SHOCKED SENSELESS

BY A BOLT OF LIGHTNING

Eighteen Men Take Refuge From Storm In a Barn at Meadows and Lightning Strikes the Barn—A Narrow Escape—Personals.

Meadows, N. C., July 12.—A crowd of 18 men, who had run from the threshing machine to take shelter in a barn on the premises of Mr. Frank Mabe, were shocked senseless by a bolt of lightning Friday evening. It struck the corner of the barn and in a second all the occupants were lying flat on the ground. In another moment all but one (a colored man, John Critz, accompanied by a lone dog) were on their feet and almost flying through the rain which was falling in torrents. One man who was hurt so bad he could not run looked back and discovered the negro in the barn which was filled with smoke and a terrible odor and went to his rescue. He was lifeless, but came to after some time, but the dog never recovered. Most every one were hurt in some way. Some had several burns on their flesh; some had headache and some hurt in their joints. They all say it was the most sickening and sad scene they had ever witnessed, and, of course, the most frightful. They groaned as people falling in battle pierced with rifle balls.

Attendance upon the sessions of the Teachers' Institute once in two years is necessary as a legal qualification to teach. In the past the county Superintendent in some cases has been compelled to employ teachers who had not attended any institute, but this was rendered necessary because of the scarcity of teachers. As there has recently been quite an addition to the ranks of the teachers, it is almost certain that the Superintendent will be driven to the strict observation of the school law, when the time comes for awarding certificates in the fall.
