There is now no sort of doubt that the Teachers' Voting Contest, running in the Reporter is going to be a big thing, probably the biggest of all the contests conducted by this paper.

Since last week a large number of votes have been issued, while a number of new candidates have been entered by their friends. Many new subscriptions and renewals are coming in, and subscribers and patrons far and near are becoming interested in the contest. Some of the girls are starting to work for themselves, and this is a strong indication of success. Some of the girls consider it great fun to be in the contest, and are asking their friends to help them. Nearly everybody takes the Reporter, and everybody ought to, and everybody ought to be paid up in advance. Every dollar paid on subscription, advertising or job work counts for 100 votes. The votes are given away by the publishers of the Reporter, and every person should vote for the favorite young lady. Cut out the coupons and send them in for your favorite young lady.

The publishers of the Reporter are learning of many young people who are expecting to accompany the elected party on the trip to the ocean, for a seven days outing next spring or summer. We say the ocean, but the place is to be decided by the majority of the girls elected. However, it may almost be assured that Wrightsville or Morehead City will be chosen, as these are counted among the most delightful places in the United States, ranking very high with the leading sea coast resorts of the whole country. All of the contestants running at present that we have heard from, prefer the seacoast to the mountains. It is sure to be a most jolly and happy party, and a really charming and delightful occasion. It is highly probable that the party will be large enough to fill a car, and that a special car will be chartered with no changes from Walnut Cove to the ocean. The Reporter management desires to make this the pleasantest affair of all the girls' lives, and one that they will remember ever afterwards with intensest pleasure. Among the delights of the seacoast are surf bathing, sailing, trips out on the ocean, dancing, fishing parties, rowing, and all kinds of games and sports, and visits to neighboring places of interest, etc., etc. The most delicious fare of oysters, fish, and all kinds of sea-food will be a feature to be contemplated with great relish.

There are many young people, friends of the contestants, young men and young women, as well as older ones, married and unmarried, who have never seen old ocean in all of its splendid majesty, who have never ridden on a sailing vessel, nor bathed in the delightful surf, which yearly affords pleasure and health to millions of people in the United States. This will be the rare opportunity of seeing and participating in those pleasures while in company with friends and acquaintances. If those who wish to go on this trip, with the Reporter's party of elected lady teachers, will notify the publishers in time efforts will be made to get a reasonable rate for the crowd at the hotels and also the lowest cost of transportation.

It is now time for the contestants to begin to put in some work for themselves, which they will find will yield wonderful results. There are thousands upon thousands of votes to be due to patrons of this paper within the next nine weeks, and your share of these may be had for the asking. Request your friends to save all their coupons for you, send word and write to your friends everywhere, at home and abroad, to subscribe for the Reporter and cast their votes in your behalf. If already subscribers, ask them to pay in advance a year or two, or as long ahead as they wish, for you. Remember, advertising and job work counts big and fast. The management gives out votes for advertising and job work, same as subscription. Ask your friend merchants to stick to you.

Remember, somebody is going—eight ladies are sure to make this delightful trip and outing of seven days and all expenses paid. We hope you may be one of the winners.

ON KING ROUTE TWO.

Death of Mrs. John Edwards—Miss Rosa Smith and Mr. Willie Sisk Get Married.

King Route 2.—The farmers of this section are very much behind sowing their wheat, on account of so much rain. But the clouds have passed away, the sun has put forth its brilliant colors, and we think the farmers can finish their crops.

Mrs. John Edwards, who has been confined to her bed for the past three years with paralysis, died last Friday and was buried at the family burying ground near Pinnacle, aged about 75 years.

There is but very little sickness in this section at this writing.

Mr. Willie Sisk and Miss Rosa Smith, of Pinnacle Route 2, surprised their parents by running away and going to Winston and getting married. The newly married couple will make Mt. Airy their future home where the groom holds a responsible position.

A series of meetings began at Mt. Olive on last Sunday conducted by the pastor and Rev. Davis, of Advance.

Miss Daisy Dearmin accompanied by Mr. Tom Smith visited friends and relatives around Westfield last Saturday and Sunday.

