CO-OPS HOUSE DOING FINE

No Complaint Among Members On Advancements — Oliver Long Loses His Home By Fire—News Of King.

King, Nov. 12.—The co-operative warehouse here is doing fine. Lots of tobacco is being delivered and so far your correspondent has not heard of a single complaint of the amount advanced to growers. Following is an official list of employes of the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association at King: G. W. Joyner manager, W. B. Webster, grader, G. G. Cornichall, bookkeeper, S. J. Webster assistant bookkeeper, and W. C. Carter, shipping clerk. The management requests that the members be sure they get transferred to King from where they are making deliveries at the present time, two or three days before you bring a load so they can pay your money on delivery without having to wait to hear from the market at which you are registered.

A. M. Caudle, of the U. S. Navy, who has been spending a thirty-day furlough with his parents in Walnut Hills, left Saturday for Hampton Roads where he will join his ship.

"Thunderbolt Tom" the evangelist of this place is holding a meeting at Booneville this week.

The Ladies Missionary Society of the Baptist church will give an oyster supper here Thanksgiving night, proceeds to go to the church.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Tuttle, of Rural Hall, spent Sunday with Mrs. Tuttle's parents in Walnut Hills.

Thomas E. Smith has installed a modern heating plant in his new cafe here.

Born unto Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Collins, twins, a boy and girl.

Miss Mabel Allen, of Mount Airy, spent Sunday with her parents here.

An old time fiddlers convention will be held at Mountain View Thanksgiving night, Nov. 29th.

Born unto Mr. and Mrs. Amos Fulk, a daughter.

C. C. Meadows, of Roanoke, Va., is spending a few days with his mother, Mrs. Jane Meadows, who resides near here.

Mrs. E. R. Pulliam, of Moore county, has purchased from C. F. White a six acre lot in North King.

Mack Caudle, of Winston-Salem, spent Sunday with relatives here.

Oliver Long, of the Tobacco-ville section, had the misfortune to lose his home by fire Friday morning about two o'clock. The fire caught from the living room. Mrs. Long was burned pretty severely in making her escape through the flames. None of the household effects were saved. The only clothing they saved was what they had on. About $250.00 in cash was burned. Mr. Long carried no insurance.

The young son of Dave Massey was accidentally shot in the legs by some hunters near here today. Dr. E. M. Griffin removed the shot from the wounded boy's legs.

Russell R. Love, of Winston-Salem, is spending a couple of days with his parents here.

Paul Fulton, the popular young salesman of the Stokes Grocery Company at Walnut Cove, is here today calling on the King merchants.

MRS. IDA TERRELL.

Sandy Ridge, Nov. 8.—A good woman dies in Stokes county Mrs. Ida Terrell, wife of R. H. Terrell, died Sunday, Nov. 4th, at 5 p. m. at her home on Sandy Ridge Route 1. She was a daughter of Ben and Nancy Mitchell. Born May 13, 1886. Married R. H. Terrell April 26th, 1905.

She possessed many noble traits of character. She lived a noble Christian life until the end came. She was laid to rest in the Ward cemetery Tuesday. Rev. C. R. Hutcherson, of Walnut Cove, preached her funeral in the Delta church. Miss Sadie Hutcherson, of Walnut Cove, furnished the music at the organ. Miss Hutcherson played the song "When I Shall See Him Face to Face" on the piano before the undertaker took the corps from the room. Mr. Newman, of Leaksville, was the undertaker. The floral tribute was beautiful. We feel that her soul is at rest.

She leaves her husband, four brothers, two sisters and a host of friends to mourn her loss.

I thank her many friends for the kindness shown us during her sickness and death, and for the beautiful flowers.

MORE BONDS FOR STATE ROADS

Impossible To Complete State Highway System With Funds Now In Hand—Some Sections Have Not Been Served.

When the 1921 Legislature issued fifty million dollars in bonds for building roads in North Carolina a great many of the members at that time favored making it a hundred million dollars instead of fifty, and it will nodoubt require that amount before the State highway system is completed.

Now a newspaper correspondent, Mr. Brock Barkley, writes from Raleigh as follows:

The state's authorization of highway bonds now aggregates $65,000,000, and supporters of the proposal for another issue contend the state's ability to meet great obligations is more promising now than it was when the first issue of $50,000,000 was voted. At that time many good roads enthusiasts advocated a $75,000,000 issue while a $100,000,000 dollars for good roads was a plan of the early future.

Another $25,000,000, it is claimed, would complete the program with a great big bang. The state, of course, will be well supplied with good roads with completion of the present program, but the additional expenditure would place it second to no other state in the union in the completeness of its highway system.

Importance is added to the suggested new issue when it is reported that the administration strongly favors it and will give the proposal a chance to be considered, depending on the governor's decision as to a special session. If a session is called to consider the report of the ship and water transportation commission, which is expected to be made during the early part of presentation of the proposal for a new highway issue along with the recommendations of the ship commission.

