

The Touring Car $875

Style and advanced design, embodying beauty and grace, have been blended in the refined Oldsmobile "Six" to such an extent that its appearance makes it a car that will stay modern for a number of years. The forty horse power of its six-cylinder engine is sufficient to allow a constant reserve of energy. The Touring Car, with its permanent and indestructible genuine Duco finish in Oldsmobile blue, is a splendid example of the lasting beauty that is yours in a multiple-cylindered car at an unusually low price. The equipment complete, even to the attractive cowl lamps and serviceable rug in the rear compartment.

The mechanical features are sound, as exemplified by the Delco ignition system,—renowned the world over for its dependability. The Touring Car is large,—being 152 inches of car length, and five passengers will find comfort in its deep, wide seats and comfortable cushions. In inclement or colder weather the snug-fitting, clear vision curtains afford pleasing protection and comfort. It is possible for you to drive this, or any other Oldsmobile "Six," and pay for it from your income as you enjoy its convenience and pleasures,—through General Motors' deferred payment plan.

The Roadster $875

Two or three passengers can enjoy the Oldsmobile Roadster,—all the good features found in the Touring car are present here. The high radiator with its nickeled shell and the sweeping lines of the hood and body, enhanced by the rich lustre of Duco finish, make the roadster an outstanding car of comeliness and dignified beauty. There is a convenient locking compartment of 13 cubic feet capacity in the rear deck of the Roadster and another space of five cubic feet just back of the seat.

A new sensation is yours when you first ride in an Oldsmobile "Six,"—the well distributed weight being cradled on 86 3/4 inches of resilient and responsive springs that are more than three-quarters the length of the wheel base. This excellence in design gives Oldsmobile "Six" a characteristic ability to hold the road,—irrespective of its nature,—that is simply uncanny. Foremost among the mechanical merits of the splendid chassis are simplicity and accessibility,—both attributes that are paramount in the consideration of economy. Tire mileage as well as fuel and oil consumption are elements that have been extremely satisfactory to thousands of owners who have driven Oldsmobile "Six."

CLAIM PROPERTY IN NEW YORK

North Carolinians, Heirs of Large Edwards Estate, Will Soon Start Ouster Proceedings.

Greensboro, Dec. 1.—Announcing that W. G. Bordeaux and Robert E. Denny, of this city, have been selected as attorneys for one group of the claimants to the Edwards estate, in New York City, Walter Thomas, of this city, who has been agent for that group, composed of many North Carolina heirs, gives publicity for the first time to the boundaries of the great tract to which claim is made.

It is said to be 18 city blocks long and six blocks wide and includes portions of Washington street, Greenwich street, Christopher street, all of Hudson square and old Trinity cemetery. It is estimated that buildings now located on it yield a revenue yearly of from $3,000,000 to $1,000,000.

The value of the property is estimated at $170,000,000.

Attorneys Bordeaux and Denny will go to New York state to appear in the federal courts concerning establishment of the claims on December 10. Ouster proceedings will be started by them in an effort to establish title for their clients. Mr. Thomas has just returned from New York, where he has been investigating titles, and things are now ready for actual legal work in the interest of the heirs.

These heirs are very numerous. Guilford, Rockingham, Lee, Randolph, Chatham, Durham and numerous other counties in North Carolina furnish them. There is a well organized band of heirs in South Carolina; another in Ohio; another in Indiana and there are others scattered in many parts of the United States. They are making very active efforts to get their part of the vast estate, which is said to have been granted to one Robert Edwards before the revolution.

A meeting of claimants will be held at Muir's chapel, near here, Thursday night. Muir's chapel was formerly known as "Edwards' Cross Roads," and was the seat of many Edwardses. Later Mr. Thomas will call a meeting of heirs in Surry county, the meeting to be held at Ellen. Records show, it is said, that Robert Edwards came from England to the colony of New York, landing in 1762, when 15 years of age. He was active as a trader. He deeded freely in real estate, it is said. He had several brothers, some of whom settled in North Carolina, leaving many descendants. Records show that Robert Edwards himself once lived in Bertie county and had real estate transactions there. He died intestate.

The land was granted him by the English crown, it is said, and he did not sell, but leased—long time leases.

Stump - Knecker Gives Satisfaction

Raleigh, Dec. 7.—Interest in pyroly, the cheap government explosive being sold to Tarheel farmers at cost through the State College extension division, continues unabated in many counties ever after two and three carloads have been ordered and distributed by farm agents.

Recently when O. H. Phillips, farm agent in Stanly county, was unloading his third car many farmers came in wanting to know if some of the material was not placed. "Can we get some of that stump-knecker? Is it all spoken for?" they would ask and even though the car contained 20,000 pounds all of it was quickly taken.

Mr. Phillips says, "Figuring the dynamite at wholesale rates there was a saving to farmers of this county of $3,500 on the one car alone and only 15,000 pounds was for the county. We ordered 20,000 but 3,000 lbs went into Cabarrus county and 2,000 into Anson. We also made arrangements with a local hardware store and farmers were able to secure their fuse at 70 cents per hundred feet and caps at $1.30 per box of one hundred."

"We have had many encouraging reports from those who have used the material. They say it gives fine results and some men said that they had increased the value of the land by removing the stumps in addition to clearing the fields so that cultivation was more easily done. One grower who removed several big stumps stated that the wood was worth $25 and only 50 joints of pyroly was used in the operation. I feel that the supplying of this material has been a distinct service to our people."

Overman Opposes Taxing Newspapers

Washington, Dec. 5.—Senator Overman said today that while he was favorable to the proposal to allow postal employees increased pay, he was opposed to the administration plan of collecting the increase from the newspapers by increasing their postage rates.

"I favor reasonable compensation for the postal workers," said Senator Simmons, but I am opposed to the proposal to assess the newspapers in order to do those workers justice. While I am utterly opposed to any proposition to increase the postage rates on newspapers, I would be glad to see the rates increased on magazines as it costs the government from 75 to 80 million dollars to carry them and they have gotten to be regular advertising agencies now and should pay higher rates. I do not think the newspaper rates, however, should be increased and I don't think congress is inclined to adopt Mr. N-w's proposition and I know I am not.
