PERSONAL

Rev. and Mrs. Roy T. Troutman, of Charlotte, and Mrs. John A. Cline, of Concord, left this morning for Salem, Virginia, where they will attend the dedication Tuesday of the new Lutheran orphanage.

The Greensboro News of November 7th carried a portrait of Mrs. Robert Dick, Jr., of this city, with the following underneath: "Mrs. Robert Dick, Jr., who before her marriage was Miss Blanche Honeycutt, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Honeycutt, of Concord. She is one of Concord's most beautiful and popular girls. Her wedding which occurred April 17, was just recently announced and came as a surprise to her many friends."

Edwin Chappell, of High Point, was the guest Sunday of Wesley Walker.

Miss Maxine Johnson had as her guest for the week-end Miss Ruth Boyles, of Thomasville.

Miss Mary Austin, of Charlotte, was the week-end guest of Miss Virginia Bailey.

Dewey Sappenfield, who is connected with the State board of health, spent the week-end in Concord with his mother, Mrs. A. L. Sappenfield. He left this morning for Rockingham, where he will spend two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Minter, of Charlotte, spent Sunday in Concord with relatives.

Revs. R. M. Courtney and T. F. Higgins will leave early tomorrow morning for Durham to attend the exercises of the opening of the School of Religion of Duke University. They will remain over for the first session of the North Carolina Methodist Conference, which opens at Durham Wednesday morning.

Judge and Mrs. John M. Oglesby left this morning for Winston-Salem, where Judge Oglesby will preside over sessions of Forsyth County Superior Court for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Davis and children spent Sunday in Mocksville with relatives and friends.

J. K. Johnson, of Mt. Gilred, spent Sunday in the city with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Sherrill and Mrs. Ralph Gilbert, of Greensboro, were the guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Sherrill.

Leonard Ritchie spent the week-end in Hendersonville and Asheville.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Boykins and daughter spent Sunday in Salisbury with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McCrary, Miss Mary McCrary, Cyrus McCrary and Frank Brown, of Lexington, visited relatives in the city Sunday.

B. A. Miller left Saturday for Blacksburg, Va., where he will visit his father, Rev. J. A. L. Miller.

Mrs. J. P. Fisher is visiting her sister, Mrs. Arthur Bunn at Glass.

Miss Nola Barrier returned today to North Carolina College for Women, after spending the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Mamie Barrier.

B. J. Delp, of Commer Rock, Va., son-in-law of Mrs. R. H. Patterson, has entered the Baltimore Hospital, where he will undergo treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Baiford, Mrs. Parks Lafferty, Mrs. W. A. Foil, and Misses Adelaide Foil and Kathryn Carpenter spent Sunday afternoon in Albemarle.

Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Allison and children, of New London, were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Burrage.

Miss Grace Forrest spent the week-end in Wadesboro with Mr. and Mrs. Dan Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Leffer visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Eudy, in Hamlet Sunday.

Mrs. Fuman Ward left Saturday for La Grange, where she and Mr. Ward will make their future home. Mr. Ward expects to join her there the latter part of the week.

Caldwell Propst, of Sumter, S. C., spent the week-end with his mother, Mrs. W. F. Propst.

Mrs. W. H. Gibson is visiting relatives in Washington, D. C. She plans to go to Baltimore, Md., for a visit also, before returning home.

Among those attending the Lenoir-Rhyne-State football game in Raleigh on Saturday were Misses Ruth and Sudie May Dry and S. W. Rhyne, of Charlotte.

Don't fail to hear Richard Thomas Wyché, the famous story teller, and lecturer at the high school auditorium tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Sedberry and Mrs. Eugene Morgan are spending the day in Charlotte. Mr. and Mrs. Sedberry are taking their son, Henry Cobb, to the Charlotte Sanatorium, where he will undergo treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Quatterbaum, Mrs. Sallie Beaver, Misses Irene and Ellen Marie Sears spent the week-end in Batesburg, S. C.

"I am told you play golf on the Sabbath," said the Rev. Mr. Goodman sternly.

"Yes," admitted Miss Kute, "but on that day I only use the sticks I won at our church fair."

Young Married Couples Guests of Honor.

Misses Anna and Virginia Smoot entertained Saturday evening at their home on Grove street, honoring Rev. and Mrs. R. S. Arrowood and Mr. and Mrs. R. Ben White, Mr. and Mrs. S. Kay Patterson and Mr. and Mrs. Getty Guille.

Two contests causing much merriment were a flower wedding, and composing poetry about the guests. The first contest prize was won by Mr. and Mrs. Ben White, while the second was presented to Mr. and Mrs. E. F. White, Jr.

