

Present Conditions Will Grow Worse Unless a Remedy is Found

I have just finished reading your article on the Negro question in this week's Progressive Farmer with much interest. I must say that I believe that you have expressed the sentiment of nine-tenths of the white people in the South, rich and poor. There may be a small element of whites who do not agree with you, but these few are too lazy to work and are willing to put up with any kind of conditions however onerous it may be from a social standpoint just so they can get the Negro to do things for them—things which, if they were worth a row of "bean hills," they would do for themselves. We have them in Sampson County; we have them all over the South. However, they are exceptions rather than the rule.

This Negro question is, and has always been, the greatest question before the Southern people to solve. They would have solved it long ago, if it had not been for outside interference. From the time that the first Negro landed in this country until this hour he has been a constant source of anxiety and trouble to the white race.

And now, as you say, they are making social conditions such in the rural districts of the South that the white man, rather than subject his wife and children to it, would rather move into the towns, and suffer every privation rather than submit to such social conditions.

I know what you mean, and I know what the remedy is. It is to stop the immigration of Negroes into the South, and to stop the immigration of whites into the North. If we do this, we can solve the problem.

There is no remedy in the South that is simply social. If there is not a radical change made, this condition of affairs will continue to grow worse, and men of the white race will be concentrated into the towns and cities, seeking menial employment in the workshops and factories, while the Negroes will have possession of the farm lands, the real source of food supply. And then what, Mr. Editor? At whose mercy will the white man be? For God's sake is it possible for men of our race to be subjected to such conditions? It is possible and probable under such social conditions. Men whose conditions cannot be changed by shot and shell can be changed by social environment.

"North Carolina and the South for the White Race," should be the slogan from now henceforth. If this Republic is to endure and Anglo-Saxon civilization is to be maintained and perpetuated, it must be handed down by those who created it. As man is a product of environment, this cannot be done if the white race is shut up in sweatshops and factories, forced into them by social conditions unbearable, while Right Here Is Your Chance To Buy That Typewriter!

This is a Straight-from-the-Shoulder Typewriter Talk by a Typewriter Man to the Readers of the Reporter.

No other typewriter built—no matter of any other make—is so popular as the New Fox Visible Typewriter. It is the most popular of its kind because of its simplicity, its number and convenience of its special features. There are many good typewriters being built, and sold, but we claim for the New Fox Visible Typewriter that it is better than the best of these, and that its automatic features combined cannot be found in any other typewriter. The New Fox is a typewriter that will meet with the approval of the most critical user. A single demonstration will convince you—we will make that our expense, if you will permit us.

Whether you have had the use of a typewriter or not, you have paid for one many times over! Yes, sir, we mean it every day you continue using the old, slow method of writing with a pen you are unconsciously paying for a typewriter. The farmer who cuts his grain with a scythe pays with every drop of sweat for a reaper. If you are neglectful of your wearing apparel and expose yourself unnecessarily to the rain and cold you are paying for the very things that would have kept you well and comfortable. Remember this and mark it well: You must Pay—Pay for the necessities of this life, whether you use them or not.

THIS IS THE NEW VISIBLE FOX "BETTER THAN THE BEST OF ALL OTHERS" Sent on Free Trial, Express Pd.

Look at the illustration of our New Fox Visible Typewriter, shown above, and compare it with any other typewriter you have ever seen or used. Here is a really VISIBLE typewriter—note that the printing point is on top in plain sight, and that the type bars rise from where they are lying and strike the platen in full view of the operator, and in a direct line of vision, and that all of what you have written remains in full sight until the paper is removed from the typewriter. Compare this with those old style typewriters, that some firms are still advertising as visibles, but on which the printing point is beneath the typebars, and you have to look down into them—or between them—to see what you have written. Touch a key in the keyboard and you change the color of your writing instantly from black, blue, or purple to red. Press the Tabulator Key at the left (in front) for paragraphing, writing the complimentary closing, etc.; also for all kinds of billing. At the right (in front) is our Back Space Key. This moves the carriage backward for making corrections, or putting in punctuation. This key also enables the operator to erase a word of three letters and write one of four in its place. Press the Stencil Key shown at the left (front) for making stencils from which thousands of duplicate letters can be made. Four rows of keys reduce the shifting one-third. The right Shift Key locks automatically for writing in all caps. A positive automatic Line Lock prevents pen from writing beyond a predetermined line. The ribbon travels in a straight line, not straight across from spool to spool as on others—thus using all of the ribbon, and making it last three or four times as long as on other typewriters. The ribbon advances itself from the spool in the other without any attention from the operator. The keys are inter-changeable and you can call bearing tracks. There are no rollers, no typebars, no ink, and no water can be used on the same typewriter. It is extremely light and compact, and is lighter than the heaviest of the old typewriters. A change of Roman, Roman Roman, or Type Type, we carry more than three hundred styles of our own manufacture, and can furnish keyboards for any of these styles, almost at any time, and in every quantity, and is not complicated by the use of the hard wood keys.

It is a fact that the Fox Visible Typewriter has been sold in every part of the world, and in every country, and in every language. It is the most popular of its kind because of its simplicity, its number and convenience of its special features. There are many good typewriters being built, and sold, but we claim for the New Fox Visible Typewriter that it is better than the best of these, and that its automatic features combined cannot be found in any other typewriter. The New Fox is a typewriter that will meet with the approval of the most critical user. A single demonstration will convince you—we will make that our expense, if you will permit us.
