BENTLEY-UTLEY Concord Couple United in Beautiful Ceremony. Beautiful in its simplicity was the wedding of Miss Nell Dewey Utley and Raymond Z. Bentley, which was solemnized in McKinnon Presbyterian church Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. A towering screen of ferns, ivy and white chrysanthemums artistically arranged with tall white candelabra holding lighted cathedral candles, framed a lovely setting for the bridal party. Prior to the ceremony Mrs. Carl Moore sang in charming voice "O Promise Me" with accompaniment by Mrs. Dallas Talbirt, who rendered the wedding music. Mrs. Moore wore peach coloredorgette over satin and Mrs. Talbirt wore rose chamoise combined withorgette. Both wore shoulder corsages. Promptly at 8 o'clock the first notes of Lohengrin's wedding march announced the arrival of the bridal party. The ushers were: Reuben Utley, a brother of the bride, Guy Johnson, C. Henry and John McInnis, of Davidson College. The groomsmen were Robert Solomon, Jr., and Roy Sapp. Misses Annie Belle Stone and Clarence Troutman were bridesmaids. The bridesmaids' dresses were made of bouffant of yellow taffeta with a side transparent hem of yellow marie, a pom-pom of the same yellow marie was worn on the left shoulder of each maid's dress. They wore ivory slippers and hose and carried bouquets of yellow Turner chrysanthemums. Miss Mary McInnis was maid of honor. Miss McInnis wore a frock similar to those of the bridesmaids, but gold slippers and hose, and carried an armful of yellow Turner chrysanthemums tied with gold ribbons. The bride, who came in stone was daintily beautiful in her wedding gown of rich duchesse satin, trimmed with a real lace and rhinestones, with a long court train. Her bouquet was Mrs. C. S. Rogers' shawder with valley lilies. The full tulle veil was worn in fashion and held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms. The bride was met at the altar by the groom, who was attended by Brice Rogers, as best man. The impressive ring ceremony of the Presbyterian church was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. R. S. Arwood. As the bridal couple knelt for the benediction, Mrs. Carl Moore sang softly "Seal Us, O Holy Spirit." The bride and groom left the church in the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March. Mrs. Bentley is a daughter of Mr. H. T. Utley, a strikingly beautiful brunette, with a charming personality and a lovely character. She is a gifted musician, has been organist of the McKinnon Presbyterian church.

Mr. Bentley is the son of A. P. Bentley and the late Mrs. Bentley, of Kannapolis. For the past few years Mr. Bentley has made his home in Concord holding a responsible position with the F. M. Youngblood Wholesale Company. His young man of pleasing appearance with fine business ability. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Bentley left for a short bridal tour in their car. Mrs. Bentley wore a becoming fur of ash of roses georgette, fur trimmed, a grey cloth coat trimmed in squirrel, with harmonizing accessories. On their return to Concord Mr. and Mrs. Bentley will occupy their handsome bungalow on Meadow street, which has just recently been completed. Since the announcement of her engagement Mrs. Bentley has been accorded numerous social favors. Mrs. Jack Utley entertained with a most delicious shower, Mrs. John McInnis and Mrs. Ed. Misenheimer jointly entertained at the home of Mrs. McInnis, with a miscellaneous shower. Misses Minnie Trull and Mamie Allred gave a kitchen shower at the home of Miss Allred. Mrs. L. C. Barringer, Mrs. Leighton Brown and Mrs. Eugene Morgan were joint hostesses at a miscellaneous shower, Mrs. M. A. Morris and Mrs. Fred Cook entertained with a kitchen shower and a buffet luncheon at the home of Mrs. Morris. Miss Annie Belle Stone gave a pantry shower, Mrs. Misses Helen, Lora and Fay Troutman gave a miscellaneous shower, Miss Grace Miller gave a buffet supper and handkerchief shower, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Crooks and Rev. and Mrs. R. S. Arwood each gave a lovely party and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Henry entertained the bridal party at a buffet supper Tuesday night following the rehearsal at the church. Out-of-town guests here for the wedding were: Mrs. Ida Dennis, of Henderson, John McInnis, of Davidson College, Mrs. R. J. Ballard, Miss Elizabeth Coble and L. O. Wolfe, of Bessemer City, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Coble, and little Miss Nancy Coble, of Shelby, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Swing, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Goldston, Mrs. J. L. Moore and daughter, Miss Mary Moore, A. P. Bentley, father of the groom, Mrs. Maude Fink, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bentley and family, Mr. and Mrs. Zeno Blackwelder and family and Mr. Carl Bentley and family, of Kannapolis, Booner Bentley, of Veil, N. C. and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bentley and family, of Charlotte. "Xmas" Taboo. The abbreviation "Xmas" is taboo in all advertising and placard merchandising by the Raleigh Merchants' Association and members have been requested not to use this abbreviation for Christmas during the approaching holiday season. