

WALNUT COVE LETTER

Mr. John Flynt Passes Away At Ripe Old Age.

TOBACCO BREAKS

Mr. Derby, Civil Engineer. Looking After Sauratown Road Work.

Walnut Cove, Jan. 13.—Mr. John Flynt, an aged and highly respected citizen of the Belwevs Creek section, passed away at his home Sunday evening of pneumonia. The deceased had many friends and relatives here who sympathize very deeply with the grief stricken family, but we feel that their loss is his eternal gain.

Funeral services and interment will be held at Salem Chapel cemetery this morning at eleven o'clock, of which the deceased had been a member for a long while.

Mr. M. N. Wheeler returned Sunday from Roanoke, Va., where he attended the annual Banquet of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers. He reports a delightful occasion. During his absence he was relieved from his work at the N. & W. Ry. by operator O. C. Skinell, of Roanoke, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. George Semple spent Saturday p. m. and Sunday with relatives in Winston-Salem.

Mr. Porter McKenzie, of Winston-Salem, was in town Saturday and Sunday.

The Stokes County Warehouse continues to have big breaks of tobacco and prices are satisfactory to both warehousemen and farmers. The averages last week were considerably higher than they were on the markets elsewhere, and we are sure that speaks well of our home market.

The extension on the warehouse is progressing nicely and when finished will enable the warehousemen to take care of tobacco in larger quantities. We feel safe in saying that farmers will do well in selling the remainder of their crop on the Walnut Cove market.

Miss Sallie Fulton visited Greensboro last week. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Derby, of Burnsville, are in town. Mr. Derby is a civil engineer and is looking after the good roads of Sauratown township.

Heaviest Snow Storm In 20 Years In Alleghany

Sparta, Jan. 10.—Since last Thursday this section has experienced the heaviest snow-storm in twenty years. Snow fell most of Thursday and Friday and Friday night. In this time snow fell to the depth of twenty inches. High winds followed Saturday, drifting the snow in many places ten to fifteen feet deep. No railroad mail was received here since last Thursday until today.

Overseers of the roads have had all men available opening a passway sufficient to travel on horseback. Most of the schools suspended Monday and Tuesday. For the first time in many years, there was no meeting of the Board of County Commissioners, the chairman being the only member of the Board able to reach here. Old people claim this to be the heaviest snow in their memory. The mule and horse sale advertised for Tuesday was a complete failure, neither mules, horses or buyers could reach Sparta. It is understood several buyers from Winston-Salem came to Thurmond but returned home from there.

GOVERNOR TO COMPLIMENT MOTHERS.

Will Write Personal Letter to Every Mother Who Has Her Baby Registered.

Governor Craig is greatly interested in North Carolina babies and is extending the full privileges of the new Vital Statistics law to every baby born in the State. To this end he has just announced that, in special recognition of every baby whose birth is recorded under this new law, he will write the mother a letter and not only compliment her on her motherhood, but express his personal appreciation of her having availed herself of the privilege of the new law.

Babies whose parents do not think enough of them to have their births recorded will of course not hear from the Governor.

Along with the Governor's letter the State Board of Health asked to be allowed to send some of its best literature on the care and feeding of infants and in this way endeavor to reduce our tremendous infant mortality.

The Governor fully appreciates the great privilege the State affords its citizens in making complete official records of their births and deaths.

There is a provision in the new law whereby births and deaths that occurred before the law became effective last fall may be registered, and it is interesting to note that our own Governor was the first citizen of the State to avail himself of this privilege and to file his birth certificate. Since that date many other births have been similarly recorded.

MAJOR STEDMAN.

The Durham Sun recently contained an article stating that there had been a great deal of talk of Major Stedman's dropping out of the race for Congress to succeed himself. The writer in the same article states that Mr. Bryant, if a candidate, would carry Chatham county.

The gentleman who wrote the article did not seem to be very well informed either as to Major Stedman or the counties in his district. The fact is that Major Stedman is in the race and there to stay.

