

Reporter and Post. PUBLISHED WEEKLY AT DANBURY, N. C.

PEPPER & SONS, Pubs. & Props.

OUR PAPER.

To day we issue the first number of the Reporter and Post, enlarged to a twenty-eight column paper. Ten years ago, the 25th day of this month, we issued the first number of the Danbury Reporter, then a 20 column paper. Our main object then in starting the paper, as it is now in keeping it up, was to develop the natural resources of the county, and to elevate our moral and social standing, being determined to keep it up so long as it was self sustaining.

In 1846 Elias Howe obtained a patent for his first sewing machine.

No room was ever made large enough to hold both a fat man and a mosquito.

Everything has to pay up sometimes: even the little chickens have to shell out.

Herr Krupp, the cannon founder, keeps 30,000 men at work forging big guns for the nations.

Antagonize yourself to sickness. Determine that you will not be sick, then live according to the laws of your being.

Goldboro Messenger: Colonel Wharton Green, who has a vineyard of 230 acres near Fayetteville, says that he realized nearly $4,000 last year from four acres of the older part of his vineyard.

Small pox is everywhere in the land and we must take hold of it in earnest and stamp it out if we would not see one of the most disastrous years ever experienced in this country.—Richmond State.

The skin of a boiled egg is the most efficacious remedy that can be applied to a boil. Peel it carefully, wet and apply it to the part affected. It will draw off the matter and relieve the soreness in a few hours.

New York is excited over small-pox. We hear of a few cases in this State. The board of health reports it as prevailing in eighteen States. One man, who was blooming, came from Chicago to Wilmington, Delaware, in a Pullman sleeping car, and caused great consternation among the passengers.

The Cape Fear Navigation Company received a check from the United States government for $10,000, the sum named in the act of the United States Congress, to be paid the company for the surrender of their rights in the Cape Fear River. The deed of surrender has been signed, sealed and delivered, and the river is now free to all navigators and all crafts.

Slobson says that if you should walk up to one of the nobs, those who are the dandies, and ask him to lend you fifty cents, he'd say he didn't have it, and blue times out of ten he would be telling the exact truth. Those who wear the finest clothes and like to swell around on the mash have seldom any more money in their pockets than brains in their heads.—Rochester Express.

The census bureau has completed the tables on the wealth of the country. This shows, divided by sections, that the average wealth per capita, is $623.15 in New England; $452.24 in the Middle States; $321.00 in the West; $145.94 in the South and $329.59 on the Pacific Slope. The South, therefore, contains a third of the population of the country and an eighth of its wealth—not a very favorable showing, but better than that made ten years ago.

Let Crime be Punished.

A special from Lexington, N. C., says that the death sentence of Squire Clark, colored, had been commuted to imprisonment for life. He was to have been hanged yesterday for the murder of a white man named W. Scott Hook, in October, 1877.—Special of 23d.

In nearly every State the pardoning business is progressing at a lively rate. We do hope the people will yet see the folly of allowing one man to undo the work of the courts. As sure as truth is mighty if there is not an end put to this atrocious business hangings by mobs will become of weekly occurrence in the South. One of our State exchanges says nine hangings by Judge Lynch have occurred in North Carolina since last May. If these figures are correct then that is more than one a month. Papers may say what they please of the horror and dangers of mob law, but in the present uncertain condition of the courts, with nine chances in favor of a villain's escape to one that he will be punished to the fullest extent, when a great crime like rape or murder is committed in a peaceful community, the best men will take a hand in giving the culprit a quick and sharp exit to another world. Pardoning must cease or hangings by mobs will continue, moralists to the contrary notwithstanding. We may deplore justly such acts, but society must feel safe or the vengeance of men will follow crime without fear and without mercy.

