

LOCAL AND PERSONAL ITEMS. CHRISTMAS, 1910

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Blair, of Winston-Salem, are visiting relatives and will spend Christmas here.

Miss Mary and Mr. Paul Taylor will be home this week from Guilford College to spend the holidays.

Mr. J. D. Humphreys visited Winston, King and Walnut Cove Friday and Saturday, returning home Sunday.

Mr. Henry Gibson, an ex-Confederate soldier, is critically ill at the home of Mr. W. Y. Gordon on Germantown Route 1.

Misses Annie Blair and Della Stuart, teachers of the public school near Dodd's, will be in this week to spend Christmas at their respective homes.

More big hogs: P. H. Young kills one, weight 528; Joe King-ton one, 480; J. D. Chapman two, 310 and 320; J. P. Allen one, 509; Joe Martin one, 454.

Miss Sadie Petree, from the State Normal, and Miss Mary Martin, from Red Springs, will arrive here tomorrow to spend the holidays at their respective homes.

Mr. W. E. Hartman, who was recently elected Secretary and Treasurer of the Stokes County F. E. & C. U. of America, requests the Reporter to say that he now has charge of the books of the union. All locals are requested to make their quarterly reports to him.

Mr. W. W. George, of Francisco, was here yesterday and told the Reporter that a big fox race is billed for this neighborhood and Meadows Wednesday of Christmas week next. Besides himself there will be Will Eaton, of Quaker Gap; Chas. Hough, of Walnut Cove; Jack Hill, of Winston, and other noted hunters, with a large pack of very fine and well trained fox hounds. The party will be equipped with a camping outfit, and expects to rendezvous near Danbury or Meadows. Nobody will be in a hurry to go home—Christmas times you know—the boys out for enjoyment. It will be one of the dog-ondest times you ever saw. Come everybody.

Mr. E. L. Martin, of Madison, was a Danbury visitor Monday.

Mr. J. P. Lynch, of Quaker Gap township, was a Danbury visitor Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Alvin Blair, who reside at Winston, arrived here Monday to spend the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. R. H. R. Blair.

A Christmas tree and entertainment will be given next Saturday night at Bethany Lutheran church near Flatshoal, to which the public is cordially invited.

Mr. C. E. Beasley, a prominent farmer and good citizen of Sandy Ridge, was in town Monday qualifying before the Clerk as administrator of the estate of E. T. Beasley, deceased.

Mr. R. O. Wood, of Sandy Ridge, who was here last week, told the Reporter the weight of his father's big hog, killed the other day—560. Mr. W. J. Wood is ahead, as far as reported.

Mr. W. L. Hall, of Gap, was down on business yesterday, and bragging about his big hogs killed for Christmas. We are quite sure that Mr. Hall will not suffer for meat this winter.

Mr. E. W. Carroll has returned to the city, after having spent several days at his farm, "Maple Shade," in Stokes county, hunting rabbits. He reports good sport.—Winston Journal.

Misses Mary Lambeth and Mabel Crutchfield leave tomorrow to spend Christmas with homefolks at Guilford College. These young ladies are teaching the public school here, and seem to be giving satisfaction to the patrons of the school.

Constable J. D. Cardwell and Special Deputy Luico Mabe arrested Frank Hughes at his home 6 miles north of Danbury last night, bringing him to jail. Hughes, who is considered a mean and dangerous negro, is charged with shooting Bob Sands in the arm with a shotgun a few days ago. The prisoner will probably be given a hearing before a magistrate at Danbury next Saturday.