How the writer of that article could conceive that Chatham county which is not in this district, was against Major Stedman, is interesting. The fact is that Major Stedman was born in Chatham county and in two contests for the nomination for governor carried the county by almost a unanimous vote.

This paper knows that Mr. Bryant, who so beautifully presented Major Stedman to the latter of these conventions, and who has long been his friend, could not have been the inspiration of this article, for he not only knows that Major Stedman is no quitter, but that few men have accomplished more in Congress in the short time he has been there than Major Stedman.

We have known Major Stedman about sixteen years and we never have seen him in better mental or physical health and vigor than he is today. Of course, we do not know all about politics, but what little we know and from what information we have, we believe that Major Stedman is stronger in this district than he has ever been, and in a primary will carry it by a tremendous majority.

It is a pity that any paper should strike at Major Stedman, or misrepresent him. We would certainly like to know what gentlemen have informed the Durham Sun that Major Stedman would withdraw from the race. This Confederate soldier, who has given as much of his time, money and life to the Democratic party as any man in the State, is entitled to a square deal, and though he is amply able to take care of himself, he has thousands of strong men all over the district willing to undertake to see that he gets it, and no misrepresentations can prevent it. Major Stedman is a member Second Grand Opening of The Stokes County Warehouse at Walnut Cove, Wednesday, January 21st, 1914.

Our sales have been so large that we found it necessary to enlarge our present warehouse. We take pleasure in announcing to the Farmers of Stokes and the surrounding counties that we have completed our new addition and will be ready to open same to the public on Wednesday, January 21st, and we have set that day as a special sale day for the farmers and ask all the farmers who have tobacco to sell to bring or send us a load on that date. Will promise you if you will send us a load on Jan. 21st we will see that every pile brings the highest market price. We are going to invite buyers from all the surrounding markets of the Piedmont section. So come to Walnut Cove on Jan. 21st and help us show to all the visitors that Walnut Cove is one of the largest and best markets in this section of the State. Will look for you on that date. With best wishes, we are,

Yours very truly,

of one of the great committees of the House — one which it usually takes ten or twelve years of service to reach—the committee of Foreign Affairs. There has scarcely been a reasonable request made of him that he has not been able to accomplish and no member of Congress is more energetic, active and faithful and none stand higher with his colleagues than he, and there can be no appeal to a high and noble sentiment to displace him. —Greensboro Record.

Sale of Real And Personal Property.

By virtue of a decree of the Superior Court of Stokes County, N. C., rendered at the Fall Term 1913 thereof by his Honor Thos. J. Shaw, Judge presiding, in the case of T. C. Hole against E. H. Seal, Michael Fox and Booker Robertson, appointing the undersigned a commissioner to make sale of the property hereinafter set forth, I will expose to public sale, to the highest bidder for cash, at the court house door in the town of Danbury, N. C., on Monday, Jan. 21st, 1914, at the hour of one o'clock p. m., the following property ordered by the court to be sold in said case, to wit:

Hookworm A Great Menace.

Battle Creek, Mich., Jan. 9.—Hookworm is the greatest menace to race improvement in the South, according to Miss Lillian South, the Kentucky State bacteriologist.

She said also that "80 per cent. of the people in one Kentucky county are affected with hookworm. The people of the South are the purest American stock, but they need instruction in right living."

One large rope about 75 feet long and two inches in diameter, two good tubs, one good windlass and stands for same, six picks, five shovels, three hammers, three drills, two scrapes, two old wheelbarrows, and the mineral interests and mineral rights in the following tract of land in Stokes county, N. C., bounded as follows: "Bounded on the East by Dan river, on the North by Powell Simmons, on the west by John Simmons, and on the south and south-west by Big Creek, and the lands of Bob George and Noah Smith, and containing one hundred and ten acres, (110.) more or less." The said property above named being the property upon which an attachment was levied in the suit above named. Thus the 21st day of Dec. 1913. W. C. SLATE, Commissioner. N. O. Petree, Atty. for Plff.
