OLD SOLDIERS' DAY

LARGE CROWD ATTENDED

Estimated That More Than Three Thousand Were Here—Major Stedman's Splendid Address—Winston Band On Hand—Stokes Camp Organized, With W. W. King Commander.

At least 3,000 persons attended the ex-Confederate Reunion at Danbury last Saturday. The chief feature of the day was the address of Major Chas. M. Stedman, of Greensboro, which was listened to by a packed audience in the grove, the crowd being too large to get in the court house. The Winston-Salem band furnished music, which was greatly enjoyed by the crowd. After an excellent dinner had been eaten on the table under the shady trees, the soldiers assembled in the court house and organized the Stokes County Camp of Confederate Veterans, with the following officers:

- Walter W. King, Commander.
- J. J. Martin, First Lieutenant.
- M. V. Mabe, Second Lieutenant.
- A. J. Tilley, Adjutant.
- Dr. L. H. Hill, Surgeon.
- W. F. Campbell, Quarter Master.
- J. H. Stewart, Color Bearer.
- N. E. Pepper, Treasurer.

The enlistment in the camp is as follows:

The following statement is handed the Reporter by Commander W. W. King: "The camp was organized with 38 members. More are expected to join. Any veteran can join at any time by giving or sending his name, rank, company, regiment, and when and where enlisted, with 15 cents to N. E. Pepper, Treasurer at Danbury. It is hoped the camp will grow so as to include all the veterans of the county. "Ten cents of the fees paid goes to the Adjutant General's office at New Orleans. The other 5 cents to the State organization to pay necessary expenses."

WALNUT COVE WINS

DRY PRIZERY NOW ASSURED

Farmers' Union Selects Cove As the Place For the Big Pack House—Committee Meets There and Buys Lot—Death of Harvey Hedgecock.

Walnut Cove, N. C., Aug. 10, 12 o'clock A. M. (By Telephone.)

The Farmers' Union people met at Danbury Saturday, and after deciding to build the dry prizery at Walnut Cove, a committee met here yesterday and bought four acres of land from Lawrence McRae, on which to build the pack house. The site is near the N. & W. depot. Work is expected to begin at an early day.

The contest in the meeting at Danbury Saturday over the location of the dry prizery was quite sharp between Walnut Cove, King and Germanton.

News reaches here of the death of Mr. Harvey Hedgecock, one of Walnut Cove's young brick manufacturers, at Winston. Mr. Hedgecock had only been sick a few days with typhoid fever.

THRESHERS, NOTICE

REPORT TO THE REPORTER

Correspondent Asks All the Machine Men to Write the Reporter the Number of Bushels of Wheat Threshed, So the Crop in Stokes May Be Estimated—Good Time At C. H. Lunsford's.

Oak Grove, Aug. 8.—Mr. C. H. Lunsford, of the Oak Grove section, finished his wheat threshing for the season at his home one day last week, when he invited his neighbors, friends and relatives to come and help him thresh wheat. One hundred and thirty-seven bushels of the golden grain was threshed, after which Mr. Lunsford invited all to the dining room, where a sumptuous dinner, consisting of mutton, chicken, cakes, pies and jellies of many kinds, pickles and many other good things to eat awaited their arrival, and each and all ate to their heart's content. After dinner the evening was spent in making and eating ice cream. About 11 or 12 gallons of milk was used. Those who attended the threshing from a distance were Messrs. T. M. Lawson, A. S. Marsh, Hubert Gordon, M. W. Overby, Henry Edwards, Dee Gordon, R. W. Overby and many others. The number in all attending was about seventy or eighty people, and all report a good time and a day long to be remembered.

The citizens of this section ask that all who run a threshing machine in Stokes county will please report to the Reporter the number of bushels of wheat they threshed in Stokes county this season in order that the people may know how much wheat was made in old Stokes.