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Glass and children spent Thursday in Maxton with Mr. and Mrs. George Hall.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE ATTENDED BY MANY Rev. R. M. Courtney Preached and Urged His Hearers to Give Thanks Unto the Giver of Gifts. While many spent Thanksgiving quietly at home with their families and a large number went to neighboring cities to witness football games, and still others tramped across the fields with gun and dogs hunting, there was a large number that attended the union Thanksgiving service in the morning at Trinity Reformed Church, to give thanks unto Him for the blessings of life. The church building was crowded to capacity for the Thanksgiving service at which Rev. R. M. Courtney, of Central Methodist Church, preached. After the scripture reading by Rev. C. H. Trueblood, there was a prayer by Rev. J. C. Rowan, which was followed by a vocal solo by Mrs. J. B. Womble accompanied by Miss Addie Barrier at the piano. "God is the giver of all these things you enjoy. Every gift comes from above," said Rev. Mr. Courtney at the start of the sermon. He then made the statements that there were three elements in Thanksgiving: first, the blessings that we receive; second, the joy that we get out of our blessings, the enrichment of our lives we get from our blessings and from using them properly; and third, the Giver. God, the Giver of every good and perfect gift. "Men are often so occupied with their blessings that they fail to look up to the Giver of the blessings. We receive our gifts, our rich blessings, and then often fail to go into the presence of God from whence the gift came and give Him thanks. "If we can come into the realization that all we have comes from Him," said Mr. Courtney, "and, if realizing it, makes us come closer to Him, then this Thanksgiving Day will be a memorial one for us." The minister then spoke of the Giver of gifts, and he said, "This Giver who gives us our gifts is, first, a merciful God. And too, this God, this Giver, is an infinitely good God. He is infinite in power; infinite in resources; and he is of infinite wisdom. Though we may not understand some of the things that have been done unto us during the past year we know he is of infinite wisdom and does not make a mistake." Rev. Mr. Courtney concluded by saying "Praise God, this Giver of the gifts, is a God of infinite goodness. Say with the Psalmist 'Oh, give thanks unto the Lord, for His mercy endureth forever.'" The services were concluded by a prayer by Rev. R. M. Gibson, and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. R. M. Courtney. Rain held off for Thanksgiving Day until in the late in the afternoon. There were light showers here during the night with a fog this morning that completely enveloped everything. Rising temperatures indicate the "falling" weather will continue.

FIRE AT CROSSMORE Concord Mothers Are Asked to Send Some Baby Clothes for Mrs. Burleson's Little Ones. Special to The Concord Daily Tribune. Crossmore, Nov. 23.—Last night as the teachers of Crossmore were sitting down to a good supper, someone looked out the window and said: "There is a fire." With one accord the teachers rushed for the front door. Fire in Crossmore means one of two things: someone is losing a home or else someone needs help to fight a forest fire, and the people of the mountains are people who help. In a few minutes cars were on the road and Crossmore's truck was in the line and carried every piece of her furniture out of the house, except the beds. These she could not manage. She then took one child and laid it on the ground and turned a box over it on the "little one she took in her arms and ran a quarter of a mile for help. The neighbors came and put out the fire, or thought they did so, and took Mrs. Burleson back home with them, tired and nervous to stand the strain until Mr. Burleson got home. Then it was that that small spark caught up and, at 6 o'clock we saw the flame. Concord mothers with little babies; Mrs. Burleson needs some baby clothes. Not a thing did they save, but the dog (That delighted me, because they said that the dog was tied under the house and howling for help when the first men reached the house, and it would hurt me to lose my dog when I had tied him where he couldn't save himself.) If the mothers who read this will deliver baby clothes to my sister's home (Mrs. E. L. Morrison, 63 Grove street), they will be sent to me and I will give them to Mrs. Burleson. She doesn't know that this will happen, but come on and let's help Mrs. Burleson. JEAN EMILY MAXWELL. Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Klutz, Mr. and Mrs. James Sappenfield, Mrs. A. L. Sappenfield, Miss Annie Grace Sappenfield, Roy Dewey, L. C. and O. L. Sappenfield attended the Davidson-Duke football game in Durham Thursday.

