Woman's Club Holds Interesting Meeting — Other News Items.

The wheat crop in this section is not looking very promising this year.

Mack Kirby, of Winston-Salem, is spending a few days with relatives here. Mr. Kirby expects to start on a trip to Oklahoma in about ten days.

A new baby girl arrived Saturday to make her permanent home with Mr. and Mrs. Furman McKay.

There is a scarcity of tobacco plants in this section. Some farmers have no plants at all.

Wilburn Shouse, of Rural Hall, among the visitors here Sunday.

Reade Jones, of Mount Airy, was here Monday attending to some business matters.

There is slight improvement in the condition of Junior, the small son of Dr. and Mrs. G. E. Stone, who is suffering from an attack of appendicitis.

The Woman's Club of King met Thursday evening, April 14, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mitchell with Miss Bernice Mitchell, Eloise Hutchins and Frances Smith hostesses.

The living room was decorated with beautiful spring flowers which lent fragrance and expression to each one present. After an impressive devotional the business meeting was engaged in with Mrs. G. E. Stone, the president, presiding. Reports of secretary and treasury and all other committees were heard and approved by the club. The program followed in a debate. Query: Resolved, That Life in Colonial Days Was More Desirable than Now. Each side brought out many interesting points and deep thought, but after much deliberation it was decided in favor of the affirmative. An interesting contest was then engaged in in which Mrs. C. C. Carroll and Miss Gertrude Blow were winners. They were presented a handsome flower painted vase.

A delightful social hour followed and a delicious salad course was served by the hostesses, assisted by Misses Virginia Mitchell and Rachel Neider.

FISHING BEGINS AT STEDMAN LAKE

About June 11, Under Certain Restrictions — Club House Being Built By Members.

Contractor L. T. Long, of Forsyth county, came up to Stedman Lake, a mile north of Danbury, Friday, and started work on a club house for the Winston-Salem chapter of the Isaac Walton League. While the club house is not to be large or elaborate it will be attractive and well suited to the uses for which it is designed. Mr. Long stated that the outside walls of the building would be of poplar bark shingles 16 inches long and of varied widths. Other features of the club house will be equally as attractive. He expects to finish the building next week.

It is stated, authoritatively, that the members of the league will be allowed to begin fishing in the lake at the club house on June 11th next. Of course there are restrictions as to how many fish of each variety may be taken in one day, etc. Persons who have been to the lake recently state that the waters are simply teeming with the finny tribe, and there will certainly be some good fishing for the first few days, at least, until the bass get wise and stop biting just any kind of a hook.

For Tobacco Blue Mold

Walnut Cove, April 25, 1932.

Reports have reached me that several farmers of Yadkin township, Stokes county, have found their tobacco plant beds infested with Blue Mold. This damp weather is very favorable for the spread of this disease. As Blue Mold is quite destructive and spreads very rapidly, all tobacco growers should immediately provide themselves with a supply of blue stone and lime so they may spray their plant beds to prevent the spread of this serious disease.

The following formula is recommended:

2 pounds blue stone or copper carbonate.

3 pounds burnt lime or 4 1/2 pounds hydrated lime.

50 gallons water. Dissolve the lime in 25 gallons water and dissolve the blue stone in 25 gallons separate from the lime and then pour these two solutions at the same time into a third wooden container. The solution should then be sprayed over the plants. Mix only enough at the time for one spraying. This will give fifty gallons of a 2-3-50 Bordeaux Mixture which is the standard spray for Blue Mold.

County Agent.

Solicitor Here

Solicitor H. L. Koontz, of Greensboro, was at the Stokes county court house Thursday, attending to some matters which had to be left over from the two week's term of court which closed last Saturday. As is generally known Mr. Koontz, who is filling the unexpired term of Geo. Younce, resigned, is a candidate in the June primary for nomination for Solicitor. While Solicitor Koontz has been seen and heard here only during the past two week's term of court, the impression he made upon the constituency was very favorable, and many of the citizens have been heard to comment favorably on his work. However, there is one other candidate for the office, being Gaston A. Johnson, of High Point, an excellent young man who has been practicing law for four years or more.

