MARKER DEDICATED TO HEROES OF THE BENTONVILLE FIGHT

Marker Presented to State by U. D. C. and Accepted For State by Gov. McLean During the Day.

SAYS HEROES NOT TO BE FORGOTTEN

Governor Says North Carolina Prospered Because It Followed Ideals For Which Heroes Died.

By J. C. BASKERVILLE Staff Correspondent

Bentonville, Sept. 15.—"They gave us great glory, what more could they give? They left us a story, a story to live."

This expresses the fundamental idea motivating the dedication of the marker unveiled here today on the battlefield of Bentonville, by the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and formally presented to the state. For the exercises here today were more than an unveiling. They marked the awakening of the wide consciousness towards those who fought and bled and died for an ideal, that coming generations might build more stately mansions of the soul. And in accepting the memorial on the part of the State, Governor A. W. McLean commended this awakening consciousness, and stated that the people are endeavoring to teach pure patriotism, which we rejoice in as a proud heritage. May we study the history of our state and try to be worthy of its traditions.

MISS ELDER STILL DETERMINED ABOUT FLIGHT TO FRANCE

Landed Her Plane in New York Yesterday and Says She Will Leave Sunday if Weather Is Favorable.

FAILURES DO NOT HALT HER

Says She Has Everything Ready for Flight Which She Hopes Will Start Sometime Next Sunday.

New York, Sept. 15.—(AP)—A pretty 23-year-old girl flyer who talked laughingly of the adventure in which ten persons have disappeared today was at the starting point of her projected flight to Paris, eager to be the first of her sex to cross the Atlantic by air.

Miss Ruth Elder, of Lake Park, Fla., swooped down from the sky at Roosevelt Field last evening with her copilot Captain George Hademan, and immediately began final preparations for taking off on her 3,610 mile flight across the seas Sunday morning.

"We have everything ready to leave Sunday except the weather," she said. "Gas bought, runway ready, plane dandy, pilots O. K. Give us a weather break and we'll take off then."

"I have been dreaming and planning this ever since I first learned to fly two years ago. Then Lindbergh did it, and I was more determined. I want to be the first girl to turn the trick. I'll do it—I and Captain Hademan."

Her Auburn bobbed hair was swept by the wind at the flying field, and her large grey eyes sparkled in vivacious confidence, as she reeled off details on her monoplane, the Stinson-Detroit, American Girl.

The American Girl is driven by a 200 horsepower Wright whirlwind engine, and is a duplicate of the Sir John Carling, which vanished in mid-ocean; the round the world plane, "Windsor," whose trans-Atlantic flight has been abandoned.

Civic Clubs Responding To Appeal From Edwin B. Bridges

Accepted the proposal, as has the Lions Club in Clinton, the Kiwanis Club in Mebane, and the Rotary Club in Reidsville, many of the club secretaries stating in their letters that the plan is in entire accordance with the aims of the clubs along the lines of civic betterment.

The Winston-Salem Civitan Club not only approved the plan unannounced, but states that it wants to get busy right now and that instead of waiting until it is appealed to by some former prisoner, that it wants the names of all former prisoners now in Forsyth county, and the names of prisoners' families so that it may get to work at once and see what it can do for them immediately.

The Asheville Civitan Club is also anxious to get started in carrying out the plan as soon as possible, while the Wilson Lions Club, the Aberdeen Kiwanis and the Lumberton Kiwanis also endorse the idea.

In case the club to which the proposal was made in any county declines to accept the proposal and enter the state-wide contest for the loving cup, the plan will then be proposed to another civic club in that county. But indications are that all the clubs are going to adopt the plan, according to Mr. Bridges.

The primary purpose of the committees which these clubs have been asked to form will be to assist former prisoners to get jobs and to help these men hold the jobs found for them. The committee members are urged by Mr. Bridges to secure contact with these men with a view to encouraging them in their endeavors to regain their place in society.

"A former prisoner who can have the advantage of the advice of a member of a civic club, and thus obtain the right slant on citizenship, will indeed be fortunate," Mr. Bridges said in his letter. "Several years experience in a civic organization has convinced me that the basic principle upon which all such clubs are founded is the idea of promoting good citizenship. Statistics show that a criminal is a great expense to the state. If, therefore, you can change a man from a life of crime into a useful citizen, you have benefited the entire state from a financial standpoint as well as the former prisoner and his family."

Clubs that have already responded favorably are the Charlotte Civitan Club, Newton Kiwanis Club, which placed a member of the Hickory Kiwanis Club on its committee, to interest the Hickory club in the movements, the North Wilkesboro Kiwanis Club, while the Rotary clubs in both Henderson and Kinston are enthusiastic over the plan. In Greensboro, the Civitan Club has adopted the proposal and unqualifiedly pledged its support.

RECIPROCITY WHAT FRANCE ASKS WITH REGARD TO TARIFF

Says Present High Rates Will Prevail Until Latest Note to America Has Been Given Thought.

READY TO CUT SOME OF RATES

If the United States Will Enter Into Negotiations France Is Ready to Offer Substitute Rates.

Paris, Sept. 15.—(AP)—France asks the United States for reciprocity in the complete sense of the word as the only acceptable basis for a tariff treaty between the two countries.

In a note replying to American representations concerning the new tariff schedule, the French foreign office today set forth the French conception of reciprocity as the condition for entering upon fruitful negotiations of a tariff treaty.

Nothing less than the present high rates in force are offered until the American reply to this note shall be received. When a reply from the United States is received, that the American government is ready to begin such discussion, then the French government will substitute for the present scale a modified schedule lowering American goods considerably lower rates, but not up to the limit of those granted to countries with which France has commercial treaties, notably Germany. So far as known, Germany was not specifically mentioned, but that was the effect of this paragraph of the French reply.

The impression in both French and American circles was that the note was simply the first step in opening what are likely to be prolonged treaty negotiations.
