THIRD TERM FOES FAVOR DR. BUTLER

Lowden, Longworth, Borah, Mellon, Miller Follow in Order, League Head Announces.

Henry Salaud, President of the Anti-Third Term League, which has just been organized in New York City, announced yesterday that Nicholas Murray Butler headed the list of preferences of those who are responding to the league's invitation to help block the renomination of President Coolidge.

Second in line, Mr. Salaud said, was ex-Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois; third, Nicholas Longworth; fourth, William E. Borah; fifth, Andrew W. Mellon, and sixth, former Gov. Nathan L. Miller.

Mr. Salaud said that in view of the Bull Moose tag which has been attached to the new organization he thought it worth while to state "that all the officers of the league are enrolled Republicans who will support Mr. Coolidge for President if he is nominated, though they deprecate such action as unwise and suicidal."

Mr. Salaud continued: "To further show that the organization is more conservative than progressive, I might say that only one officer of the league favors a progressive—Borah; another officer favors Lowden; a third, Nicholas Murray Butler, and a fourth, Nicholas Longworth."

NEW BOOKS ADDED TO THE SHELVES OF CITY LIBRARY

Librarian Announces That Many New Books Have Been Placed on Shelves of Library the Past Month.

A large number of new books have been added to the shelves of the Concord Public Library within the past month, Mrs. Richmond Reed, librarian, announced today.

The majority of the books added to the shelves are novels of romances. There are, however, several detective stories by well known writers of mystery tales which will prove entertaining to those readers who enjoy a mystery-detective story.

The books added include the following: "Spring Tides" by Pinkerton; "The Hole in the Wall" by MacIsaac; "Divots of the House" by Mitchell; "The Interloper" by E. Phillips Oppenheim; "The Brat" by E. J. Rath; "The Green Bay Tree" by Louis Bromfield; "Judge Colt" by Rains; "P. P. C." by Natalie Sumner Lincoln; "Job's Niece" by Grace Livingston Hill; "The Sixth Commandment" by Carolina Wells; "A Certain Crossroad" by Rafael Sabatini; "The Solitary Horseman" by Loring; and "The Sword Lover" by Frederick.

Two Teachers Are Named for City Schools

Prof. A. S. Webb, superintendent of Concord city schools, announced Tuesday that two additional teachers had been elected to teach in the schools of the city next year.

Miss Margaret Pearl Smart has been elected teacher of the seventh grade at Central School in place of Miss Ollie Moore, who did not accept her election. Miss Smart is a graduate of Queens College, Charlotte, and has taken summer school work at Columbia University, New York City. She has had several years experience and comes highly recommended to the local school.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Blackwelder has been elected teacher of the first grade at No. 2 School. Miss Blackwelder was a member of this year's graduating class at Lenoir-Rhyne College. She is now attending summer school at North Carolina College for Women, Greensboro, where she is taking special courses to aid her in her work here.

Lindbergh Lauds Feat of His Fellow Flyers

U. S. Cruiser Memphis—June 6.—When Captain Lindbergh heard that the Bellanca plane Columbia had landed at Eisleben he sent a radio congratulating the Columbia pilot, Clarence D. Chamberlin, and remarked to the correspondents: "It was a very fine piece of work and another feather in the cap of aviators. Feats such as the Columbia's all have a tendency to aid in the development of aviation throughout the world."

J. P. Major, of Charlotte, spent Monday night and Tuesday in Concord.

CROWDS ATTEND LONG-ROWLAND SERVICES HERE

Statesville Minister Is Delivering Strong Messages.—W. W. Rowland Choir Director For Services.

A large congregation went to McKinnon Church Tuesday to hear the sermon by Rev. Mr. Long, of Statesville, and the singing of the visiting choir, from Lincolnton. Many people were turned away from the service, for lack of room. Among the visitors present were friends from Statesville, Lincolnton, Kannapolis, Albemarle and Mt. Pleasant.

The evangelist brought a soul searching message from the 10th chapter of Hebrews, which made a deep impression upon his hearers.