Announcement.

Subject to the action of the Democratic primary in June, I hereby announce myself a candidate for the lower house of the General Assembly. I will appreciate the support of my friends throughout Stokes county.

Oh, Fudge! Hollywood Beauties Claim Fudge-Making Title

Fanchon & Marco chorines try out a new fudge recipe backstage. This group, now on tour, have been labeled unofficial "Champs."

By Madeline Prescott

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — The gauntlet, or perhaps we should say the cook book has been thrown down to the theatrical world.

Six Fanchon and Marco chorus beauties who claim to know their cocoas and sugars have laid claim to the fudge making championship of showdom. What's more, they are ready to back up their boast with toothsome offerings at least two inches square, an inch and a half deep, chocolate or vanilla flavor and with or without pecans as you prefer.

The fudge is made backstage on a portable electric stove and the number of these s'oves which have put in an appearance during recent weeks seems to indicate that the fad is going over in a big way.

The idea was originated by Fanchon herself, who believes that dancers need plenty of energy building foods and who has urged them to eat plenty of sweets because of the quick energy reaction. As one tall blonde maiden put it, "a sweet bite between acts puts snap in your cart wheels and pep in the soles of your shoes. You can't smile across the footlights unless you have oodles of energy."

So if you're sitting somewhere front of the fifth or sixth rows these days and detect the faint odor of chocolate wafted from the general direction of the stage, don't think it's an olfactory illusion. It's probably Mabel or Mary or that cute little red-head—fourth from the end in the chorus—trying out a new fudge recipe.

W. V. McCANLESS DIES AT DANBURY

Stokes County Loses One of Her Best Citizens—Passing Was Sudden, After Short Illness.

Danbury and Stokes county were shocked Sunday to learn that Dr. William V. McCanless had died suddenly at his home about 3 A. M. Sunday. He had been in declining health for a year or more, but recently had appeared to improve, and on the day preceding his death he had felt unusually well. He suffered with a heart affliction, complicated with kidney trouble.

Dr. McCanless was aged 80 years. For more than 40 years he had practiced his profession, but had retired during the last six years. He was a son of the late W. W. and Mary McCanless, who were among the first settlers of Danbury.

Surviving are two daughters, Miss Estelle, of Winston-Salem, and Miss Mary, who is a student at Salem College; and one son, William, who is attending school at a Virginia military institute.

The interment was at Danbury cemetery Monday evening, attended by a large crowd of friends and relatives.

The deceased was of a splendid type of gentleman, stood high in his profession, and during his long life had accumulated quite a competence. He will be seriously missed in Danbury, in the church, the home, and by a large circle of friends. He had been a consistent member of the M. E. church for probably 50 years.

Announcement.

Acting upon urgent requests from friends throughout the county I respectfully announce my candidacy for Sheriff of Stokes county subject to the will of the Democratic voters in the primary June 4. If nominated I shall wage an aggressive campaign in behalf of the entire ticket and if elected it will be my purpose to discharge the duties imposed upon me to the fullest extent.

"BACK-TO-FARM IN FORSYTH-STOKES

The Associated Charities of Winston-Salem Makes Most Liberal Offer—About Forty Families Placed So Far.

M. Rex Gass, of Winston-Salem, who is in charge of the work of securing homes for families of that city, who desire to remove back to the farm, was a visitor here today. There are quite a few families in the Twin City who removed there from farms in Stokes, and it is possible that Mr. Gass may find homes for some of these in this county. Where farmers can be favorably situated with their families, the Associated Charities of Winston-Salem is offering to furnish them food for four months and in some cases help them otherwise. Mr. Gass is investigating such cases as rapidly as possible, and has already found places for some thirty-five or forty families. This work is one of the finest yet proposed in the solution of the unemployment situation in the cities, and the liberal citizens in Winston-Salem are certainly to be commended for the aid they are giving in the work.

