Durham, Oct. 23.—Faced with a year of hard work, during which he hopes to lead the order to new heights of interest and an enlarged membership, D. W. Sorrell, of Durham, state counselor of the Junior Order United American Mechanics, is mapping out a program which will, he hopes, enable him to do much for the order. Much depends upon the active interest of the district deputies, the state counselor has appointed the men who shall head up the work in all the districts. These deputies have been carefully selected and through their active work much good is expected to be obtained.

It is interesting to note that J. John Taylor, of Danbury, has been named as one of the deputies to help carry out the program now being put on by the Junior Order.

TOBACCO PRICES IMPROVE SOME

Price Tuesday Was $17 Per Hundred—Market Had 1,191,000 Pounds On That Day At Winston-Salem.

Tobacco prices are looking up slightly this week. Some say it is on account of the better quality of the weed being offered. Anyhow on Tuesday the sales on the Winston-Salem market averaged $17 per hundred and there was 1,191,000 pounds on the warehouse floors. Since Saturday Stokes farmers, especially north of Danbury, have been marketing the weed at a good rate, and many cars and trucks are seen daily passing through Danbury loaded with the leaf.

Stokes civil court made a new record for this county this week when five divorces were granted. The court continued the sixth case. This is unusual as the court never has more than two divorce cases on the docket at one time.

Hickman Hangs Saying Prayer

San Quentin Prison, Calif., Oct. 19.—William Edward Hickman paid his legal debt to the state of California here today when he was hanged for the murder of 12-year-old Marian Parker, Los Angeles school girl, last December.

Hickman was hanged at 10:10 a. m. and 15 minutes later was pronounced dead. His neck was not broken, as is usually the case; he was strangled to death. This was because at the last second before the trap was sprung, he began to collapse, shortening the distance of his fall.

Marching with steady step the 30 steps or more from the gallows and up the 13 steps of the scaffold to the trap, he smiled faintly as the noose was adjusted, and with palms upraised together, whispered a hurried prayer.

As the black cap was placed over his head, the prison chaplain, Rev. William A. Fleming read the litany of the dead, Warden James B. Holohan waved his arm, and three convicts enclosed within a box-like superstructure over the scaffold cut three ropes, one of which released the trap. Hickman's body shot through the open space like a plummet, hardly a tremor was visible in his body.

12 TO ROADS; THREE TO PEN

Stokes Superior Court Had Biggest Docket In History Last Week—May Call Special Term Soon—Men Taken To Durham County.

Stokes court last week had the largest docket in its history, and during the entire week disposed of less than half the cases on the docket. Twelve men were given road sentences and three were sent to the State penitentiary.

Court continued in session until late Saturday in an effort to dispose of as many cases as possible.

A special venire was summoned on Friday with the expectation of trying the case of Porter Wall, charged with rape, but the court was unable to take up the case. Wall is being held in jail here and will not be allowed to give bond. The case is a very unusual one, the 15-year-old boy being charged with being the father of a child which was born unto the 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Browder, of Yadkin township. Under the law this is considered a capital offense.

It is probable that the Governor will be asked to call a special term of criminal court for Stokes to try the Wall case, as well as numerous others on the docket.

The proceedings of last week's term of criminal court were given in this paper up until Wednesday. After that time the following named cases were disposed of:

J. A. Lewis, retailing, sentenced to 6 months in jail, and required to pay cost and expense, including his board while in jail.

Dink Middleton, throwing rocks at home of Mrs. Emma Scott, was fined $250.00 and the cost, the fine to go to Mrs. Middleton.

Carter Hall, slandering a woman, was required to pay the cost, and prayer for judgment was continued for three years upon his good behavior.

Sanders Jessup and John D. Hill, charged with manufacturing liquor, were found not guilty by a jury.

Norman Hawkins, retailing, 6 months on road.
