Webb Prather Wedding at Mt. Airy.

Ranking high, in point of brilliancy and charm among an unusually extensive and very prominent circle of friends and relatives in the social world, was the marriage at Central Methodist church, last Thursday evening at 9 o'clock. The contracting parties were Miss Josephine Prather, of this city, and Dr. T. D. Webb, Statesville. The pastor, Rev. J. F. Kirk, officiated, using the ring ceremony of the Episcopal church. Little Miss Julia Prather, the three year old niece of the bride was ring bearer and so well did the tiny little body do her part in the program that it could not have been improved upon.

The bride looked very sweet and gentle in her bridal robe and orange blossoms. She approached the altar on the arm of her brother, Mr. Jesse F. Prather, who seemed impressed by the solemnity of the thought that he was renouncing to another man his prior right as her guardian and protector. The groom and his best man, Mr. Ben Cooper, entered from the vestry room and received the bride at the altar. Miss Lillie Prather, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mrs. Lee Ashcraft, sister of the groom, was matron of honor. The attendants were: Miss Sarah Booe, Walkertown; Mr. Frank Cooper, Statesville; Miss Margaret Chapman, Spartanburg; Mr. Chas. D. Prather, Mount Airy; Miss Mary Sanford, Mocksville; Mr. Claude Evans, Statesville; Miss Carrie Rangely, Stuart, Va.; Mr. McLoon, Statesville; Miss Nannie DeVault, Bristol, Va.; Mr. Gaston Galloway, Mount Airy; Gertrude Smith, Mount Airy; Mr. Carl Wortham, Durham; Miss Alene Galloway, Mount Airy; Miss Briggs Prather, and Mr. Joe Carter, Mount Airy.

The out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Webb, Statesville; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ashcraft, Winston-Salem; Mrs. Peters, Greensboro; Mr. G. E. Estes, Winston-Salem; Mrs. Allen Mills, Statesville; Mr. J. M. Devault, and Miss Margaret Devault, Bristol; and Mrs. Walter Scott, Charlotte.

Miss Prather, or "Josie," as she is affectionately called by her devoted friends, is the youngest child and the pet of the household of the late Mr. Joseph W. Prather and Mrs. Julia Prather. She has spent all her life in this city and needs nothing in the way of eulogy to strengthen the hold she already has upon the affections of her town-people.

She has throughout all her short life maintained in the highest degree the most exalted ideals of highbred Southern womanhood. She is recognized as the loveliest and most charming of Mount Airy's daughters, and has since her debut several years ago, accepted a distinctive place in the admiration of the social world. And her alliance with a man as highly esteemed and as deservedly popular as Dr. Webb has been greeted with unreserved approval by her large circle of friends. The whole community regrets that her life in our midst will not continue and her influence in all the varied centres of interest in the city will be withdrawn, and we most feelingly say that Josie's loss will prove almost irremediable.

One of the sweetest and most touching incidents connected with this marriage was the request made by the young bride on leaving her girlhood home, "that her bridal bouquet be carried to the cemetery and placed on her father's grave." Even amidst her great happiness she remembered the absent loved one. Fortunate indeed, is the young husband who has won the love of such a woman.

The hundreds of handsome presents, fully certified the hold she has on the affections of her friends.

The handsome reception immediately following the ceremony proved an altogether delightful and most thoroughly enjoyable affair. Having for a setting the magnificent colonial homestead which so deservedly ranks among the show places in this section, exquisite interior furnishings and decorations were rendered yet more eye-appealing on this occasion by the added beauty of lavishly disposed floral garnishments.

The dining room was exquisitely designed in an appealing blend of yellow, green and white which so refreshingly pervaded the entire decorative scheme. The table was a thing of beauty, the decorations were charmingly developed by the utilization of silver, cut glass and shimmering masses of southern smilax, roses and ferns. The central mass consisted of a gracefully fashioned "bride's cake," the cutting of which caused much merriment and gave great pleasure to the participants.

During the week preceding the wedding the bridal party were entertained at a house party given by the mother of the bride, during the time there were quite a succession of charming social events complimentary to the young bride and her party.

The tableaux presented by the bridal party around the altar as they knelt to receive the blessing was a scene long to be remembered.

Before the ceremony Miss Minnie Hayness sang in her sweetest voice "Surrender." Then followed the bridal chorus sung by eight ladies, accompanied by Messrs Woodroffe and Miss Beman at the organ.—Mrs. N.

COMPOUND CALLOUSES

Tells Splendid Cure for Them and All Foot Troubles.

A compound callous is the secondary stage when it grows inward and presses on the nerves, causing intense pain. Callouses never cure themselves but always get worse, sometimes irritating the whole nervous system. The following is a most effective and speedy cure "Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of Calocide in a basin of hot water. Soak the feet in this for full fifteen minutes, gently massaging the sore parts. (Less time will not give the desired results.) The soreness will disappear immediately and the callous can be easily peeled off. Repeat this for several nights. A little olive oil rubbed into skin is very beneficial."

This Calocide is a very remarkable preparation for all foot ailments. Bunions, corns and ingrowing nails get instant relief and are soon cured. Bad smelling and sore feet need but a few treatments. Calocide is no longer confined to doctors' use. Any druggist has it in stock or will quickly get it from his wholesale house. A twenty-five cent package is usually enough to put the worst feet in fine condition. It will prove a blessing to persons who have been vainly trying ineffectual tablets and foot powders.
