Election day, Tuesday November the 4th.

AMERICAN TICKET FOR PRESIDENT.

We have the gratification of stating to our friends abroad that the meeting which was announced for the 21st, came off in fine style and with the most promising results.

The ball was opened on Monday night in the Court House by Mr. A. F. Brevard, sub-elect for this County. He pitched into the sham Democracy like a thousand of bricks, and, after he concluded, announced Gen. A. J. Dargan, elector for this District.

The meeting was held on the Academy lot, where ample preparations had been made by the committee of arrangements. The crowd assembled about 11 o'clock.

When Governor Graham was introduced by M. Rufus Barringer. The presence of this distinguished citizen, our readers, who have ever seen him, know, is imposing.

The rising of his imperial form was the signal to every man in that crowded audience, that we were to hear nothing but the words of prudent counsel and wisdom.

We cannot do justice to his speech. It was eminently statesmanlike, so different from what we are accustomed to hear in popular harangues. He exposed the miserable clap trap by which the Democratic leaders, always manage to get up a panic on slavery, at every Presidential election.

Porters Spirit of the Times.—This able journal of the Turf, Field Sports, Literature and the Stage, we are gratified to learn, is rapidly growing in public favor.

GODEY'S LADIES' BOOK.—This popular monthly is already to hand for November, with its usual beautiful illustrations, embroidery patterns &c. Price with Gazette $4.

FINE WHEAT. We are indebted to our old friend and patron, A. Scott Esq., of Hillsboro, Illinois, for two beautiful samples of wheat—one white the other red.

COUNTY COURT. The Fall term of our County Court is in Session this week, their Worshipships presiding. Little business is doing.

THE CONTEST IN KENTUCKY. LOUISVILLE, Oct. 8. The Executive American Committee have recently made a new register of their vote in the State, and pronounced Kentucky certain for Fillmore.

WHIP THEM IN! Daniel and James flattered themselves they would slide over into the Democratic ranks, during the temporary confusion of Parties, and that without much labor or love, they would, in clear terms, come in for the share of the spoils.

sis of his speech. We advise everybody to go and hear him. He kept the attention of his hearers chained for three hours—the people gathering up around him, and the only regret felt was when he closed.

We heard one man say he would give ten dollars to hear the speech spoken over again. We know it has done good. We are satisfied more than ever that Americanism is the most potent question that can be submitted to the public mind.

The meeting was held on the Academy lot, where ample preparations had been made by the committee of arrangements. The crowd assembled about 11 o'clock.

Public Opinion in South Carolina.

We usually look upon the Charleston Mercury as the authorized exponent of public opinion in South Carolina but a late article in the Columbia Times speaks very positively of a different opinion from that which we get in the Mercury, copying abstracts of speeches by Messrs. Orr and Boyce, Members of Congress before their constituents add.

These speeches are significant as indicating how men of all shades of opinion are driven in these times, to occupy a common ground, in short, to occupy the ground which this paper has long maintained, that the union of the North and South cannot be preserved.

These speeches are significant as indicating how men of all shades of opinion are driven in these times, to occupy a common ground, in short, to occupy the ground which this paper has long maintained, that the union of the North and South cannot be preserved.

We fear that there has recently come to be too much truth in the remark which we have noticed. The antipathies seem to have become incurable and not by any fault of the South but by the outrageous intermeddling of the North with things which do not rightfully concern them.

But hear the Columbia Times. In our own State it will not be doubted that Mr. Buchanan's nomination will be fully endorsed. She is thoroughly Democratic and will take him as the choice of evils although it is stated by those most competent to give an opinion that he will not be able to command sufficient support to secure the election.

The people of this State are a Union loving people. They are opposed to change. They prefer the continuance of the Union if its Laws are Constitutional and in accordance with the principles of the Declaration of Independence.

If the polls were opened this day to ascertain the will of the citizens of South Carolina we have no doubt that they would decide upon a large majority their attachment to the Union in preference to secession but at the same time they would also indicate their determination to submit to no more one sided compromises or infringements upon their rights.

We believe we hazard nothing in making the declaration that if the vote of South Carolina can save the Union under a guarantee that the country shall be restored to quiet and the rights of the South be equally respected with those of the North the people would instruct their Electors to vote for Millard Fillmore provided it be found impossible to secure Mr. Buchanan election in preference to aiding indirectly in promoting Fremont's election.

If the election by the people fails to secure the end in view, and it is carried into the House, we cannot suppose the vote of the south Carolina will be thrown away on Mr. Buchanan and thus promote the success of Fremont. To pursue that course would be indirectly sustaining Fremont and that policy would be reprobated an overwhelming majority of the people of South Carolina.

Those are our views and judging by recent developments is very clear to our mind, that the choice will be between Fillmore and Fremont.

If this should turn out to be the case we hold that it will be the duty of our Representatives to vote for Millard Fillmore.

We are a Unionist, nevertheless, but being convinced that it is the will of the people to sustain a Constitutional Union we prefer Mr. Fillmore believing that his administration would be more conservative and impartial.

47." There is nothing to indicate that the James Monroe, mentioned in the Monroe who was in the battle of White Plains and received a ball in his shoulder at the attack on Trenton who fought by the side of Lafayette at Brandywine who was Minister to France in 1793, and afterwards to England; who was Secretary of State in 1711 and for two full terms President of the United States. Yet such is the fact; and that weather stained slab of marble two feet square is all the monument that Ex-President Monroe has. The Times states the following additional facts.

As Monroe was a Virginian it is the supposition of most people that he died and was buried within the old Dominion but this is an error.

Mr. Monroe in his last days resided with Samuel Gouverneur late Postmaster of this city who married his only daughter, their residence was on the corner of Price and Elm streets.

The venerable D. Francis tells us that he often met Mr. Monroe walking out when the weather was fine and that on these occasions he was the object of the most affectionate attentions. He has often met him making purchases for his family at Centre Market where all stillmen knew and honored him.

His last illness was a long and tedious one. His attendant was his son-in-law's family physician, Dr. Barger. He expired at 10 1-2 o'clock on the morning of the 4th of July, 1831.

His funeral was a very imposing one—the largest that at that time had ever been seen in New York. The military under Jacob Morton, Grand Marshal, filled Broadway from Prince street, through which it passed to the cemetery. The crowd was fine and the signs of mourning were generally adopted by our citizens.

He had no wealth when he died and in his death no tomb of his own.

Shocking Murder of a Wife and Suicide. The St. Albans, Vt. Messenger records a most brutal murder committed in Bakersfield Vt. on Saturday night by a man named Locke.

She roused the neighbors and on examination seventeen large wounds were found about the head neck and shoulders any one of which it is thought would produce death. The wounds were made by a sharp axe, which was found by the bedside.