Delightful music was rendered during the evening by Mrs. Leslie Correll and S. K. Patterson and the college songs by the men were especially enjoyed.

Delicious refreshments consisting of a salad course, with accessories, were served by the hostesses, assisted by Misses Elizabeth Black, Rebecca Day-vault and Ruby Creighton.

The front rooms of the Smoot home were thrown together, and masses of chrysanthemums were attractively arranged throughout.

The guests present besides the honorees were: Mr. and Mrs. Bagwell Goode, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. White, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Ridenhour, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Correll, Misses Julia Arrowood, Miss Grace Laurence, of Salisbury, Elizabeth Black, Rebecca Day-vault and Ruby Creighton.

A Surprise Birthday Dinner.

On Saturday, October 30th, Miss Virginia Goodnight gave a surprise birthday dinner in honor of her mother. It was a beautiful autumn day. The home was very attractively arranged with ferns and potted plants. A well filled table was spread on the lawn and soon 53 guests were assembled around it.

J. F. Steele returned thanks, after which dinner was served.

The following persons were present: Mr. and Mrs. Victor Heglar, of near Concordia Church, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Archer, of Coddle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sloop, of near Harrisburg, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beaver, Mr. and Mrs. William Rumpel, Mr. and Mrs. Frank VanPelt, Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Beaver, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Steele, Mr. and Mrs. Houston Goodnight, Mr. and Mrs. John Steele, of near Kannapolis, Charlie Jay and Ray Brumley, of Kannapolis, Charlie and Clayton Sloop, of Concord, William and Victor Goodnight, of near Gilwood, John and Clarence VanPelt, O'Neil Steele, Howard Hagler, Ernest Denney and Earl Rumpel, Lawrence and Rayneil Smith, Presley and Ray Beaver, Misses Ruth Hartsell, Crealie Steele, Nina VanPelt, Estelle Taylor, Minnie, Nellie, Grace and Helen Sloop, Virginia Goodnight, Thelma and Helen Hartsell, and Zola Steele.

Children of Confederacy Meeting.

The John Phifer Young Chapter of the Children of the Confederacy held its regular monthly meeting Saturday afternoon with James Gibson and Cameron Moore, Jr., as hosts at the home of their grandmother, Mrs. J. C. Gibson. Twenty members reported to roll call with the names of Confederate Generals. The meeting was opened with the creed.

The minutes of the October meeting were read by the secretary, Miss Claudia Moore. Two new names were reported.

The treasurer, Billy Linker, reported that he had sent $6.00 to the memorial arch at Fayetteville. This arch, at the entrance of the Old Ladies' Home, has been paid for by the children of the State as a memorial to the widows of Confederate veterans.

Mrs. Richmond, leader of the chapter, reported a large Confederate flag had been ordered and received. It is to be presented to the chapter at the next meeting.

A most delightful and entertaining program was enjoyed. Miss Mary Frances Barnhardt gave in a charming manner a recitation, "Susie, What Is Ice?" The chapter was delighted to have with them Mrs. John P. Allison, who organized the chapter twenty-six years ago, and who told them something of the life of John Phifer Young, for whom the chapter is named. She also told of the battle at Salisbury, her home town.

Delicious cream and cake were then enjoyed, after which the chapter adjourned to meet in December with Miss Minnie Hill Davis, the president.

Miss Propst's Condition Remains Unchanged.

Very little change is reported in the condition of Miss Julia Propst, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident last Thursday.

Reports from the Raleigh Hospital state that she has not fully recovered consciousness.

War Mothers Meeting.

The local chapter of American War Mothers will meet in regular session Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. J. C. Fink. Hostesses with Mrs. Fink are Mrs. Dan Jensen-hour and Mrs. Joe Young.

Julia Magruder Book Club to Begin Winter Program.

BOOK WEEK OBSERVED IN OUR CITY SCHOOLS

The following paragraphs won first prize in the recent contest conducted in our grammar grades. The prizes offered to the children are good books. The following committee acted as judges in the contest: Miss Ruth Blackwelder, chairman, Miss Elizabeth Woodhouse, and Mrs. R. S. Arrowood.

The Book I Like Best.

The best book I like best is the Bible. Many different men wrote the Bible. The Bible is our instructor. The old Testament is a prophecy of Jesus. The new Testament tells us of the fulfillment of this prophecy. It also tells of the second coming of Christ. I like the Bible because it is the teachings of Christ.

The Book I Like Best and Why.

