaires Urged to Attend Meeting. Every member of the Fred Y. McConnell post of the American Legion is urged to attend the meeting to be held Friday night at the club rooms on Barbrik street. New officers chosen at the last meeting are to be installed at the meeting and they are anxious to have every member present so plans for the coming year can be discussed. The meeting is scheduled to begin at 7:45. C. L. Bunn, B. B. Howard T. S. Carson and D. T. Hunter are spending the day in Greenville, S. C., attending the Southern Textile Exposition.