One dastardly, horrible murder perpetrated in a neighborhood—such as shooting a good citizen in his own house or killing him on the highway—has been known to throw every household into a condition of alarm and no man felt safe at home or on the road. The law seems powerless. The pardoning power stands ready to be exercised. The Judges and officers of the county are ready to sign a petition. People by hundreds can be got to ask for pardon instead of demanding a life for a life. Is it then to be wondered at that men thus aroused and standing in apprehension of assassination at a time they know not when, should unite and taking law into their hands, send the villain to the grave, untried, unshriven and unpardoned?—Wilmington Star.

The grates issue which will present itself in next year's election will be that of opposition to monopolies, and the press of this State, with few exceptions, will advocate this opposition with the greatest enthusiasm. Senator Vance, the man for whom the people of North Carolina have the warmest affection, will head this movement against monopolies and to him our people must look for leadership in the great contest with the corporations which threaten to seize hold of the very State government.

Paying Debts.

If you are satisfied that a debtor wants to pay, but cannot, you ought not to worry him. Indeed, there are cases where it would be your christian duty to forgive him out and out.

But, if he can pay and does not; if he has the money in his pocket and puts you off, because he perhaps don't want to go to the bank for the money, although he may have it there idle; or, if he don't want to step across the street to get a $100 bill changed, and sends your collector away, saying—"at another time"—what ought to be done?

We like to see a man, no matter how wealthy he may be, take pains to pay his debts, no matter how small. It looks exceedingly well for the most prominent character in the community, to go round paying his small bills. The facts is, if he owed a poor woman, or a poor laborer only 10 cents, he ought to see that he or she gets it. How does he know, but that the amount, insignificant as it is to him may not be actually needed? It has occurred to us that some, so-called big men, imagined that it was beneath them, to pay little debts. What a false idea of what is really becoming! It not only looks well for a millionaire to settle his small accounts, but, to be able to pay everything on presentation, or even before, ought to be the chief advantage of being rich.

Our remarks were called forth by the case of a poor woman who wanted her money for Christmas, but was put off by a wealthy man who owed her.—Danville Times.

A walkloaded, olive-skinned young man came into a Broadway furnishing store yesterday afternoon and offered to buy all the derforated com in the place at a discount. About 85 in silver was handed over to him and paid for. "What do you do with it? the young man was asked. "I support my wife and children with it. Do you know anybody that's got anybody that's got any more?" The holes in the coins are filled by passing iron wire through them and clipping it off. A little hammering and burnishing makes the deception complete.—Waco, Texas Examiner.

RIOTING AT PLYMOUTH.

Yesterday morning, about 10 o'clock the following dispatch was received at the Executive office: PLYMOUTH, N. C., 9:40 A. M., Dec. 29. To Gov. Jarvis:

There is an unprecedented riot in this town, and I am unable to suppress it by the civil authority of the county and earnestly request you to order several military companies to be here at the earliest time possible, to suppress it. There are 300 negroes here, defying the law all around, with guns. Please do this at once. A. D. GAYLORD, Mayor.

This request was forwarded to Edenton by boat, and thence came by wire via Norfolk. Gov. Jarvis is absent at Greenville, and the Private Secretary, Capt. Guilford Dudley, repeated the message to the Governor.

A special telegram to the News and Observer from W. D. Pruden, Esq., of Edenton, gives the following information in regard to the affair:

"On Saturday some negroes were fighting among themselves at Plymouth. This the constable tried to stop. He was resisted, beaten and shot. One of his posse was mortally wounded, and another stabbed. The negroes were assembled in large crowds, and prevented any arrests at that time. There was great excitement prevailing. On Tuesday, when the excitement had somewhat subsided, some of the parties were arrested, and, after examination, in default of bond were ordered to be committed to jail, bound over to the Superior Court. On the way to the jail the sheriff was attacked by a mob, and the prisoners were rescued. They are still at large. Dr. Woodson, who was attending the dying man, who had been wounded on Saturday, was attacked, but not seriously hurt. Matt. Wilson, the leader in the affair, was tried for a similar offense at the last term of the Superior Court. Many negroes are now armed and are resisting the civil authorities. Great excitement prevails at Plymouth and in the surrounding country. This information is from Capt. Askew, of the steamer Juniata, and the messenger sent by the Mayor, and is reliable."

