SURRY DEPUTIES SHOOT JIM SUTPIN

Young Man Failed To Stop Car When Ordered To Do So and Was Shot, Dying Soon After From Wound.

Mount Airy, Nov. 22.—Jim Sutpin, aged 26, died last night of a gun shot wound in the head, and Deputy Sheriffs R. F. Simmons and E. S. Smith are under arrest pending a hearing in the case. The officers ordered a car occupied by three men and suspected to be transporting liquor to halt, and when it failed to stop they fired, it is alleged. The shooting occurred near Browers' Springs and the young man died shortly after.

The officers claim that they thought it was a liquor car but not a drop of liquor was found in the machine. Officers these days and times think a lot and see red when liquor is concerned and let other crimes go unheeded.

At any rate an innocent man is dead and again the law is brought into disrepute by the action of two officers that were too quick on the trigger.

The citizens of Mount Airy are justly incensed at the wanton killing of a young citizen of their community.

MEMORIAL DAY AT REYNOLDS SCHOOL

Interesting Program Is Carried Out and Dinner Served On The Grounds—Dr. Perisho Was Among The Speakers.

Westfield, Nov. 21.—Friday, Nov. 20th, was a day long to be remembered by the patrons and friends of the Nancy Jane Cox Reynolds Memorial high school. A memorial program and dinner was held in honor of the relatives and friends of Wm. N. Reynolds, and the people who gave us advertisements for our new stage curtain. The program follows:

Ball game, 2 p. m.

Afternoon session, 3 p. m.

Soag, Onward, Christian Soldiers, school.

Devotional exercises, W. C. Dutton.

Song, Reynolds High School On the Hill, W. N. Reynolds Literary Society.

Address of welcome, W. C. Dutton.

Memorial address, Dr. Perisho.

Selection of songs, Third Grade.

Words of appreciation, C. M. Felts.

Announcements.

Evening program, 7 p. m.

Song, Work For the Night is Coming, school.

Address, William N. Reynolds A Factor in the World's Civilization, Dr. Foster.

Rose drill, eight girls.

Address, The Value of Advertising, J. W. Byerly.

Fairy dance, Pauline Taylor.

Speech, She Powders Her Nose, Leo Pyrtle.

Similar Twins, Mary Boles and Juanita Taylor.

Mr. Dutton took as the text of his devotions, 2nd Tim. 2:10-15. He stressed the verse, "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of God."

The main theme of the program was of an educational nature. The text of Dr. Perisho's address was "The most wide-spread power for evil in this world is ignorance." He told us in a vivid way what Mr. Reynolds has done for mankind. He said that he might have erected a marble slab and the only good it would have done, would be to make a spot in the scenery, but he chose to erect a monument that would be a lasting benefit to all mankind. He left the question and plea with us: "How much does your citizenship mean to you? Let's be better American citizens."

Mr. Felts told us that education had three values: (1) A monetary value. (2) Social efficiency. (3) A personal value. He said: "While you are getting an education, build character."

Dr. Foster told us about the advancement that had been made in North Carolina, and that such men as William N. Reynolds are responsible for this advancement and progress.

The dinner was a success. Sixty-nine cakes were counted, fifty one jars of pickles and everything else in proportion. Everyone was in the best of humor and all the patrons were of one accord—that we were having a good school and that they were ready to co-operate in the future more than ever.

Some Highway Safety Slogans

The State highway department of Ohio is using a number of safety first slogans at safety exhibitions in an effort to reduce motor accidents. Several of these were originated by the department and have found wide vogue. Here are some of them:

1. Don't try to scare locomotives with your horn.
2. A road hog eats up macadam with his nose.
3. Our roads are wide and smooth, don't burn them up.
4. Death is so permanent—take a minute or two at those dangerous railroad crossings.
5. Tragedy in seven words: Speed increases, breath ceases, rest in pieces.
6. Horse sense as well as horse power should enter the operation of motor vehicles.
7. Live to ride another day by obeying all warning signs.
8. Believe in highway warning signs—they mean what they say.
9. Drive with care—you might meet a fool.
10. A reckless driver is a criminal.

GOOD CITIZEN DIES IN QUAKER GAP

A. M. George Passes Away After Very Brief Illness—Funeral At Brown Mt Baptist Church.

Westfield Route 1, Nov. 23.—The death of A. Mann George on Friday night came as a shock to his friends and relatives. He was in apparently good health Friday morning and with his family was making arrangements to be present at the memorial services at the Reynolds Memorial school on Friday afternoon. He hurried them up in his home and was soon started, expressing a desire to see the ball game that was to be played. He seemed to enjoy the ball game as much as anyone, and also took in the speaking afterward. He was looking forward to the big dinner with enthusiasm. He took his dinner and passed the registrar's table and his basket was registered. But just as the blessing was invoked by Prof. Dutton he became sick and fell over, saying that his head hurt him and that he was weak. They asked him what he wanted them to do for him and he replied that he was hungry and wanted something to eat but he ate only a little and soon became unconscious. He was hurried home and died before 10 o'clock that night, but was apparently easy as he was unconscious almost from the very first.

In losing Mr. George the people of the community have lost a good citizen, one who was always ready to back up his school, and the things that made for the advancement of the community, even though it was a sacrifice to him. He died working for his school. He was a good neighbor, one who was always ready to care for the sick and visit the ones who needed him. He was a good husband and a very indulgent father.

The funeral was conducted at the Brown Mt. Baptist church by Rev. Mr. Newsom, of King, pastor of the church, and by Rev. Tom Smith, of Westfield. The large crowd attending the funeral was evidence of the host of friends he had.

The pall-bearers were: P. O. Tillotson, J. H. Sams, J. E. Joyce, Bud Tilley, J. C. Payne, R. L. Martin, J. A. Nunn, Curtis Smith and J. O. Pyrtle.

The flower-bearers were his grand daughter and his nieces.

Those who survive to mourn his loss are his wife and four sons, Arthur, of Winston-Salem; Edgar, of Westfield; Andrew and Ollie, of Pinnacle, and a large number of more distant relatives.