The revival is taking a strong hold upon the community and gives promise of a great blessing. Children are attending the Daily Vacation Bible School in increasing numbers; about 125 were present today. It has been decided to discontinue the morning service, and evening services will begin in the future at 7:45 o'clock.

Walter W. Rowland, who is directing the singing at the services, is obtaining wonderful results from the choir. Mr. Rowland's song leadership is based on real musical intelligence and the best training but also springs from splendid ability native to himself. His control of evangelistic tempo, now recognized and exemplified by Bitti Kofer, the great choir director of Chicago, Ill., with whom Mr. Rowland studied, is practically perfect.

The leader's pleasing personality and enthusiastic directing brings his choirs to their full pitch of ability.

The event Tuesday was one in which a superb choir was splendidly led, and all the anthems were thrilling, especially where the soprano obligato parts added their color and commanding tone.

ONE HOUR PARKING LIMIT STARTS IN CITY FRIDAY A. M.

Signs Will Be Placed in the Zone Where One Hour Limit Is in Effect Beginning June 10th.

A one hour parking limit in the business district will go into effect Friday morning, June 10th. L. A. Talbirt, Chief of Police, announced this morning. The one hour limit will be restricted to one section of the city. The district in which the parking limit will be enforced is between the intersection of Union Street and Depot Street, known as the Square, to the intersection of Union Street and Corbin Street.

"Signs will be put on the post on each side of the street to warn the motorist that the parking limit is for one hour only," Chief Talbirt said. "The district will thus be marked so motorists can see how long they may park," he added.

The one hour parking limit is to be enforced, Chief Talbirt said, in an effort to reduce the congestion of traffic on that section of Union Street. It will also give the motorist, who desires to park his car to go shopping, an opportunity to find a parking place for the time necessary to make his purchases.

CABARRUS COUPLES GET LICENSE FOR MARRIAGE AT YORK

Several Couples From Concord and Kannapolis Are Among Those Who Get License in York, S. C.

About 40 Tar Heel couples secured licenses to wed in York, S. C., during the past seven-day period and included in the list were several from Cabarrus county.

Those from this county reside in Concord or Kannapolis, the total being about evenly divided between the two cities.

Those from this county securing licenses to wed in the South Carolina town were:

Floyd Gardner and Miss Vannie Kennedy, both of Kannapolis.

Joe Trull and Miss Bessie Measner, both of Concord.

Crawford Aldridge and Miss Elsie Hundley, both of Concord.

Hazel Hilton and Miss Opal Fowler, both of Kannapolis.

Johnnie A. Blackwelder and Miss Rachel Roddy, both of Kannapolis.

Wm. A. Sechler and Miss Nina Jones, both of Concord.

Joe Leitaker and Miss Lizzie Blackwelder, both of Concord.

In the list also were David Miller and Miss Kathleen Mackay, both of Landis.

Must Present Claims Against County During Month

All accounts and claims against Cabarrus County must be presented before the end of this month, C. A. Isenhour, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, said today.

An notice published elsewhere in The Tribune today is in part as follows: "On account of the change of the accounting system, effective July 1, 1927, it is imperative that all parties having accounts or claims against the county present them on or before June 30, 1927."

The notice is signed by Mr. Isenhour and John L. Miller, County Accountant.

Commissioners Have Meeting. The regular June meeting of the Board of County Commissioners was held Monday at the office of L. V. Elliott, register of deeds.

SLOT MACHINES AND PUNCH BOARDS MUST GO, AVERS SHERIFF

Sheriff Caldwell Warring Against the Operation of These Gambling and Lottery Machines—Gives Law

Several slot machines were ordered closed, and punchboards consigned to the trash heap by Sheriff R. V. Caldwell, Jr., Monday in Concord, Kannapolis and other parts of Cabarrus county. This was the inaugural step of the current movement to abolish such lottery or gaming devices in the county, held as a violation of the state laws.

"No more punch-boards or slot machines," says the sheriff. "It is in violation of the state laws and this office will do its utmost to enforce the law. Fair warning is given. No cases were preferred against the proprietors where slot machines were closed or punch-boards put out of commission Monday. But a second offense will write a different story."

