Entertained For Mrs. Roy E. Leake

Contributed.

Mrs. N. E. Pepper and Mrs. N. E. Wall entertained at quite a delightful St. Patrick's party at the home of Mrs. Pepper on Saturday afternoon. Quantities of jonquils, hyacinths and other spring flowers added to the already attractiveness of the rooms. Soon after the guests arrived Miss Miriam Hall, dressed in an Irish costume, entered singing, "Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly," and rolling a tea cart loaded with green and white packages. The guests were asked to guess the contents of each package, all of which were then presented to Mrs. Roy E. Leake, who expects to move into her handsome new home at an early date. Mrs. J. S. Taylor won the prize, a box of candy, which she presented to Mrs. Leake. Oranges were given to each guest and they were asked to guess the number of seeds in the oranges. Mrs. John Taylor won this prize, a cut-glass bowl, which she presented to the honoree. The hostesses served a salad course, supplemented with sweets, which carried out the color motif of green and white.

ARMOUR'S FERTILIZER TAKES THE PRIZES

Read the following which speaks for itself:

Premium Winner Forsyth County Fair.

"I won Premiums on tobacco at the Forsyth County Fair two years, 1920-1921, that was grown with Armour's 8-2-2. My entire crop averaged $51.00 per hundred last year."
Tobaccoville, N. C. A. J. LONG.

Premium Winner Stokes County Fair.

"The tobacco I raised with Armour's Fertilizer took the first prize at the Stokes County Fair held at King, N. C. I consider Armour's Fertilizer the best I have ever used."
Pinnacle, N. C. R. K. LONG.

Premium Winner Davidson County Fair.

"The tobacco with which I took the Premium at the Lexington Fair was grown with Armour's Fertilizers."
Lexington, N. C. MRS. Z. V. DAVIS.

"I am glad to state that the tobacco with which I won the Premiums at the Mt. Airy Fair was grown with Armour's Fertilizers."
Mt. Airy, N. C. A. J. JACKSON.

"I used Armour's under my tobacco. I had six acres and it weighed 5800 pounds. I won four first premiums and one second prize on my tobacco at the Fair.

"I have sold thousands of tons of fertilizer for tobacco over a period of many years. Armour's is my largest selling brand. I have always used it with success on my own."
Mt. Airy, N. C. R. K. SIMMONS.

"I have been a tobacco grower for over twenty years. In this time I have used about all makes of fertilizers. Armour's Tobacco fertilizer gives us better texture, more pounds—and it drills well. My Spring 1922 tobacco grown with Armour's Tobacco Fertilizer was the best crop in this section, averaging about 1400 lbs. per acre, and brought splendid prices."
Winston-Salem, N. C., Jan. 13, 1923. R. R. WARD.
