

BITTEN BY RABID DOG.

Mr. Geo. Ore, of Vade Mecum, Goes To Raleigh For Treatment.

A maddog which visited the Vade Mecum section the past week bit Mr. Geo. Ore and he left this week for Raleigh to take the pasteur treatment at the State hospital. Mr. Ore is among the best citizens of that section of the county and his many friends regret his misfortune very much.

The head of the dog which bit Mr. Ore was sent to Raleigh last week and a telegram this week from Dr. Shore, who is in charge of the Pasteur Institute, stated that the dog had rabies. Mr. Ore left immediately for Raleigh.

A number of dogs were also bitten in the Vade Mecum section by the same dog and more trouble is expected in that neighborhood.

LATER—John Rierison, of the Vade Mecum section, who was here yesterday, stated that the same dog which bit Mr. Ore also bit a child of John Beasley Mabe in the Brown Mt. section, and that she was taken to the hospital in Raleigh this week.

State Tuberculosis Sanatorium Reopens

The State Sanatorium for the Treatment of Tuberculosis at Montrose will reopen December 1st for the treatment of tubercular patients in the first and moderately advanced stages of tuberculosis. This institution was closed by its Board of Directors last September, and the Legislature was asked to turn it over to the State Board of Health. The new Board will reopen it December 1st. The institution has beds for only fifty patients, but already over thirty applications for admittance have been received.

The very limited capacity of the institution, together with the meagre funds provided for maintenance, make it possible for the Board to accommodate all the tubercular sick in the State. For this reason it will be found necessary to make the institution do the most good for the greatest number, instead of some good for a few. It will therefore be necessary to select out of the applications made those that can be cured the easiest and quickest. For instance, it would be manifestly unfair to fill the institution up with consumptives in the last stages because such patients have such a meagre chance of recovering and would keep others out of the institution for a long time, perhaps a year. On the other hand, many more patients in the early stage of the disease could be cured and sent home in the same time. Nearly all cases of tuberculosis can now be cured by from four to six or eight months of absolute rest, fresh air and abundance of good food, but not nearly so many cases of advanced tuberculosis can be cured, even after long treatment.

For a patient to enter the State Sanatorium it will be necessary to write to the State Board of Health at Raleigh for an application blank. Have a physician examine the patient and fill out the blank and return to the State Board of Health. If the patient is found to be in the early stages or moderately advanced stages and there is room at the institution, he will be accepted upon payment of a minimum charge of $1.00 a day. This charge scarcely pays half the cost of patient for the treatment given. The remainder of cost is paid by the State.

Special arrangements are being made to care for the tuberculosis poor. Churches, fraternal orders, city and county authorities are providing for the maintenance of such patients. Any person having tuberculosis there should not let the question of money interfere. In treating tuberculosis there is no time to waste. The State Board of Health should be advised at once, as arrangements can doubtless be made to provide the necessary dollar a day for treatment.
