

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

Mr. Rufe Nelson, of Piedmont Springs was here Friday.

Mr. Thomas S. Petree visited friends at Walnut Cove Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Neal, of Meadows, visited Danbury Monday.

Mr. Zeb V. Martin, of Sandy Ridge, was among Danbury's visitors Monday.

Mr. Drew F. Priddy, of Danbury Route 1, was a visitor here Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Joyce returned Saturday from a visit to relatives at Winston-Salem.

Mr. A. J. Brown, of Westfield Route 1, was here attending to some business Monday.

Rev. J. M. Martin, of Stuart, Va., was in Danbury Saturday on his way home from a trip to High Point.

Messrs. C. D. and Geo. W. Smith, good citizens of Campbell Route 1, were here attending to some business matters Monday.

Mr. Robt. H. Priddy, of Danbury Route 1, was a Danbury visitor Monday. Mr. Priddy reported that his brother, Willie J. Priddy, was right ill.

Mr. Ernest Nelson, of Danbury Route 1, visited the Reporter office Monday. Ernest has some fine tobacco to put on the market this season.

Mr. J. W. Hall, who represented Stokes in the Senate, returned from Raleigh Saturday night, where he had been attending the special session of the Legislature.

Messrs. D. F. Tillotson and J. D. Hall were here Friday looking after the Quickstep telephone system which has been out of repair for some time. The line going out from here is now in good condition.

Mr. Jno. W. Gann, of Madison Route 3, was here Monday and paid his subscription to the Reporter in advance. Mr. Gann has long been a reader and friend of this paper. He has been summoned as a juror for next week's term of court.

Messrs. John G. Morefield and Charles R. Helsabeck spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of Mr. Morefield's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Morefield, at Vade Mecum.

Mr. R. T. Joyce recently spent some time with his father Hon. A. H. Joyce at Danbury. The old gentleman is now eighty seven years old and his health is so feeble that he is not able to be out of bed. He enjoys life and talks as freely as a man of much less age and strength.

Mr. C. A. Wagoner, of Dillard, was here Saturday. Mr. Wagoner reports that Mr. J. G. H. Mitchell and family are this week moving to their new home at Walnut Cove. They are also accompanied by Mrs. B. J. Martin and family. Mr. Wagoner has recently visited Rockingham county, where is in the notion of buying land.

Mr. J. R. Forest, of Francisco, sawmill man, farmer and merchant, was in Danbury Saturday. Mr. Forest says that the storms of wind and hail did a great deal of damage to the tobacco and corn crops of Quaker Gap, but nevertheless that the people will have money this fall, thanks to the good prices being paid for tobacco.

Mr. O. J. Cates, of Walnut Cove, was in Danbury Saturday attending to some business matters. It is learned that Mr. Cates will probably be chosen as Superintendent of the road work soon to be done in Sauratown township. Mr. Cates is no doubt a capable man, having been a railway contractor in former years.

Mr. J. Wesley Morefield and family, of Sandy Ridge Route 1, have moved to their new home in Walnut Cove. Mr. Morefield recently erected a new residence up on the heights at this end of the town and has a nice place. He will devote a good part of his time to the store which he recently bought there.

Mr. Moses B. Mabe was here Saturday sucking at the end of a cheroot like he was being paid for it. Mr. Mabe raised about 15 barns of fine tobacco this time, and has already sold some of it at a good price, and he naturally feels comfortable in his capacious anatomy. He is not going to rush any more off to market, he says, until the weather clears up, and breaks are over. He has been firing to keep it from getting too high in order. Mr. Mabe will put 30 acres in wheat this time.

Engine Headlight Illuminates For 76 Miles.

Tyrone, Okla., Oct. 10.—From 7 to 9 o'clock each evening the dozen homes of Tyrone are lighted by the great headlight of a Rock Island passenger train, and the story of a traveling man's discomfort and the $2 it cost him for cigars for the men of the town explains the distinction held by this Panhandle metropolis.

J. P. Bancroft, representing a Kansas City house, had been sent down here to establish a new customer. He had finished his work and intended to take night train back to Liberal. With a half dozen men Bancroft sat in the hotel balcony playing cards. He looked down the track and saw a great headlight looming up. He made a rush for his grips and yelled for the boy to take them over to the depot quick. Bancroft rushed up to the ticket window and demanded a ticket for Liberal.

"How's this?" he said to the agent. "I thought this train wasn't due for an hour, and here she is not a mile away." "Mister," the agent replied, "you had better go back to the hotel and buy cigars for that bunch. I guess this is your first trip down here. That headlight is just forty-nine miles away; you've got nearly an hour to finish that game of pinochle.

"This is the longest stretch of straight track in the United States—76 miles clear across the panhandle without a curve. You see that house over there? That's where I live. I don't have to light up until after 9 o'clock winter nights. About twilight the Golden State limited looms up down about Texhoma and she shines right into my kitchen window for an hour, finally getting so bright that my wife has to pull the curtain, and 10 minutes behind her comes the 34, and it takes her 70 minutes to get by with her light.

"It's a great saving for me, and my wife now won't wash dishes by anything but electric light. I never have to call the dispatcher to get the time on trains. I climb to the roof of the station, get a line on the headlight and make up my board accordingly."

Examinations Soon To Be Held For Fourth-Class Postmasters.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 6.—The postmaster general has, under the recent order of the president, directed the civil service commission to hold civil service examinations throughout North Carolina for the selection of all fourth class postmasters with an annual salary of more than $180, and that work will soon be entered upon by the commission. This action means that the fourth class postmasters will, without unnecessary delay, be appointed according to those regulations.
