

GOV. CRAIG BUYS OVERALLS.

Will Spend November 5th and 6th Working The Roads In Either Buncombe Or Wake County.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 18.—Gov. Craig has already purchased for himself a pair of overalls and stated today that he would spend Nov. 5th and 6th working the roads.

The Governor has not yet decided whether he will work on the Wake county roads or the roads of his home county—Buncombe. He is confidently expecting that the people generally will follow his example, and that a far stride in road building will be taken the State over on these two days.

A Mountaineer's Chinquepin Crop.

Mr. W. S. Parker, the chinquepin grower of this section, left us a sample lot of fine nuts Saturday. He informs us that his orchard on Crooked Creek yielded an excellent crop this year. From his largest tree he gathered six quarts without completely trimming the tree. At one trip he brought to market at Old Fort two bushels and one peck. The whole amount sold this year netted $17.55, being a gain of $4.70 over last year, notwithstanding one hog and two calves were feeding on them daily.

Mr. J. B. Martin, of Stuart, Va., was here a short while Saturday.

Danbury Hunters Capture Grey Fox.

A large grey fox was captured by some of our local hunters early Saturday morning after a long and exciting chase in the foot hills of the Sauratown mountain two miles west of Danbury. The chase lasted about 4 hours and there were 20 or more dogs running.

To Hold Another Bond Election For Good Roads.

Mt. Airy, Oct. 17.—The people of Marsh township tried to carry a bond election for good roads some months ago and failed to secure enough votes. Realizing the wretched condition of their roads the friends of the measure are making a second attempt to get the bonds voted. The election will be held on November 12th and the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars will be voted for. There is no township in the county that needs bonds worse than Marsh. It is one of the finest sections of the county and some of the best farmers in the county live there. The travel over their roads to the railroad is heavy and the roads get almost impassable in the winter months. It looks like the people are almost forced to do something to get a change from the present conditions.

Messrs. J. W. Kurfees, L. M. McKenzie and H. McGee, of Germanton, attended court here this week.
