Why February Is So Short.
Many people wonder why February has only 28 days. It originally had 30 days but when the name of the month of August was changed from Sextilis to August in honor of Emperor Augustus it was considered that a month so greatly honored should be given an extra day. At the same time the people felt that it would not do to lengthen this month and not lengthen July, which month was named after the mighty Julius Caesar, therefore it was decided to lengthen both months, and two days were taken from February to do it.
