STOP THE LEAKS.

The list of Stokes people at Winston, as published in a recent issue, is very imposing, but many people call the attention of the Reporter to the fact that the Sentinel did not get all of them. This is true. But the Sentinel did not purport to print all, only a partial list. Stokes county men are mightily closely identified with the life of the leading city of Carolina, and among its main supports are our boys.

But the point which we wanted to make herein is that these men who are helping build Winston-Salem, and the hundreds of other bright and successful Stokes county men who are leaders in the progress and prosperity of other cities and towns besides Winston-Salem, might have stayed at home and been creators of wealth, and promoters of intelligence, thrift, industry and happiness here if we had not believed we were too poor to make it attractive for them at home.

Many a farmer in Stokes county yearly loses his boy because the young man wants to go out in the world and do something. If we could reckon in dollars and cents the worth of each boy that leaves us, how quickly we would pause to think, and examine our policy of economy, to see if it were sound.

Stop the leaks, stop the leaks of our vital resources—our boys.

The poor man who is against the building of good roads, may be likened unto the hungry creature which strikes down the hand that would offer bread.

We have heard of a man who says "what good to me if the value of my farm is increased five-fold or ten-fold by good roads? Can I make more tobacco on it, or more corn, thereby?" They have existed since the foundation of the world, and Moses Stewart says they never will all die.

Seventy years ago shaggy-headed denizens went on record against the building of railroads over the country because, they said, it would scare their stock and cattle. Their descendants seventy years later oppose good roads because it means the coming of the automobile. And automobiles frighten mules.

If you could wake some morning to find there had been created for you a new money crop besides tobacco—for instance, corn, tomatoes, snap beans, lettuce, asparagus, onions, cabbage, chickens, eggs, butter, beef, pork, blackberries, fruits of all kinds, hay, and a whole lot of other eatables—all the stuff you could raise at the very highest prices, and the market right at your doors, what would you do? You would smile, wouldn't you? And you would stop saying, "I would like to sell out and leave." What we all need is a great stirring up of our think boxes. Nothing comes to him who waits.

High Point.

High Point, July 10. Messrs. Editors:

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Samuel fell and broke his arm yesterday.

Mrs. Henry Pool happened to a bad accident Sunday morning; while washing her feet she dropped the looking glass and broke the wash bole and cut her heel nearly off. Dr. Duncan dressed the wound.

Mr. Keelen will soon remove in his new residence on Philbert St.

Mr. S. H. Hartgrove has purchased a lot on Philbert St., and will build on it soon.

I would like to hear from some correspondent on Walnut Cove Route 1.

Wishing the Reporter and its many readers much success. O. U. KID.

Sprains require careful treatment. Keep quiet and apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely. It will remove the soreness and quickly restore the parts to a healthy condition.

Peruna Secrets You Should Know

Golden Seal, the root of the above plant, is a very useful medicine. Many people gather it in our rich woodlands during the summer. Few people know how valuable it is in dyspepsia, catarrh, and as a general tonic. Many thousand pounds of this root are used each year in the famous catarrh remedy, Peruna. This fact explains why everybody uses Peruna for catarrh.

Did you ever work for 10 cents a day? Well, that is all you make worming tobacco with your hands. Get one of our machines, they are only $1.50. They worm as much tobacco as ten men. Does not injure tobacco. For further information, address ACME DISTRIBUTING CO., Reidsville, N. C.

The name To-bac-ton is derived from the well known weed tobacco, whose medicinal value has been known for over four hundred years and was used by the untutored savage long before the discovery of America. Our forefathers took the cue from the Red men of the forest, and it has been handed from generation to generation down to the present time and is still used in a crude way in the rural districts.

It remained, however, for Mr. S. A. Hutchins, of the To-bac-ton Manufacturing Co., to seek out its medicinal value in diseases of the scalp by scientific investigation and by combining it with other meritorious ingredients whose merits were already established, we now have the finished product—To-Bac-Ton Hair Tonic, which we commend to your consideration and use under the proposition that it must meet the requirements of YOUR MONEY BACK.
