

The Schoolhouse Flag.

The sight of the United States Flag floating in the breeze makes a patriotic appeal to every American. Such an appeal is more impressive when the flag is sufficiently large, is in good repair, and is properly mounted on a staff. It is particularly appropriate this year, which makes the sesquicentennial anniversary of the birth of the Nation, for "Old Glory" to float above every public school in the land.

The statutes of more than three-fourths of the States require the display of the United States Flag on or near every public school building. Thousands of schools throughout the land take great pride in carefully performing this duty; some schools are somewhat careless in this respect. A deputy superintendent of Nevada says in his annual report that he often finds, as he visits the schools, the flag rope broken, or the flag pole inaccessible, because of its location on top of the building, or the school without a flag. It is not uncommon to find in other States, especially in the rural districts, conditions similar to those described. School officers, teachers, and pupils, should know the laws of their respective States regarding the display of the flag and should cooperate in their enforcement.

Proof positive See road test on Dodge cars 40% less oil, 10% less gas ROAD tests with hundreds of cars prove that the new "Standard" Motor Oil works wonders with automobile motor performance.

For instance, a Dodge, run 1,080 miles from September 24th to October 22d, 1925, showed 40.9% increase in oil mileage; 10% increase in gas mileage; smoother operation at all speeds; more power; less drag on the hills.

Here's performance you have never dreamed of getting from any lubricating oil. Drive around to the nearest "Standard" Service Station or dealer and get a crank case full. Then expect results. You can actually feel the difference.
