

MR. FRENCH'S FARM

PRES. NUNN TELLS OF HIS VISIT

The Farm Consists of Two Hundred and Forty Acres and Every Foot of It Is Cleared and in Cultivation—Selling Calves at $50 to $150 Each.

Reidsville, N. C., Jan. 27.

Mr. Editor:

I promised your readers last week that I would give them a description of Mr. A. L. French's farm and tell them about my visit there. I had always promised myself that if it was ever convenient that I would visit Sunny Home Farm, Mr. French's place, and so I was down here in Rockingham organizing and we thought we would give ourselves the long promised treat. Imagine you see a farm of two hundred and forty acres, every foot of it cleared and in cultivation or pasture, with every acre a level one and it well fenced, a large white house situated on a knoll some two hundred yards back from the main roads with a barn in the rear and about two hundred head of cattle, hogs and sheep scattered over the place and you have a fine picture of Sunny Home Farm. We arrived at Mr. French's on the 18th of January at 11 A. M. Snow was all over the ground and the day was bitter cold, yet he had a team out plowing, turning land for his spring crop, and he himself was out on his plantation cutting ditches for the purpose of laying tiles. You who take the time to read the columns of the Danbury Reporter will find that Mr. French is a wonderful food-medicine for all ages of mankind. It will make the delicate, sickly baby strong and well—will give the pale, anemic girl rosy cheeks and rich, red blood. It will put flesh on the bones of the tired, over-worked, thin man, and will keep the aged man or woman in condition to resist colds or pneumonia in the winter.

I want to say that Mr. French practices what he advocates. As we were saying, we arrived in the forenoon, we met Mrs. French and were ushered into the parlor. Very soon Mr. French came in and any one who has ever seen his picture in the paper would have known him. After dinner was served he took us out to see his cattle and of all the nice cattle I ever saw his were the finest. He has the Aberdeen Angus. They are a beef type of cattle, yet some of them are good milkers. All are registered, and his calves command a high price, as he gets from $50 to $150 each at four and five months old. How is that brother tobacco grower? Looks like it would pay some of us to go into the cattle business and cut out so much tobacco, does it not? Then we went to look at his sheep. He has the full blooded or imported Shropshires and they are nice fellows too. Some dogs got into his flock of sheep a few days ago and killed three of them. He killed the dogs though. I wonder how long the worthless cur is going to run at large without being taxed, wasting and destroying everything in its path? Not much longer, I hope. Then we went to look at his hogs and he has a fine lot. I expect he has a hundred or more, pigs and all. He doesn't sell pigs, but fattens them for market. He tells me that he generally kills between seventy and eighty each year. After we had looked at all his stock we went back to the house where we spent the afternoon and evening beside a nice cold fire. Mr. French was out altogether as his hand is all cleared and in cultivation. Discussing matters pertaining to farming and stock raising, we will say that Mr. French knows something about both.

On the morning of the 19th we took our leave of Mr. French and his wife, thinking that for our enjoyable stay.

Next week we will tell you of other things we have seen.

Yours fraternally,

R. L. NUNN.