Yesterday afternoon the following dispatch was received from Gov. Jarvis at Greenville: "I have ordered Lieut. Col. John W. Cotton, of the First Regiment, and two companies to Plymouth. I have no later information in regard to the affair."

The following telegram from Elizabeth City was received here and transmitted to Gov. Jarvis: "The Pasquotank Rifles tender their aid to the Governor to quiet the Plymouth riot. Julian E. Wood, captain; W. J. Griffin, E. F. Lamb and Alex. Wadsworth, lieutenants. The State ordinance officer last night received a telegram from Captain H. K. Nash, of Tarboro, asking for 1,000 rounds of ball cartridge, to be shipped to Plymouth. From this it would appear that the Edgecombe Guards is one of the companies ordered to Plymouth. Other companies near at hand are at Edenton, where there are two, one white, one colored; at Washington, at Hamilton, Martin county, and at Elizabeth City. It would not take a great while to put a half dozen or more other companies at Plymouth.

From a gentleman of this city we learn that of the 1200 people in Plymouth, a large majority are negroes, and that they are frequently turbulent. In the woods and swamps great numbers of them are engaged in getting out lumber, staves, etc. These laborers are generally a rough lot, given to fighting, especially at this time of year and on holidays. Plymouth is somewhat difficult to reach. Edenton is twenty miles away, across the sound, while the railway, a poor affair, comes no nearer than Jamesville, its other end being at Washington. It was thought last night here that possibly some troops had arrived at Plymouth last evening. There were rumors, that they were not well authenticated, that the sheriff, Dempsey Spruill, had been badly hurt in an attack by the rioters, and that a negro had been killed.—Raleigh News-Observer.

The Wooden Dish Factory is an extensive industry at Indianapolis, Ind. Not many years ago persons would have laughed at the idea of wooden dishes, but they have become a necessity. They are cut from the sycamore or the gum tree by the most ingenious machinery: which will cut and trim 200,000 dishes a day—other machinery shapes and fastens them on together Fifteen of these are employed, each of which can turn out 10,000 daily. The wood is steamed, so as to be readily worked and moulded.

Some idea of the tremendous power of the waves of the Atlantic in a storm may be gained from a letter which the construction of the Calx Rock Lighthouse on the coast of Ireland, recently destroyed in a storm sends to the London Times. He states that the rock is from sixty to ninety feet about that, and yet the fury of the storms on the coast was at times so great that the waves, in passing over the rock, hid the top of the tower for some two minutes at a time.

GOOD COFFEE.

Everybody wants it, but very few get it, because most people do not know how to select coffee, or if it is spoiled in the roasting or making. To obviate these difficulties has been our study. Thurber's package Coffees are selected by an expert who understands the art of blending various flavors. They are roasted in the most perfect manner (it is impossible to roast well in small quantities), they give in good packages in the home, and possess the most reliable signature as a guarantee of genuineness, and each package contains the Thurber's recipe for making good coffee. We pack two kinds, Thurber's "No. 34," strong and pungent, Thurber's "No. 41," mild and rich. One by the other will suit every taste. These have the three good points, good quality, lowest quantity, reasonable price. Ask your grocer for Thurber's roasted Coffee in good packages, "No. 34" or "No. 41." Do not be put off with any other kind—your own palate will tell you what is best.

Where persons desire it, we also furnish a "Tip Top" coffee in the simplest, but not cheap, coffee-press, in existence. Grocers who sell our coffee keep them. Ask for descriptive circular.

H. K. & F. B. THURBER & CO., Importers, Wholesale Grocers and Coffee Roasters, New York.

P. S.—As the market dealers in food products in the world, we consider it our interest to manufacture only pure wholesome goods and pack them in a tidy and satisfactory manner. All goods bearing our name are guaranteed to be of superior quality, pure and wholesome, and dealers authorized to refund the purchase price in any case where customers have cause for dissatisfaction. It is therefore the interest of both dealers and consumers to use Thurber's brands.
