RULES OF THE CONTEST.

Any white person, lady or gentleman, of good character, living in the United States may enter this contest.

All subscriptions must be turned in to Circulation Manager of the Danbury Reporter once a week, on Saturday. Blanks and receipt books will be furnished every candidate.

No votes will be allowed for any subscriptions obtained before the start. All candidates must start on this same footing. No partiality or favoritism will be shown any contestant. No person will be allowed to buy votes, but each bunch of votes must be represented by bona fide cash subscriptions.

Now is the chance for those who have the will to win the handsomest prizes ever offered by this or any other newspaper. Get busy today. Ask your friends and acquaintances to help you. This is an opportunity of a life time. To own one of these handsome prizes without any expenditure of money, but only by steady, determined work—now is your chance. If you are not already in it, get in it. You may be the star candidate. You don't know until you try what you can do or how many loyal friends you have.

At close of contest on May 31st the votes of all candidates will be counted by three competent, disinterested citizens and the result declared by them.

See us any time for further particulars.

How The Prizes Will Be Awarded.

The candidate having to his or her credit, at the end of the campaign, the largest number of votes will be awarded the First Prize. The candidate having the second largest number of votes at the end of the campaign will be awarded the Second Prize. The candidate having the third largest number of votes will be awarded the Third Prize. The candidate having the fourth largest number of votes the Fourth Prize, etc.

At the close of each week the contestants will each be given a signed statement showing the number of subscriptions, the amount of money and the number of votes they secured during the week. These statements will be used by the judges in making the count at the end of the contest. Each statement will contain the name and address of every subscriber for whom votes are allowed the contestant.
