THE HEALTH EXHIBIT.

To Be a Wide-Awake Feature of the State Fair.

Besides holding the Better Babies Contest at the State Fair, October 20th to 25th, the State Board of Health will give its first general public health exhibit this year. In this exhibit no attempt will be made to show how much has been accomplished or how well any one department has done its work, but special effort will be made to show how sanitation may be made to apply to common, everyday life. Particular attention will be given to the matter of tuberculosis, care and feeding of infants, flies, and cheap, home-made sanitary devices of all kinds.

Unless all signs fail, this will be one of the most practical educational features at the fair. At least one demonstrator will be in charge at all times, and no pains will be spared to thoroughly acquaint all visitors with the meaning of every piece of exhibit material.

The exhibit promises to be a live, wide-awake feature of the fair. Any one looking for dry-cake-powder statistics, etc., will be disappointed. On the other hand, there will be living, moving, working models, a free five-act miniature play, and other features right up to the minute. If you want the worth of your admission ticket don't miss the health exhibit. It will be next to the Better Babies Contest.

The Stokes County Fair starts at King Tuesday. Quite a number of our citizens in this section will no doubt attend.

Huh!

LITTLE old rain cloud scooting across the sky has no scares for me any more.

"Used to make a bee-line for the under side of the nearest grocery store awning at the slightest sprinkle. But a few drops won't hurt this Kirschbaum suit—not by a jugful."

No matter if your Kirschbaum suit is badly drenched, there will be no crinkly look that can't be quickly pressed out.

For Kirschbaum Clothes are all wool and shrunk by the original London cold-water process. And they are the only ones at their prices which are hand-tailored and sewn with silk thread.

Stokes Man Leases Mt. Airy Hotel.

Mr. R. A. Martin, of Stokes county, has rented the Central Hotel and will move here next week with his family and take charge at once. The building is being thoroughly cleaned and repainted and will look like a new place when the workmen get their job completed.—Mt. Airy News.

Mrs. J. C. Newsum Dies Near King, Aged 75.

King, Oct. 9.—Mrs. J. C. Newsum, aged 75 years, died at her home near here last night of heart failure. She is survived by one son and several grandchildren. Mrs. Newsum was the widow of the late J. C. Newsum, who represented this county in the legislature two terms. The interment will be from Galatia church tomorrow at 11 o'clock.

Timber Being Destroyed.

It is said that careless hunters destroy many thousands of dollars worth of timber in Stokes each year. We have often seen the very finest trees lying in the woods rotting where they had been cut by hunters for 'possums, coons, etc. Post your lands against this. Send the Danbury Reporter 10c, and you will get a dozen land posters mailed to you postage paid.

Mr. W. P. Lankford, of Moore's Springs, was here Saturday. Mr. Lankford has not been in good health for several months, got too hot while cutting wheat last summer, and since has been nervous and short-breathed. Mr. Lankford visited the Winston market last week, and sold some tobacco at a good price.

Cure for Stomach Disorders.

Disorders of the stomach may be avoided by the use of Chamberlain's Tablets, any very remarkable cures have been effected by these tablets. Sold by all dealers.

News and Personal Items of Danbury Route 1.

Danbury Route 1, Oct. 11.—The people of this section are about through cutting tobacco.
