THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1881.

LOCAL ITEMS.

President GARFIELD died at Long Branch at 10:35 P. M. on Monday night.

This lovely weather.

But one prisoner in jail

See the county exhibit in this paper.

Listen for the 'possum hunters horns.

Farmers are busy cutting and curing tobacco.

If you would have others respect you act so as to have some respect for yourself.

The visitors, health and pleasure seekers have all left Danbury but twelve or fifteen.

Mr. W. W. King, T. R. Pepper, and S. B. Taylor, Jr., are at home again, been to "Richmond on the James."

A fellow that can't sleep these nights ought to have to rock the cradle, or nurse a baby sick with the colic.

We learn that Mr. Joel Sniders house with 150 bushels of wheat was burned one day last week.

The plow should be running every day this beautiful weather, plowing in rye, winter oats or preparing the land for wheat.

We tender our thanks to Col. Polk for a complimentary ticket to the State Fair to be held in Raleigh the 10th to the 15th of October 1881.

Clocks, Watches, Jewelry &c., repaired at Daubury. Call and give him a trial before sending elsewhere. Work warranted or money refunded, by J. A. HILL.

Don't forget to bring specimens of your minerals of every kind to Pepper & Sons store if you would have them shown at the Atlanta Exposition free of cost to you.

Mrs. Troy's school is in full blast. Those who know her say that she is a first class teacher. There are a number of children in and around Danbury that should be at school.

Stop complaining and be thankful. The much desired, long wished for, much prayed for rain has come at last, splendid rains fell in this section last Friday, Saturday and Sunday night.

What is the matter with the free school teachers? It is very near time for the schools to commence and we learn that but few have made application for certificates to teach. Will we have to send to another county for teachers?

Don't place such a high estimate on a man because he has money. Money does not make honest men of rogues, nor wise men of fools, it is only like putting nice stuff on an old tough goose, the real character is unchanged.

The first sample of new tobacco was brought in this week. It is Mr. A. J. Whites, and would do you good to see it. Mr. White is one of the very best tobacco growers in this part of the county, says it is no trouble to cure it this year.

A very intelligent gentleman from Guilford remarked a few days ago that the scenery on Indian creek, 3 1/2 miles west from Danbury around Pepper's Iron and Alum springs is hardly surpassed in wildness and grandeur by the scenery on the French Broad.

Mr. S. G. Worth, Fish commissioner for the State, writes to us that he hopes to send a good many German carp into this section the coming winter to all who build fish ponds. Every farmer who has a suitable place should build a fish pond and have it ready.

We have received the official publication of the "Veiled Prophets of the Mississippi Valley," a mystic order which will hold a grand autumn festival at St. Louis, Mo., beginning October 3 and ending October 6. On the night of October 4 the grand spectacular procession of the Veiled prophets will appear on the streets.

The Southern Planter and Farmer for September is on our table. While it is the duty of every family in the land to take at least one good newspaper if any member of the family can read; yet it is no less the duty of every farmer to take some good farm journal. This can be had by sending $2.00 to the Southern Planter and Farmer Co., Richmond Va.

WORTHLESS STUFF.—Not so fast my friends; if you could see the strong, healthy, blooming men, women and children that have been raised from beds of sickness, suffering and almost death, by the use of Hop Bitters, you would say "Glorious and invaluable remedy."—Philadelphia Press.

"All the health I enjoy, and even my life I may say, is in consequence of Simmons' Liver Regular. I would not take one million dollars for my interest in that medicine." W. H. WILSON, Welborn, Fla.

THE POPULAR DEMAND.—So great has been the popular demand for the celebrated remedy Kidney-Wort, that it is having an immense sale from Maine to California. Some have found it inconvenient to prepare it from the dry compound. For such the proprietors now prepare it in liquid form. This can be procured at the druggists. It has precisely the same effect as the dry, but is very concentrated so that the dose is much smaller.—Lowell Mail

Mr. Barbour, president of the Virginia Midland, states that before closing the recent sale of his road, guarantees were secured from the Richmond and Danville syndicate "that the North Carolina Midland would be pushed to completion, and that the interest of Baltimore city, which Mr. Garrett had so zealously guarded, should not be injured in the least," and that "it is understood that Baltimore is to be made the port of export for the enormous cotton traffic of the combined roads." This looks as if the East Tennessee, Georgia and Virginia road is to divert its immense cotton business from Norfolk and remove it over the Western North Carolina Railroad to Salisbury, thence to Danville and Baltimore. Mr. Wilson, the largest stockholder of the East Tennessee, Georgia and Virginia is also interested in the Richmond and Danville, and is doubtless one of the syndicate. He is said to be worth twelve millions of dollars. If our surmise be true it will be bad for Norfolk.—Raleigh News Observer.

The newspapers are having an interesting time over rail road matters in this State. Senator Vance and President Andrews, of the Western North Carolina Railroad, are writing each other up in the papers and so far President Andrews has the advantage of the Senator. In the mean time it is claimed that the R & D Rail Road is discriminating against North Carolina towns in matters of freight and Gov. Jarvis meets the issue like a man and tells the owners of the Road if they do not discontinue such discrimination he will use whatever power the State has to oust them from the State. And then Capt Stamps, President of the Penitentiary Board of Directors and Mr. Williamson, late Senator from Edgecombe Co. are discussing the treatment of the convicts on the Western North Carolina Railroad. Capt Stamps has the better of the discussion so far. Taken altogether the above matters makes an exciting dish of news for the Dog Days. We hope these brethren will keep cool and soon harmonize.—Raleigh Christian Advocate.

THE DEVIL ON DELINQUENTS.—The Editor of the Blade left last Saturday morning for Camp Meeting without paying our devil, telling him to take his wages out of the money paid in that day, but not a red cent did he collect. He got out before the editor returned and had the following in type:

The man who won't pay the printer:—May he have sores eyes, and a chestnut burr for an eye-stone. May every day of his life be more despotic than the Day of Algiers. May he never be permitted to kiss a handsome woman. May his boots leak, his gun hang fire; and fishing lines break. May his coffee be sweetened with flies, and his soup seasoned with spiders. May his friend run off with his wife, and his children take the whooping-cough. May his cattle die of murrain, and his pigs destroy his garden. May a regiment of cats caterwaul under his window each night. May his cows give sour milk and rancid butter. In short, may his daughter marry a one eyed editor, and his business go to ruin, and he go to—the Legislature.—Blade.

THE FIRE FIND.—A terrible forest fire has swept over and nearly destroyed several counties in Michigan. A New York Herald correspondent who visited the scene, says: "Scattered along the roads, and in the burned woods were seen the charred remains of men, women and children." Farmers who had been cultivating their lands for twenty or thirty years and had accumulated a competence saw everything swept away and themselves reduced to beggary. It is a thrilling and a horrible story.—Charlotte Observer.

An Indian farmer tried four different fertilizers for melons—poultry droppings well rotted cow manure, barnyard manure and old bones (gathered upon the farm and reduced by placing them in alternate layers with ashes the previous year,) mixing all liberally in the different hills, which were eight feet apart each way, and he says: "Such a crop of melons as came from the hills that had the bone dust I never saw before."

Arrangements have been made by which Stokes county will be represented in minerals, tobacco, &c., at the Atlanta Exposition, to be held at Atlanta, Ga., this fall. It is desirable that all those having valuable minerals on their lands, should send specimens to Pepper & Sons store at Danbury. This will be but little trouble and may lead to results of which you will be proud in the future.
