

STATE REDEEMS HER OLD BONDS

Existence of Them Unknown Until Claim Was Formally Filed—Were Found By Mrs. Cora Newman, of New York.

Raleigh, May 20.—The Governor and council of state today authorized the payment of $12,346 to Mrs. Cora Newman, of New York City, for old state bonds, the existence of which had been unknown until claim was made on the state treasurer a few days ago.

The old bonds issued immediately before and after the Civil war, had a face value of $17,000, there being 17 bonds of a thousand dollar denomination each. A rate of settlement provided by sections 7432 and 7444, of the consolidated statutes, enacted by the 1909 legislature held the amount of Mrs. Newman's claim down to $892 on each of 13 old Western North Carolina railroad bonds and $750 on each of the three old Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherfordton railroad bonds.

Mrs. Newman found the bonds among some old papers of her father. She immediately forwarded them to State Treasurer Ben Lacy with a demand for redemption, and payment under the terms of the approval by the attorney general. There are still six more of the western North Carolina bonds out, which will be redeemed by the state at $892 on each $1,000 denomination if they should ever be produced. Until Mrs. Newman filed her claim, the state treasury had regarded the old bonds as lost. However, in the audit of state finances in 1923 the bonds were set up as a liability.

REYNOLDS CLAIMS VICTORY BY 25,000

Says He Will Carry 61 Counties For U. S. Senatorship In Primary.

Raleigh, June 1.—Robert R. Reynolds, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Senator, claims he will carry sixty-one counties and be nominated by a majority of 25,000 in the primary on Saturday, in a statement issued thru the Union Herald, trade union journal. Mr. Reynolds opposes Senator Lee S. Overman for the nomination.

"I can state authoritatively that I will carry sixty-one counties," Mr. Reynolds is quoted as saying.

"This is my last statement before the primary and with knowledge of the state-wide situation after a conservative estimate I am sure of a majority of 25,000.