Rev. James Bennett, of Pilot Mt., preached at Brim's Grove last Sunday. The congregation was small there being a misunderstanding in his appointment.

Winter is here the most of the people will close their dwellings almost air tight, which is the wrong thing to do, give your home plenty of fresh air and be healthy. Keep your feet warm and your head cool, which means a long life for you.

The health of this community is very good at present.

REPUBLICAN POT SIMMERS

Election a Year Off, But in Stokes the People are Beginning to Think and Talk of the Candidates to Be Nominated For the Offices Next Summer—Prospectives.

This time next fall, only a little over eleven months, all the county and legislative officers are to be re-elected, with one exception, namely Clerk of the Court M. T. Chilton, whose present term does not expire until two years after next December. Those whose present terms of office will expire next fall are Sheriff C. M. Jones, Register of Deeds Dr. W. C. Slate, Treasurer Geo. W. Neal, and County Commissioners John W. Gann, Chap Bodenheimer and T. M. Lawson. Representative J. M. Fagg is to have a successor in the legislature also, while all the minor county officers, such as Surveyor, Coroner, etc., are to be re-elected. There is an unwritten or written law in the statute books of the Republican party in Stokes, or inscribed elsewhere on the tables of their hearts, that no officer shall hold more than two terms of the same office in succession. This law may or may not be binding in the organization, but it is pretty strictly observed in these latter days. On this principle, therefore, Charles M. Jones, Wesley C. Slate, James M. Fagg and probably some of the other officers must step down and out and allow some of the balance of the faithful to come in.

Sheriff Jones has held two terms of the Register's office and as many of the Sheriff's, and this time he retires. He owns a farm near Walnut Cove, and tells the Reporter that when his present tenure is out, he will betake himself to the quiet seclusion of his plantation where, away from the turmoil of politics, he will revel in corn and grass, potatoes, watermelons and tobacco. Sheriff Jones assured the Reporter that while he was deeply appreciative of the kindness of his friends who have stuck so close to him, that nevertheless he had enough. He said he had made no money, but was thankful, just the same.

Into Sheriff Jones' shoes several leading Republicans of the county are aspiring to step. The list of candidates for Sheriff is always large, but not within recent years perhaps have so many of the leaders of the party been mentioned for the place. First comes County Commissioners Chap Bodenheimer, who is an avowed candidate. Mr. Bodenheimer, as commissioner, has become acquainted with a large number of Republicans in all sections of the county. He will run very strong in the convention. Next is Dr. W. C. Slate, who, while he will not admit that he is a candidate, takes the position that he is at the mercy of his friends, and should those who supported him for the present office desire him to make the race for Sheriff in the interest of the party, he could not decline. Dr. Slate says that a number of his friends are urging him to run. Therefore, it is generally taken that Doc is a candidate. Next, Mr. D. V. Carroll, of Mizpah, is talked of prominently for Sheriff, and no person will deny that all others will have to stand up and take notice if Dee enters the lists. These are the three most prominent candidates the Reporter hears talked of, and they are among the Republican party's strongest leaders and cleanest men. A scrap between them would mean the rallying of a large following for each, and odds pretty nearly even on the result.

For Register of Deeds there are also a number of candidates mentioned, among them being R. Frank Bondurant, of Francisco; J. R. Voss, of Walnut Cove; J. Walter Tuttle, of King Route 1; T. S. Petree, of Danbury; James M. Fagg, of Red Shoals. All are young men, and either one of them can rally a good crowd of friends.

For the office of member of the House of Representatives R. L. Nunn, of Westfield, is mentioned very prominently. Mr. Nunn is President of the Stokes County Farmers' Union, and thereby enjoys large acquaintance in the county, and would be hard to defeat for the nomination, if he wants it. For the Senate they are talking Mr. R. J. Petree of Germantown. Mr. Petree has had a lot of experience in the legislature, and this is strongly urged in his favor by his friends.