Stokes Farm Loans

The Stokes County Farm Loan Board on Saturday approved 338 more applications of farmers for money with which to grow a crop this year. This is by far the largest number of loans yet approved. The board has one more meeting, next Saturday, and it is believed that the number will again be large. County Agent J. E. Trevathan requests that all applications be in the hands of the board, or himself, not later than Thursday, April 28th, as it requires some time to look them over, etc. Mr. Trevathan is of the opinion that the 338 applications will not average over $65.00 each, so it is seen that the farmers are not asking for as much help as they did last year when the average was probably around $100. A great many of the farmers in Stokes who borrowed money from the Federal government last year, are not asking for any this year, having been able to take care of their finances. This is a healthy sign.

STOKES SCHOOLS HAD GOOD YEAR

In Spite Of Unfavorable Conditions—Long Term Schools Close May 12 and 13.

Walnut Cove, April 26.—Supt. of Schools J. C. Carson, here from Germantown today, stated that the long term schools of Stokes county would close on May 12 and 13, and that the schools have had a most successful year in spite of the fact that some times it looked like the teachers would not be able to secure their checks as soon as they needed them. The long term schools are Walnut Cove, Pine Hall, Lawsonsville, Germantown, King, Pinnacle and Reynolds. Each school is preparing for commencement exercises now, and each community is looking forward to the event.

At the close of the short term schools of the county a great many of the seventh grade students were transported by bus to the long term schools, giving the pupils full advantage of the eight-months school term. This arrangement has been looked upon very favorably by the citizens of the county, and it will no doubt be continued until all the districts are able to have an eight-months school.

Checking Up On Geo. Fulton, Col., Charged With Burglarizing

Officer "Pat" Smothers, of the Norfolk & Western railway, and Deputy Sheriff H. A. Morris, of Forsyth county, were in Danbury Friday securing finger prints of George Fulton, negro, who is being held in Stokes county jail on a charge of breaking into the Atlantic & Yadkin railway station at Walnut Cove last month and carrying away certain articles. The crime is alleged to have been committed a month or more since, but Fulton has only been recently arrested by the Stokes authorities. It is the opinion of the officials who were here today securing finger prints, that Fulton is the man who some time since robbed a freight car on the tracks of the Norfolk & Western railway. If he is the guilty party he will be turned over to the Forsyth county officials as soon as this county finishes with him. The prisoner, who is familiarly known among his associates as "Possum Hairston," has a long criminal record and has served several terms on the roads and in jail in Stokes county.

Danbury Citizens In Trouble

Zeb Smith, white, and Ben Smith, colored, both of Danbury, were caught near Martinsville, Va. today with a load of whiskey and are now confined in the Henry county jail. The car, a Ford roadster, belonging to R. R. King, of Danbury, who had loaned it to Zeb Smith, was held. The Sheriff of Henry county wired Mr. King today the above facts.

Jack Thore and Jim Joyce were in Winston-Salem today. The one is Democratic candidate for the legislature, the other Republican candidate for Register of Deeds.

Epigrams = Wise and Othe rwise

By W. P. Murray.

Sin is the committing of evil deeds; religious righteousness is the performing of good deeds; moral goodness is the performing of neither good nor evil deeds.

Righteousness is attained through self-chastisement; through focusing the mind on noble things; through ostracising oneself from degrading temptations and contaminating environment. Environment affects the emotions of the mind and soul. One automatically feels elevated and ennobled when in a house of worship or in the presence of religious service. His outlook on life, and his attitude toward himself and his fellowmen are then of a divine nature. It is then that the evil in one is throttled and the good predominates. The rapture, provoking ecstacy of the music and songs are then revealed in the hallowed expressions of one's face, in every tone of one's echoing voice. We are then, temporarily at least, the people that God desires us to be. And we go away feeling rejuvenated and exalted. Preparedness is the prelude to performance. Inspiration is the spontaneous discovery of hidden truths. Love is motivated by a spiritual impulse; infatuation by a physical one.