The sheriff closed a player piano with its slot-machine attachment at the Carolina Filling Station at Kannapolis, and also the "out of order" sign on chewing gum slot machines at Bell's Filling Station, Mt. Pleasant road, and at the store of Walter Baruhardt, on Church street. Punch-boards were ordered abolished at several places of business.

A punishment by fine or imprisonment, in the discretion of the court, is imposed upon conviction of the violation of the Lottery and Gaming laws, as follows:

"Lotteries and gaming, general police regulations—Operation or possession of slot machine. Separate offenses. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to operate, keep in his possession or in the possession of any other person, firm or corporation, for the purpose of being operated, any slot machine that shall not produce for or give to the person who places coin or money, or the representative of either, the same return in market value each and every time such machine is operated by placing money or coin or the representative of either therein. Each time said machine is operated as aforesaid shall constitute a separate offense.

"Punch-boards, ending machines, and other gambling devices. Separate offenses. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to operate or keep in his possession, or the possession of any other person, firm or corporation, for the purpose of being operated, any punch-board, machine for vending merchandise, or other gambling device, by whatsoever name known or called, that shall not produce for or give to the person operating, paying money or other things of value for the privilege of operating, playing or patronizing same, whether through himself or another, the same return in market value each and every time such punch-board, machine for vending merchandise, or other gambling device, by whatsoever name known or called, is operated, played or patronized, by paying money or other thing of value for the privilege thereof. Each time said punch-board, machine for vending merchandise, or other gambling device, is operated, played, or patronized by the paying of money or other things of value therefor, shall constitute a separate violation of this section as to operation thereunder."

SALVAGE WORK AT LUTHERAN CHURCH PROGRESSING FAST

Already Roof and Much of Interior of Manse Have Been Torn Away.—Bell Taken From Tower.

Beginning last Monday morning the demolition of the old church and parsonage of the Saint James Lutheran, workmen have made great progress. Continued rapidly of salvaging the old buildings will find the site for the new church ready within the next three weeks.

Already the roof and much of the interior of the manse have been torn away. The stained glass windows and frames have been removed from the church as well as all of the decorative effects. The bell has been taken from the tower, and will be one of the many things which will be preserved in memory of the old church.

The church furniture, including the organ, has been removed to a warehouse for storage until completion of the new building. It will then be used to furnish certain parts of the large Sunday school quarters.

LINCOLNTON CHOIR PRESENTS CONCERT AT LOCAL CHURCH

Combined Church Choirs of Lincolnton Sang Special Evangelistic Anthems at McKinnon Church.

The visitors from Lincolnton, Albemarle, Kannapolis and Statesville, besides the people of Concord who attended the Long-Rowland meeting Tuesday evening, held at the McKinnon Presbyterian Church, to hear the Lincolnton choir sing some special evangelistic anthems were more than highly pleased.

The Lincolnton choir is composed of members from the First Methodist, Presbyterian and Reformed churches and is a musical organization of which Lincolnton and this section of the state should indeed be proud. The members are all highly talented musicians and their voices and interpretations blend and harmonize in such a remarkable way that it seems almost as if the choir was composed of one individual with a multiplicity of vocal organs.

The church was filled to overflowing, and those of Concord who failed to hear this rare musical treat missed something really worth while. The soprano obligato parts were sung by Miss Carita Edwards and Miss Ruby Padgett. A lovely solo was also rendered by Miss Padgett. The splendid piano accompaniment by Miss Jennie Saine and Mrs. Sifford added much to the success of the service. At the conclusion of the song service Rev. R. A. Swearingen, of Albemarle, invited the choir to come over and sing at Albemarle during the Long-Rowland meeting that is to be held there in September in a tabernacle to seat 4,000 and with a choir section to seat 500. He also invited all the people of Concord.

The choir is not merely a musical organization with the one thought of musical advancement but as they sing the songs of the Cross and of Christ, they sing from their hearts right into the hearts of their hearers, making their spiritual worth even of more value than their musical ability. It is the wish of many of their friends that they continue their great work of singing the gospel so gloriously, and that their efforts will be crowned with success and blessing wherever they go.

ELM CAMP NO. 16, W. O. W. WILL HAVE MEMBERSHIP DRIVE