For county commissioner to succeed Mr. Bodenheimer, should he be nominated for Sheriff, there are a number of prominent Republicans discussed, among them being Mr. R. F. Fulk, of Pinnacle, and Mr. James W. Owens, of Quaker Gap township.

It is generally agreed that Treasurer Geo. W. Neal will have no opposition for re-nomination.

From now on politics in the Republican camp will wax warmer. It is only about seven or eight months until the conventions will name the nominees.

HONOR ROLL.

Subscriptions Received From All Over the Wide Country, Near and Far.

The Reporter returns thanks to a number of patrons for remittances on subscription during the last few days, as follows:

C. O. Hall, J. W. Denny, Mrs. Mary A. Eaton, J. W. Thore, J. L. Merritt, C. N. Kallam, Joe Powell, Alex Flippin, M. B. Griffin, I. D. Knight, Miss Lydia Martin, D. E. Nelson, Mrs. P. D. Webster, Mrs. Malissa Manning, John Bostick, W. T. McDaniel, Wm. H. White, S. F. Thore, J. E. Thore, R. S. Coleman, Carrie Hairston, C. R. Simmons, J. N. Highfill, E. J. Styers, Benjamin Knight, J. L. Miles, Joe Tilley, Emmet C. Willis, R. F. Fulk, J. M. Shelton, McGehee & Co., R. B. Price, J. F. Mabe, Reuben Overby, W. A. Palmer, Miss Nannie Fowler, Cicero Boles, J. W. Lawson, J. W. Pell, Mrs. Berry E. Kallam, Mrs. J. H. Peck, S. M. Nelson, Miss Lilla Martin, G. C. Davis, Miss Janie Johnson, W. H. Boyles, S. P. Jones, R. L. Brown, Mrs. Mary T. Wilson, Miss Daisy Dearmin, H. L. Culler, J. R. Tuttle, F. S. Nunn, L. A. Knight, Wm. Ore, J. C. Andrews, O. R. Kiger, J. H. Loggins, A. A. Bowles, P. H. Linville, M. T. Meadows, Cabell Hairston, A. J. Brown, L. B. Boles, W. P. Mabe, Willie Collins, Miss Nannie A. Peterson, J. R. Joyce, H. O. Sams, W. R. Hicks, W. H. Hartman, C. H. Mayberry, W. C. Paris, C. L. Slawter, J. W. Simmons, J. J. Shaffer.

We are revising our list, and dropping those who are behind considerably, as the United States postal laws do not now permit a newspaper to be mailed under the regular rate to subscribers who are in arrears several years, but the same must be stamped for mailing which makes it for too expensive. Therefore the only thing to be done in order to comply with the law, is to make a clean list, and this we are now at work trying to do.

The Reporter has the best list of subscribers of most any paper anywhere. It is composed of high-toned, honorable and straight men and women, who appreciate the value of their county paper, and take a pleasure in paying for it. Of course, we are troubled now and then with a few crooked folks, who will subscribe for the paper and then after taking it a year or two, order it stopped without paying up, and when requested to pay, they get mad and claim that they did not subscribe for longer than 3 months, or 6 months or a year, and refuse to pay. A man who will take and read a newspaper and then refuse to pay for it on the ground that he did not want it longer than a specified time, is no better than the fellow who obtains good merchandise in any other dishonest way.

But, as said above, the Reporter has but little experience with this class of people. We drop them, and send their names to the Publishers Collection Agency, as they are liable in law

Sandy Ridge Route 1, Nov. 13.—There is a lot of sickness in this section at present.

The death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Jackson Monday and took away one of their infant children. It had diphtheria. On Wednesday night their oldest son died of the same disease. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of the entire community. God's will be done—not ours.

Mr. R. O. Woods and Miss Ada Hawkins were married at the home of the bride Sunday, Nov. 12. We wish for them a long and happy life. Think the wedding bells will ring again soon.

There is an abundance of game in this section. Birds and rabbits are plentiful and a few foxes have been seen. Also there is a wild beast of some species at large in this community. It is supposed to be a wolf or coyote. People are very much behind with their work here on account of so much rain.
