KING NEWS OF INTEREST

John W. Wall Passes—Large Attendance At Mr. Forest's Funeral—Birth Records—Other Items.

King, May 14.—John William Wall died at his home three miles west of here Saturday night, his age being seventy-six years. Mr. Wall suffered a stroke of paralysis the early part of last week, from which he never rallied. The deceased survived by one brother, James R. Wall, of Tobaccoville, and one sister, Mrs. John R. Hauser, of Tobaccoville R. F. D. No. 2. Mr. Wall, who was a farmer and who had resided in this section practically all his life had a wide acquaintance and was liked by all who knew him. The funeral service was conducted at Mount Pleasant church of which he had long been a faithful member Monday and burial followed in the church cemetery.

William I. Rumley is treating his home to a new coat of paint.

One of the best games of the season was played here Tuesday when the King High crossed bats with Pinnacle. The game was very interesting and exciting all through and resulted in a score of one and nothing in favor of the Pinnacle boys.

Ollie L. Pulliam and family, of Winston-Salem, spent Sunday here the guests of Mr. Pulliam's mother, Mrs. B. F. Pulliam.

The following births were registered here last week: To Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lawson a daughter; to Mr. and Mrs. Dock Aburn a son; to Mr. and Mrs. Huey Fulp a son; to Mr. and Mrs. Guy Garner a son, and to Mr. and Mrs. Hobert Spainhower a son.

It was estimated that fully two thousand people attended the funeral of Sandy Forest, who committed suicide here early Tuesday morning by blowing off the whole top of his head with a double barrel shotgun. The service which was conducted at Rock House church Wednesday afternoon was in charge of Revs. Tuttle, Smith and Reed. Burial followed in the church cemetery. The deceased who was one among our best citizens is survived by the widow and one son, his mother is also left to mourn her loss. No motive is known for his rash act. Close associates had noticed recently that Forest's mind seemed to be slightly impaired. The burial was in charge of the Junior Order American Mechanics of which he was a member.

The closing exercises of the King High School which closed Monday night was attended by large crowds all through.

This section was visited by a splendid rain Saturday afternoon which has revived crops wonderfully. This was the first rain of any consequence here in five weeks, and crops were suffering.

BETTER CATTLE FOR STOKES COUNTY

Guernsey Breed Boosted—Three Truck Loads Guernseys Brought Into County.

Without doubt the biggest shipment of high quality registered Guernsey cattle ever brought into Stokes county was brought in last week by County Agent J. E. Trevathan. The shipment consists of two registered cows, three high quality grade cows in milk, two grade heifers, one registered bull, and seven registered heifers with advanced registry pedigrees. The plan is to place the heifers among the 4-H Club boys and girls. The following club animals have been placed: Louis B. Trevathan, one heifer, $200; J. C. Wall, Walnut Cove, one registered cow, $190. The other animals are of similar quality but will be placed at about $150. Other animals placed are one registered heifer calf and one grade heifer calf with J. A. Newsom, Walnut Cove. This brings Mr. Newsom's number of registered Guernseys to four animals secured within the past few months. Mr. Joe Fowler bought one registered cow and one grade heifer. Mr. Geo. Neal bought one registered cow but sold to J. C. Wall and bought a grade cow.

The above animals were secured at three different sales. One heifer was bought Monday at the sale held at Klondike Farm near Elkin, six were bought at the State Guernsey sale at Winston-Salem on Friday, and nine were bought at the dispersal sale on Saturday from the H. G. Chatham estate.

Several of these cows are now on exhibition at the home of J. E. Trevathan in Walnut Cove.

Funeral Home Makes Improvements

Nelson's Funeral Home, near Danbury, has recently been making considerable improvements in its show room, where they carry a very large line of caskets and other funeral supplies. Other improvements have also been made and this is now one of the most up-to-date funeral director's establishments in this section of the State.

The ambulance service offered by the Nelson company is of great advantage to this section.

WALTER D. GEORGE DIES SUDDENLY

Resided in Charlotte But Was Native Of Stokes County—Has Been Successful In Automobile Business.

Walter D. George, successful young business man of Charlotte, but native of Stokes county, died suddenly at his home from heart failure on Saturday of last week. The deceased had been in his usual health up to the time of his death, which came as a great shock to his relatives and friends.

Mr. George, who was aged 39 years, was engaged in the automobile business at Walnut Cove some 12 years since, later going to Winston-Salem and from there to Charlotte, where he was State distributor for the Oldsmobile at the time of his death.

He was a son of Joseph George of Westfield, and is survived by his wife and the following named brothers and sisters: Fletcher George, Francisco; Manuel George and Millard George, Westfield; Miss Bertie George and Mrs. Arthur Collins, Westfield.

Funeral services were held on Monday at the home of the father, near Westfield and burial followed in the family cemetery near by. Dr. J. T. Smith was in charge of the services and a large number of the friends of the deceased were in attendance.

Laying Stone On Danbury-Stuart Road

From Stuart Enterprise.

Work is progressing rapidly on Route 23 from the N. C. line towards Stuart under the management of the Martin Construction Co. The bed of crushed stone and one layer of finer stone have already been spread and rolled for a distance of about 1 mile, and the work is going forward at a splendid pace.