Revenue Agents Get Four Cars and 6 Men

Salisbury, Nov. 8.—Federal prohibition officers working out from Mr. Coltrane's headquarters here have made rumrunners live hard during the past 24 hours. Officers Fletcher, Riddle and Lovelace blew into headquarters this afternoon and reported having captured since yesterday afternoon four automobiles, six men and 155 gallons of liquor.

They operated up near the Virginia line and brought with them a bullet riddled seven-passenger Buick which bore mute testimony to the accuracy of the aim of the officers; a seven-passenger Hudson was also included in their catch. Officer Hallyburton, operating west of Statesville, reported the capture of an Essex coach, a man and 40 gallons of liquor last night.

SIX NEGROES AND CAR ARE TAKEN

Four Are Placed In Stokes Jail When they Fail To Furnish Bonds—Whiskey Found In Automobile.

A delapidated Hudson touring car and six negroes, two of them women, were taken into custody Saturday near Mechum's road camp in Quaker Gap township by Sheriff Dunlap and deputies.

In the car was found a half a gallon of whiskey. The outfit was brought to Danbury and Justice N. A. Martin released two of them and fixed bonds for the others as follows:

James McMillian $300, Lena Watkins $300, Lonney Simmons $200, Ernest Davis 200.

The four were placed in the Stokes jail in default of bonds. Nathan White and Kate Hawkins were dismissed for lack of evidence against them.

The car is also being held and will be sold unless bond is furnished for it.

TOBACCO CO-OPS WIN OUT AGAIN

Court Holds that Law Is Valid Requiring that Tobacco Tags Or Cards Shall Be Accessible To Public.

Danville, Nov. 14.—The Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Marketing association scored a legal victory here this morning when Judge D. P. Withers dissolved the restraining order which he entered two weeks ago against the association on a petition filed by counsel for the local auction warehousemen, enjoining the mayor and commonwealth's attorney from enforcing the Virginia tobacco marketing laws.

In a lengthy written decision which he read from the bench this morning, the court maintained the validity of the marketing laws, asserting further that while these laws imposed a burden on the warehousemen, the legislature manifestly had the right to enact them. The attack on the laws had been based on the theory that the legislature did not have the right to enact what was described a "class legislation" and that therefore the marketing laws were unconstitutional.

Judge Withers carefully analyzed the laws and held that the inspectors for the association do not have the right to wander at will in the auction warehouses examining tickets nor have they the right to access to the private books of the warehousemen. The warehousemen must, however, designate a place where the cards on the tobacco piles shall be kept so that the inspectors can examine them.

Fined $5 and Cost In Justice's Court

Joe Henry Bullin was given a hearing here recently before Justice N. A. Martin on the charge of operating an automobile without a State license. A fine of $5.00 and the cost was imposed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gwyn, of Winston-Salem, spent the week-end with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Morefield.

MINUTES OF HIGHWAY BOARD

Meeting Held At Danbury On Nov. 5—Another Tractor Ordered For Road Work—Contract Let For Road.

At the last meeting of the Stokes County Highway Commissioners an order was made that a survey be made as soon as possible for a road from Danbury to Flat Shoal church, to connect at that point with the Germanton road.

It is learned that the Board intends to build this road before the State begins work on the Danbury-Walnut Cove hard surface road, in order that the road from Danbury to Flat Shoal may be used as a detour in getting in and out of Danbury while the State road is being constructed. The road is an important one and in addition to serving the section of Flat Shoal it will shorten the distance to Germanton and other points four miles.

The contract for the road from Hartman to the James place on the Pine Hall-Dillard road was let to J. T. Platt at the following prices: Grading 35c yard; Soiling, 36½c; overhaul 3c., rock $1 50, grubbing $150 acre, laying pipe $1.00 per lineal foot, free haul 500 feet on grading and 1,000 on soil. Road to be completed in 150 days.

The Board purchased another Best tractor for use in the northern part of the county.

C. D. Smith and M. D. Linville were appointed a committee to look over the W. J. Flynt road and report to the board.

S. P. Christian was instructed to look over the Vaden road and to see the Big Creek township commissioners in regard to same.

Warehouses Had Big Breaks Past Week

Winston-Salem, Nov. 8.—The auction warehouses had the biggest leaf tobacco breaks of the season today. Sales were blocked, that is, all of the weed brought in could not be sold. The splendid rains the first of the week enabled the farmers to get tobacco in shape for marketing and sales are expected to continue for at least several weeks.

Prices have advanced considerably since the market opened for the new season. One buyer stated this afternoon that the weed sold at the highest prices reached Monday. The average is still regarded good, considering the quality of the weed offered.

Very little is being said here as to the amount of leaf being brought to the co-operative storage house. Reports are current that a number of the members of the co-operative association have sold a considerable amount of the weed on the auction warehouse floors, one of their pleas being that they need all the money that it will bring without delay.
