PICNIC AND REUNION OF THE DANBURY REPORTER'S CORRESPONDENTS.

The Reporter expects to give its county correspondents a reunion and picnic at Piedmont Springs one day this summer, probably about the first of August. The date will be announced later. It has long been the intention of the publishers to show some substantial form of appreciation of the faithful and efficient efforts of the large corps of writers who weekly give the news from all the neighborhoods of the county. They number some forty or fifty, and comprise some of the brightest men and women of the county. Their work has been of great value to this paper, and a source of never ending interest and pleasure to the many readers of the Reporter not only in Stokes county, but in many other counties and States from Maine to California, and even in Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines. The plan for the reunion will be worked out, and full particulars sent to each of our correspondents some time soon. A program will be prepared. A speaker of State reputation will address the writers on some topic apropos of their work, which is educational. There will be music, social intercourse, probably a mountain trip, and a picnic dinner, prepared at the expense of this paper. Invitations will be sent out about June or July.

It will be the purpose of the paper to make the reunion and picnic of the correspondents an annual event of interest and profit to the correspondents of the Reporter.

DON'T PUT ALL YOUR EGGS IN ONE BASKET.

Scattered about over Stokes county you may find here and there solid, substantial citizens, good farmers, with their lands paid for, with comfortable and commodious homes, with their soils improved and improving every year, and with money in the bank. These men have not made their successes by putting all their eggs in one basket, nor by planting all their lands to tobacco, and depending on tobacco money to buy daisy middlings, meat, flour, and baled hay. Ask S. H. Steele, J. D. Young, W. R. Hylton, J. V. Marshall, W. D. Browder, Wm. Watts, J. D. Hicks, A. D. Dodd, I. D. Barr, W. A. Petree, I. G. Ross, J. T. Kallam, J. T. Joyce, Rev. P. Oliver, Joel Robertson, and dozens of others whom we could name to what they attribute their success. Ask them if they made their money raising all tobacco, and buying their supplies. Not a single one of them will say yes. But each and every one will attribute his success to producing his home supplies at home, and then giving the balance of his energy to the money crop. They have seen days when tobacco was high, and they have watched the days when tobacco was low come again. When tobacco was high they still kept their corn cribs and smoke houses at home.

It is one of the fundamental principles of farmers unionism that meat and bread, hay and chop, and all the home supplies which can be grown in this climate, shall be raised at home. We'll bet Alex Southern never bought half a dozen bags of daisy middlings in his life. M. D. Tuttle told the Reporter one day how little of these things he had bought in his farm life of some thirty or forty years or more experience, and if everybody had done like him, what a prosperous country this would be.

The farmer who makes his stuff at home is independent. He can smile at hard times, hoot at low tobacco, and snap his finger at money stringencies. He can lie down at night knowing that he is following the line of farming which means safety and success.

Tobacco was high last fall, and if it would always stay so, it might be well for us to give all the lands to raising the money crop. But tobacco will not be high always. The pendulum of the clock will sway back the other way some day, and it is well to always be on the safe side.

TWO SAD DEATHS

Thos. Prillman Accidentally Shoots and Kills His Wife—Horrible Death of Mrs. Elizabeth Prillman—Other News of Interest.

On Sunday morning, the 20th, Mr. Tom Prillman, of near Prillman's switch, accidentally shot and killed his wife. She was out on the porch churning and saw a hawk among the chickens and after calling her husband to shoot it, she went back and stood in the door watching the hawk. He was in a hurry and in some strange way the gun went off and shot her in the back. She lived something over half an hour, and told those present before she died that her husband was not to blame. She spoke concerning the welfare of her two children, and expressed regret at having to leave them and husband so soon, and bidding them come to the bed, kissed them a long farewell. Their intention had been to attend services at Republican Baptist church that day and have dinner at the hospitable home of Mr. Charlie Burnett. But alas! so soon the bloom of health lay withered in death.

Her body was laid among her kinspeople on Monday, the 21st. Elders Corn, Philpot, Wilson and Johnson preached her funeral.

Then on Wednesday, the 23rd, sad news reached us of the horrible death of Mrs. Elizabeth Prillman, who they said, was at the washplace quite a distance from the house and out sight and hearing of the house. Her clothing caught fire, and they reasonably supposed they burned her to death. She failing to come to dinner they went to learn the cause and found her sitting against the engine house with part of her clothing torn from body and the rest burned off, with signs where she scrambled around trying to put out the fire. Her hair and flesh were burned badly and the plank was scorched where she sat against the engine house. She was near 77 years old, or perhaps older. She lived with her son, Mr. Jesse Jodes. She was buried Thursday at the large burying ground at Mr. Marsh Prillman's. Elders, Corn and Johnson preached her funeral. She was at the funeral of Mrs. Tom Prillman's Monday, only a mile or so away.

Mr. J. B. Houchins of near Stuart tells The Enterprise that while traveling through eastern Stokes county, N. C., last week he saw the four-year-old son of Mr. Organ Taylor, formerly of this county, covering corn with a double-shovel plow, in the fine river bottoms on his father's farm.

It is learned that the town will soon begin the laying of concrete side walks, running the length both sides of Main Street. Dr. R. S. Martin has purchased himself a five passenger automobile.

LOOK OUT FOR THE NEW MONEY

Size of present bill—7.2x3.04 inches.

Size of new bill—6x2.5 inches.

The New and Smaller Paper Currency

It is expected that within a month or two the people of the United States will witness a great revolution in the size and appearance of their paper money. Each one of the two billion notes of that kind now in circulation will be supplemented by uniform pieces of currency about a quarter size smaller than now used.

The change in size is not the only one. Any note with Washington's portrait on it will be one dollar, Jefferson's, two dollars, Lincoln's, five dollars, Grover Cleveland's, ten dollars, Alexander Hamilton's, twenty dollars, and so on. This plan will render the raising of bills by crooks an impossibility, and we will have the safest and simplest system of national currency in the world.

However, the new money will be just as elusive--just as hard to get and keep--as the old currency, and your need for the services of a good bank in caring for it will be just as great. This strong institution stands ready to serve you in this connection.
