Read the New Ad of the Bank of Stokes County.

Attention is called to the change of ad of the Bank of Stokes County in this issue. The Bank's exhibit is very fine. The theme of the ad this week is in showing that it is a true farmers' institution. Among its stockholders are a large number of the most prosperous and substantial farmers of the county, many of them being members of the Farmers' Union. The Bank invites the farmers of Stokes county who are not already depositors with them, to become so, and promises every accommodation and every courtesy to the men who are the backbone of the country—the farmers.
