ARBOR DAY NOV. 5TH

Teachers, Club Women and Others Called Upon To Join In Its Celebration.

To the School Principals and Teachers, and Club Women of North Carolina:

North Carolina's first Arbor Day is to be celebrated on Friday, November 5. It is hoped that every one interested in educational work will join in to make this a day long to be remembered, a fitting inauguration of a custom which will annually emphasize and increase our appreciation of the abundant tree and bird life with which our State has been so blessed.

Governor Craig has issued a proclamation calling upon the teachers and children of all our public schools to observe this day by taking part in "exercises appropriate to the occasion and by the planting of trees and shrubs on the school grounds." A copy of this proclamation is being sent to County Superintendents and the Principals of all Graded and High Schools, with the hope that they will read it out to their assembled pupils and then preserve it upon the walls of their rooms as a continual reminder of the new policy of cooperation with Nature which North Carolina has adopted.

It is also being sent to a large number of the Club Women of the State, because it was thru them that the Arbor Day Law was secured. It is hoped that they will co-operate as closely as possible with the school authorities in the active observance of the day. It is suggested that a committee from each club offer their services to the town and country school teachers in preparing and carrying out Arbor Day programs.

An Arbor and Bird Day Manual for North Carolina has been prepared and is being sent out by the Superintendent of Public Instruction to all the schools of the State. It contains directions and suggestions to teachers, Arbor Day exercises, recitations, messages from the Women's Clubs and the Audubon Society, and condensed information about our most important natural resources. It is to be used by the teachers in arranging Arbor Day celebrations.

It is hoped that in every school in North Carolina some kind of Arbor Day observance will be held on November 5, so that every child of school age in this Old North State of ours will learn at least some little thing about our everyday companions, the trees and birds about us.

FINE APPLE EXHIBIT.

County Demonstrator W. P. Holt Has Excellent Display of Apples Taken From Orchards of Stokes Farmers.

County Farm Demonstrator W. P. Holt has on exhibit at the Bank of Stokes County here an excellent display of apples and pears taken from the orchards of Stokes farmers. The display has attracted a great deal of attention from the crowds who attended court here this week.

The fruit was furnished by Messrs. P. O. Fry, of Pinnacle; E. A. Rothrock, of Walnut Cove; F. E. Petree, of King; Hilary Tuttle and Luther Tuttle, of Walnut Cove.

These farmers have demonstrated what can be accomplished by the spraying methods. The fruit is perfect and will compare favorably with displays from the best orchards of the county.

Mr. L. A. Duncan was here from Beaver Island township this week. Mr. Duncan is a successful young merchant of Dillard. He tells the Reporter the farmers are behind with their grain sowing in his section of the county. They are putting in about the usual acreage, but are using fertilizer very sparingly owing to the increased price.

Citizens of Yadkin Township Think Highway Commissioners Will Be Elected For Life Terms--An Explanation.

King Route 2, Oct. 25.

Editors Reporter:

We notice in a recent issue of your paper that the act of the last Legislature in regard to building roads in Yadkin township is printed. One section of the act states that three permanent highway commissioners shall be elected and as the length of the term of office is not stated in the act, some of our people who oppose the bond issue are arguing that these highway commissioners will hold the office for a life time. Please explain for the benefit of the people of Yadkin township how this is, as we want the facts.

Yours truly,
A VOTER.

The law referred to above which was printed in a recent issue of this paper was only an amendment to an act passed at the 1913 session of the Legislature to allow the various townships of Stokes county to vote bonds for roads. As will be seen by referring to the notice of the call of the election for Yadkin township, which appears elsewhere in this paper, the election for that township will be held under Chapter 41 Public Local Laws of 1913, and Chapter 201 Public Local Laws of 1915, and will be subject to the provisions of both acts. While the amendment of 1915 says nothing about the length of term of the highway commissioners, the original act of 1913 says that the highway commissioners shall be elected every two years. The original act under which the Yadkin township election will be held may be seen in the public local laws of 1913, while the amendment to this law will be found in the acts of 1915.