MILLIONS OF VOICES CAST IN POPULAR VOTING CONTEST

GOOD WOMAN PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Jas. Thore, Sister of Dr. R. H. Morefield, of Danbury, Succumbs To An Attack Of Pneumonia.

Mrs. Jessie Thore, wife of Jas. L. Thore, of the Rock House community in Quaker Gap township, died at her home on Saturday following a short illness with pneumonia.

The deceased, who was a sister of Dr. R. H. Morefield, of Danbury, was aged 37 years, and was an excellent Christian lady. She was a devoted member of the Stoney Ridge Missionary Baptist church and was always interested in church and religious work of all kinds.

Surviving are the husband and five children, as well as the following brothers and sisters: Dr. R. H. Morefield, of Danbury; John G. and Will Morefield, of Rural Hall; Mrs. Sam Dearmin, Mrs. Eugene Marshall, Mrs. Dillard Marshall and Mrs. Rufus King, all of Westfield.

Funeral services were conducted at the home by Rev. Manuel and Rev. Reid, and interment was in the cemetery at Stoney Ridge church.

Dan River Survey To Be Extended Further

A Governmental survey of Dan River from the source in Patrick county to the point where it joins the Roanoke river, will be started next week for the purpose of ascertaining its water power possibilities, the project being in connection with President Hoover's proposal to conduct nation-wide surveys with a view to furthering floodcontrol. The survey will be made both from the air and by surveyors on foot and the force is expected to be in this section for about a year, at an expenditure of about $30,000.

It was learned today from authentic sources that C. Curtis McGee, of Germantown, would be a candidate on the Republican ticket for re-election to the House of Representatives.

Speaking of names again, Joseph Lawless of Brooklyn was arrested for selling liquor in his restaurant.

LAST BIG BONUS OFFER MADE ENDING WED. NIGHT, MAY 21--NOW FOR A GRAND PUSH TO SEIZE THE PRIZES--SATURDAY EVENING, MAY 31, AT SUN-DOWN THE CONTEST WILL CLOSE AND THE VOTES WILL BE COUNTED.

Who Will Be The Winners?

With Mrs. D. M. Pyrtle leading, Miss Gwendolyn Dearmin as close second, and Rev. D. W. Allen third in the race, the last lap of the great popular voting contest and subscription drive is looming in the distance.

Since last week millions of votes have been won, and the leaders in the race are pressing onward to victory. But it is yet entirely too early to predict the winners. Much depends on what shall happen during the next sixteen days. Rain has come and everybody is feeling better, and subscriptions will be easier to get now that the drouth depression is receding. Many people have promised votes to their favorite candidates before the close of the contest, and with the psychological effect of better crops in sight the harvest of ballots during the next two weeks for those who have the spirit and the tact to get them, will be enormous.

Last Special Bonus Offered

The contest manager has decided to make the last special bonus prize, beginning only with subscriptions secured between sunrise May 19 and sundown May 21. This offer will be 400,000 extra votes for every $45 club of subscriptions. This club may be made up of three 10-year subscriptions, or six 5-year subscriptions, or 30 1-year subscriptions, and so on, calculated according to the vote schedule printed on the back of the receipt books.

Now this is positively the last extra bonus offer that will be made in this contest. All candidates should get busy and win several of these clubs, as to do so may give you such a boost that your assurance of winning in the end will be unmistakable. One club of three 10-year subscriptions would count 775,000 votes. Isn't this worth working for? Study over your field, pick out your special friends & go after them with shouts in your heart and tears in your eyes—you will win. You can't help but win. Don't stop at one or two clubs. Work hard till Wednesday evening, May 21, on this special offer, as positively no more bonuses will be given.

The Price of Victory.

The wages of hard unceasing work is victory. Victory is the result of determined, never-ending solicitation. You have friends and acquaintances able and willing to put you across. Don't miss them. Remember, two or three days of unremitting toil may be worth $995.00 to you.

The Last Lap in Sight.

Only two weeks of agony remain after this. Soon the time will be spent, and those who most deserve will be those who are apt to drive off the chief prizes.

Disinterested, careful unbiased judges will count the votes and award the premiums. Don't listen to anyone who tries to discourage you. Remember that beyond the Alps lies Italy.

Some of the finest, most attractive, and representative young women of the county are candidates in this contest, as well as one of our most prominent, learned and highly respected gentlemen. But should either of them sit still and depend on their popularity alone, they might get left with a big L. But when a person who has character, personal attraction and other qualities, and these are supplemented by hard, earnest, sincere labor, the response in the heart of the public is absolutely sure and un-failing.

Lions Club Met In Danbury Mon. Night

The Stokes County Lions Club held its regular meeting at Mrs. Fagg's Tea Room in Danbury Monday evening, May 12th, with only one member absent.

Lions William Marshall and Gilmer Sparger were elected as delegates to represent the Stokes County Club at the State Conference to be held in Kinston at an early date.

All members of the club brought toys for Lion Paul Fulton in honor of the new member of his family. Mr. Fulton not being able to attend the meeting the members drove to Walnut Cove and delivered the toys at his home.

It was voted that in future the club hold its meetings only once each month. The next will be held in Walnut Cove.
