TOBACCO CROP MAY BE SHORT

Trip To Eastern Carolina and South Carolina By Warehouseman—Rain and Cold Weather Has Injured Tobacco.

Aubrey A. Fowler, former Stokes county boy, who is associated with Lovell, Joyce & Fowler in operating leaf tobacco warehouses at Fairmont and Mt. Airy, was a visitor to Danbury yesterday. Mr. Fowler has just returned from a visit to Fairmont and other points in eastern Carolina and South Carolina. He found that while the acreage in tobacco in the sections he visited had been increased 15 to 20 per cent., continued rain and cool weather has caused the young plants, which will now average about 8 inches in height, to "button," and take on a yellow cast, and Mr. Fowler thinks the crop has already been damaged 15 to 20 per cent. even if the season from this time on should be favorable. Hence, he figures that the crop this season will be no greater in pounds than last year, notwithstanding the increase in acreage, while the quality will necessarily be poor, as a rule.

The cotton crop in those sections is almost a failure, Mr. Fowler said, on account of its lateness, which was caused by the cool weather.

The warehouses at Fairmont will likely open between Aug. 1st and the 10th, in the opinion of Mr. Fowler. After the season closes at Fairmont Mr. Fowler will be with his house in Mt. Airy, which will open probably about Oct. 1st.

Indications are that the tobacco crop throughout South Carolina and Georgia has been damaged probably as much as in the Fairmont section, and unless there is considerable change the crop throughout these sections will be short. As a result of this prices may be better than has been anticipated.

Prof. Raleigh Gibson, of Pine Hall, was among the visitors here Monday. Mr. Gibson has again accepted the position of principal in the Danbury school for the coming session.

SECOND PRIMARY IN STOKES

McGee and Bradshaw Will Contest Again For Nomination For House of Representatives.

J. G. Bradshaw stated today that he would file his request at once for a second primary between himself and C. C. McGee, both of whom were Republican candidates in last Saturday's primary for the House of Representatives.

The vote Saturday was McGee, 729; Bradshaw, 619; Hedgecock, 202, and while McGee ran 110 ahead he did not receive a majority of the votes cast.

Mr. Bradshaw stated that he hesitated to ask for a second primary until it was found that there would be a second primary between two of the candidates for Lieutenant Governor, but that since this is the case the county will not be put to any additional expense by reason of a second contest between himself and Mr. McGee.

The law fixes the time for a second primary, the date being Saturday, June 30th.

N. C. Delegates To Be Elected To The Houston Convention

Raleigh, June 6.—Two delegates from each of the ten Congressional districts, with eight delegates-at-large, are to be elected by North Carolina Democrats at their State convention in Raleigh on Tuesday, June 12. These will represent the State at the National Democratic Convention at Houston, Texas.

It has been the custom of North Carolina Democrats to select four delegates from each district, each delegate having one-half vote, but recently announcement was made that the National Democratic Committee would enforce the rule forbidding the selecting of more than two delegates from any one Congressional district.

The North Carolina delegation will consist of eight delegates-at-large, 20 district delegates and 20 alternates, which will cast the 24 votes for the State.

Under provisions of the National Democratic Committee rule, eight delegates-at-large will be elected with a half vote for each delegate, instead of four delegates-at-large with one vote each. This was authorized, it was explained in the regulations, to permit states to the national convention.

Dr. W. V. McCanless and son William, spent the day Tuesday in Winston.