The best book I like ever read is "A Little Maid of Ticonderoga," by Alice Turner Curtis. Faith Carew was a brave little girl who lived with her Aunt Priscilla at Ticonderoga, and went to school. Her parents had an old Indian woman to go with her. Faith learned many things while there. She learned all about the fort. She helped to capture Fort Ticonderoga by telling the general how to reach it. One reason I like it best was because we had just finished studying the American Revolution.

The Book I Like Best and Why.

The book that I like best is "Peter Pan and Wendy." It seems so perfectly thrilling and daring that even the old people are interested. It seems to be quite a childish story, but old folks like it too. When Peter came for Wendy and they flew around the room, it seems almost impossible, but yet it is quite true.

If you have read the story don't you wish that you could be like Peter Pan and Wendy? Sometimes Fairy Tinkles Bell showed kindness then again she didn't. Peter's little bunch of boys were forever grateful unto him. I like this story because it shows how one can behave and do kindness unto their mother.

The Book I Like Best and Why.

The book I like best is "Little Women," which was written by Louisa M. May. I like it because it tells of four girls and their adventures, and their troubles, their good times and their sacrifices. It tells of their good manners; the character of each; how one was sweet and good; another was rough; while another had a hot temper; and another was the mother of the household.

Little Mary had been sent to the shop to get some sticky fly-paper. She was a long time returning, and her mother began to feel a bit anxious.

Going to the door, she spied the little girl coming up the street, and said, "Mary have you got the fly-paper?"

"No mother," cried Mary, "it's got me; but we're both coming together."

Henry Der Yen Case Dismissed.

Winston-Salem Journal.

Henry Der Yen, charged with malicious injury to property of Henry Der Lok, a fellow countryman, was acquitted of the charge Friday morning in Municipal Court after an interpreter told Judge Tom Watson what had been said on the witness stand by Chinese laundrymen of the city who were witnesses in the case.

The chief evidence was a letter, written in Chinese, purporting to contain a paragraph in which Yen is said to have offered $250 to Lok to squish the case. The interpreter said there was no reference in the letter to the offering of "hush money" by Yen.

Yen was charged with pouring acid on clothes in Lok's laundry on North Trade Street, but there was no evidence offered to show that Yen had put acid on the clothes.

A peculiar incident was enacted when Paul Bodenheimer was called upon to administer the oath of an interpreter. He said he did not know the oath for there had never been an occasion heretofore where an interpreter was needed in court. The interpreter was called in from Greensboro.

Henry Der Yen formerly ran a laundry at Concord.—(Editor).

Informal Dinner Party.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Pounds entertained at an informal dinner party Sunday evening at the Hotel Concord.

A lovely blue crystal bowl filled with pom-pom chrysanthemums marked the center of the beautifully appointed table.

A delightful course dinner was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Pounds' guests were: Miss Cora Lee Buchanan, and Mrs. Nora Morris, Miss Maxine Morris and Douglass Briggs, of Albemarle.

Laura Harris Circle Meets Tonight.

The Laura Harris Circle will meet this evening at 7:30 with Mrs. Ernest Hicks and Miss Cora Lee Buchanan, at the home of the former.

Tripling Disaster Costs Many Lives.

Manila, Nov. 7.—A typhoon, a tidal wave and a flood in widely separated areas have combined in a joint visitation of the Philippine islands leaving in their wake deaths believed in excess of 300 and heavy property damage.

The typhoon struck from the direction of the island and province of Samar, breaking disastrously over Batangas province, damaging many towns. At Bauan, a tidal wave which engulfed it caused a hundred deaths. In this one province it is believed the death toll will reach 200.

DR. NORRIS IS DENIED USE OF AUDITORIUM

Fort Worth Pastor Had Planned to Run in Opposition to the Baptist State Convention.

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 7.—The Rev. J. Frank Norris, Baptist pastor, today was denied use of the municipal auditorium where he had planned to preach tonight while the building was being used in the daytime by the Texas Baptist convention, from which he has been excluded.

Mayor John W. Tobin cancelled Dr. Norris' reservation of the building because of threats to take the convention to some other city if the pastor were allowed to use the building. The annual Baptist convention is to be held in the auditorium from November 17 to November 21.

Dr. Norris' reservation of a charge of murdering Dexter E. Chipps, of Fort Worth, is scheduled for January 10; in Austin, has been excluded with his messengers from the state Baptist convention for several years.

Butler Defeated in Massachusetts Race.

Boston, Nov. 2.—Senator William M. Butler late tonight conceded the election of David I. Walsh, democrat, to succeed him in the United States senate.

Senator Butler issued the following statement:

"It is apparent that my opponent has been elected. I have enjoyed my two years in the senate very much and am very grateful to all those who helped me in the campaign."