KING'S DAUGHTERS IN DRIVE FOR READY CASH Distribute Envelopes Throughout the City in Annual Drive for Cash to Continue Work. Concord King's Daughters are making their annual drive for ready cash. During the week members of the organization distributed envelopes throughout the city, and envelopes bearing the informing that in them are to be placed cash contributions for the chapter. It is planned to collect the envelopes on November 29th and persons receiving one are asked to have them ready for the collectors on that date. "You would be surprised to know the number of calls for help we receive," stated Mrs. J. P. Cook, local president. "It takes money to carry on this work and we have found the distribution of envelopes a very satisfactory way to get the money. One year we received $300, a very liberal amount, and we hope the total this year will be as large." The King's Daughters maintain a relief committee which is active at all times. It is for the purpose of continuing the splendid work of this committee that the public is asked to contribute to the organization's budget. Persons who wish to contribute and did not receive an envelope are asked to send their donation direct to Mrs. Cook. Pounding for Dr. Pentuff and Family. The members of McGill Street Baptist Church last Monday night provided themselves to be splendid pounders. They piled into the parsonage two by two and three by three, all unaware to Dr. Pentuff and his family, and laid on the dining room table and in the pantry all kinds of staple groceries, and some cash. The pounding would probably amount to $100 or more. It quite overwhelmed the pastor, who retired a month ago, and expects to move out of the parsonage by the time the new pastor comes in or before. CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE COMMENCES THIS WEEK Mrs. A. Jones Yorke, Chairman of the Seal Sale for Cabarrus County, Has Received Seals and Supplies. The nineteenth annual Christmas seal sale will be conducted in this county and throughout the state from Thanksgiving until Christmas. Special attention to the selling of the Tuberculosis Christmas Seals will start in Concord and Cabarrus county December 1st, it was announced today by Mrs. A. Jones Yorke, chairman of the seal sale for Cabarrus county. Samples of the seals have just been received in Concord by Mrs. Yorke. The seal is a four-colored design somewhat similar to the beautiful 1924 seal which was universally conceded to have been the most artistic seal produced up to that time. It is a pose question as which of these two is most attractive. The subject of the seal consists of three old-fashioned minstrels garbed in vivid yellow and rich red, singing and playing Christmas carols. The background is a pleasing blue shaded from a light sky tint to a deep blue, suggesting a clear Christmas dawn. The message of the seal is merely "Merry Christmas." The cross is in the center of the shield. It is the double barred red cross—the familiar emblem that stands for the worldwide movement for the prevention of tuberculosis in which are enrolled the International Union Against Tuberculosis, the National Tuberculosis Association, forty-eight state associations and about 2,000 local associations. This campaign, which has for its emblem the double barred red cross, has resulted in a saving of millions of lives throughout the world and in the United States alone has effected a reduction of the death rate in the past fifteen years from 202 per thousand to 97. This is the great life saving work in which the local association is a participant and the success of the work that the local tuberculosis association does is dependent upon the success of the Christmas Seal sale which they have annually. It is said by those in charge of the seal sale that the quota of seals for the State of North Carolina, which are now being distributed to county and local chairman by the North Carolina Tuberculosis Association, if placed side by side, would make a belt across North Carolina in both directions.
